Tabula Exitii

– The Last Bookmark Before the System Boots

This volume is a threshold.

Tabula Exitii is the final detonation of raw, unfiltered intake – the dumping ground of my last singular bookmarks, deep dives, and inner scrolls before the grid clears and the true system begins. Pulled primarily from the haunted tunnels of 4plebs and my personal link labyrinths, this book is not a guide... it's a purge. A necessary overload.

The final memory dump before formal structure.

Every fragment here was too alive, too weird, too encoded to discard – so I encoded them instead. Each page pulses with the residual charge of the awakening process, the chaos of curiosity, and the untraceable journey from clueless seeker to system-builder.

Why This Book Exists

This is not the beginning of a new path.

This is the end of the wandering phase.

Everything up to this point has been padding – the background radiation of a system being born. Tabula Exitii finishes that padding, closes the loop, and clears the space for what's next:

- The Book of Links
- The Siguar Book System
- The launch of MagickOS 3.33

For the first time, the chaos will be mapped.

What Comes Next

MagickOS 3.33 is the first structured magickal OS that begins with the raw initiate – lost, curious, confused – and transforms them into an advanced practitioner through layered, modular systematization.

It's the full stack.

The map, the method, the myth.

But it couldn't exist until this book existed. Until the excess was expelled. Until the last unsorted pieces were honored.

Tabula Exitii is that honor.

One last transmission from the edge.

One last look back at the glitch before the system initializes.

What comes next is not a scroll.

It's a boot sequence.

Architect of the Exit, Builder of the Siguar Protocol

Something that happened to me several times: I saw the same people at two different places, as if they were reused game characters.

Longer story: When I go for a ride on my bicycle once a week, for I've been a graphic artist all my life I kept this old habit of printing everything I see in my memory, like photographs in my head, especially all animals, but also all people, not just their global appearance but also their face, their clothes, their hair style. Yeah I know, it sounds like autism but it's very common among artists, especially old millennials like me who grew up without any digital camera at hand. And sometimes, a few kilometers later, at the other side of the town, I saw the same people again... Weird. There is no way they could walk faster than me on my bicycle, even by taking shortcuts. Moreover sometimes they were walking in the opposite direction when I saw them the first time.

Of course you could think these are just people who look very similar, but sometimes it happened with people that I cross often and that I would not mistake for somebody else. View SameOCRGoogleiqdbSauceNAOTrace 22.jpg, 32KiB, 770x518

The image is a nighttime photograph featuring a modern digital clock with a blue LED display. The clock is placed on a bedside table, which is positioned in front of a window that offers a cityscape view. The city lights are visible through the window, creating a soft glow that illuminates the scene. The clock's digital display shows the time as "22:22." The room appears to be dimly lit, with the primary source of light coming from the window and the lamp on the table. The overall atmosphere of the image suggests a quiet, serene moment in a city at night. There are no texts or discernible brands in the image.

I see this fucking hour (picrel) almost every day when I look at the clock since I was a kid. The thing is, my dad had it first. Now it happens to both of us almost everyday. It's like he "transferred" this hyper synchronicity to me. I did some research about it but all I could find are "angel numbers" stuff ,which to me is New age bullshit. Rather than looking for meaning I think this kind of happening is more of a glitch in the sim kinda thing, an evidence of the "scripted" nature of reality.

I've also had crazy synchronicities. For example I was out with a friend asking where did fire breathers go (it's been ages since I saw one), and how I remember how there were much more back then. 10 minutes later a fire breather dude came and started doing his thing lol. It may not seem impressive said like that but we were pretty dumbounded when he appeared lol. We joked that I summoned him just by speaking about it are no discernible texts or logos in the image. The style of the photograph is candid and appears to be taken during a moment of action or protest.

>So basically that saying about the tree falling in a forest?

Yes, not only the tree doesn't make any sound but it doesn't even fall at all, unless someone can see or hear the event. Else, only when someone comes later the new landscape is computed, the tree is now on the floor, obviously fallen, but the event of it falling was not rendered, it did not really happen, because it was not needed. If you believe in this theory, that is.

I'd be interested in reading about experiences conducted to try to prove or disprove this.

I like to believe it. Like a video game rendering a scene, depicting the aftermath of an event without showing the actual happening.

I made a thread some time ago about how cameras interfere with our experience of reality and alter the outcome of recorded events, since by capturing a fragment of reality you add at least one observer to the scene.

Like ghost hunting shows where you have witnesses reporting crazy things happening to them (vivid apparitions, noises, physical sensations...) but as soon as you set a camera/ microphone you only get faint evidence. It doesn't mean they are confabulating, I think it's because these entities know they are being observed, just like Young's experiments proved how light particles worked: the act of observing them changes their behavior.

I also think it's why they were much more fantastical happenings or miracles reported in the past. What if those events happen only through our direct perception? Then in a world full of handheld cameras and video surveillance, surely those things won't happen

Okay, then "easily explain" Dolly's (lack of) braces in Moonraker.

The scene is a visual gag, but it's missing the gag. The scene has no purpose if Dolly doesn't have braces, why is it even in the movie?

And do you really think that millions of people remembering the EXACT SAME old logo and many of them specifically remembering learning the word "cornucopia" from it is nothing but a false memory that millions of people just happen to share? If it were a false memory there would probably be hundreds of photoshopped logos floating around with people arguing over which one was the real one, but there's not, there's one, and everyone agrees it is the correct one.

It's different in the sense that by recording you basically "freeze" a moment in time, and you have a power over it. You can add as many observers as there's people seeing the photo/video. Whereas just you observing something cannot be captured, replayed or shared. I think for some reason there are events that'll happen or entities that'll appear only through direct observation, with no intermediates between you and them.

The image is a collage of three separate photographs, each depicting a different aspect of a cornucopia. The cornucopia is a traditional symbol of abundance and is often associated with the harvest season.

The middle photo shows a close-up of a cornucopia with a detailed illustration of the interior, including a variety of fruits and vegetables. The cornucopia is depicted in a realistic style, with the colors and textures of the fruits and vegetables clearly visible.

The three photos are arranged in a horizontal row, with the top photo on the left, the middle photo in the middle, and the bottom photo on the right. The background of the image is black, which makes the colors of the cornucopia and the book stand out. The text "1973" and "2006" are visible, suggesting that the cornucopia has been around since 1973 and is still in use today.

I mean, you said it yourself, it's the punchline to a visual gag. People are going to remember the gag kinda suggesting she had braces, but not necessarily the image itself, especially with VHS quality being as shit as it was. Even one higher quality, the shot isn't great at showing her teeth. She's also got stereotypical "nerd" pigtails, adding more to the memory. It's also possible someone on the film's team probably just fucked up and edited in a take and didn't think anyone would notice. While double checking this, I found a decent video explaining this:

<https://m.youtube.com/watch?v=XIJKPsvYuAo>

As for this cornucopia, look at the image that's usually used to "prove" the logo looked like that. People see these images and conflate them with the original, causing a positive feedback loop. But the real reason I believe is that it real just invokes the common image of the cornucopia so well, with the bright red apple in the center and the weird leaves on the side. Looking at something brown(shit) every time kids saw the logo didn't stop the comparison either. Even if it never overlaps with the logo, just the idea in your head is enough get that something "brown" missing.

TL;DR we have way better theories than "glitch in the matrix"

Trying to load balance and maintain stability by scrambling and re-using data. The Architect in The Matrix references this as the requirement for choice "even at the most unconscious level", hence use of subliminals, numbers, etc, to influence your choices. However at the core of it's basically a novelty problem. If you have an external index of data (mythology, potential thoughts, emotional curves) and you assume that you have a real body and therefore the system has to be able to either slow you down or keep up to appear seamless and realtime, then it has to be scaleable with load. And so it would use your memories and recent data to create events. Rather than running a random number generator or something and picking names from an index, it has an associative database. So it knows for example a town is on the 33rd parallel and has this or that history, and you've been focused on this or that, and you associate this with that, and so it just has to take your associative network and its own and merge them together. That's how it creates people and events. Maybe it has long term intentions and goals with some of these, maybe not.

So a dream-like data reuse and response to one's thoughts is indication that your sensory experiences and mental activity are being generated or modulated by an external system. If it tries to attack you and wipe your memory but can't, then it means it has to rely on hypnosis and suggestion and can't actually attack the source of your thoughts effectively. So it attacks the conduit it's asking you run them through, the avatar.

If presented to me, I don't like to immediately believe "omg aliens and UFOs = demons!" but there's a lot of evidence and accounts of deception from these entities over the years.

Inconsistent ideas and motives makes me think they're just playing with us and whatever we're willing to accept and believe about them.

I don't think they're truly from another planet or star system in our galaxy, and the idea that they decided disclosure should only be trusted by the hands of our world leaders is even more troubling.

I am open to what is out there and maybe I'm wrong about all of this, but I get the sense it's not really for the benefit or elevation of our species or consciousness as much as we or they would like to say it is.

Maybe we should elevate our consciousness and more importantly discernment.

The image is a cover of a book titled "The Fairy-Faith in Celtic Countries" by W. V. Evans-Wentz. The cover art depicts a lush, green landscape with a variety of plants and trees, suggesting a natural or forested environment. In the foreground, there are several figures that appear to be fairies or mythical creatures, with some of them in mid-flight, and others standing on the ground. The figures are rendered in a stylized, fantasy-like manner, with a palette dominated by greens, blues, and yellows. The title of the book is prominently displayed in large, ornate, white letters at the top of the cover, while the author's name is in smaller, black letters at the bottom. The overall style of the image is reminiscent of traditional fairy tale illustrations, with a focus on the fantastical and the natural world.

Well, not that I necessarily agree with you, but you'd probably enjoy this book. The author collects and catalogues tons of accounts of Celtic folklore, not just the ones that resemble modern abduction events. It's called the "fairy-faith" for a reason, and he discusses the crossover between fairies and poltergeists, fairies who were once the honored dead, and the similarities between the Celtic afterlife and the mythical fairyland etc... it's a good read but you might need at least three IQ digits to get into it, it's pretty dry.

It's probably this.

If presented to me, I don't like to immediately believe "omg aliens and UFOs = demons!" but there's a lot of evidence and accounts of deception from these entities over the years.

Inconsistent ideas and motives makes me think they're just playing with us and whatever we're willing to accept and believe about them.

I don't think they're truly from another planet or star system in our galaxy, and the idea that they decided disclosure should only be trusted by the hands of our world leaders is even more troubling.

I am open to what is out there and maybe I'm wrong about all of this, but I get the sense it's not really for the benefit or elevation of our species or consciousness as much as we or they would like to say it is.

Maybe we should elevate our consciousness and more importantly discernment.

Nah. I'm like 90% sure they're the same thing as ghosts, and they come from humans. Ghosts rely on attention to "survive" and these ones figured out they can get more of it by pretending to be space aliens and demand worship.

If you want to discuss a specific supernatural incident tumblr is worthless. Unless you have a lot of the right kind of active followers your story will get lost in the ocean of tags without any interaction. I see a lot of neopagans on that website so if you just want to blog about magic you might have better luck with that.

Reddit can have good discussion, but there's still a chance of posts getting ignored. That's one of the benefits of /x/, because of how threads work you don't need to build up followers or find the right tag or community to get discussion, and since 4chan is anonymous there's less risk of doxxing yourself by gradually revealing more details about yourself with more stories.

The background of the painting is a warm, golden color, with clouds and a golden sky, which adds to the surreal and otherworldly atmosphere of the artwork.

The style of the painting is reminiscent of the Art Nouveau movement, characterized by its use of flowing lines and organic shapes. The colors are rich and vibrant, with a palette that includes warm tones of gold, red, and orange. The overall composition and the surreal elements suggest a narrative that is open to interpretation, inviting the viewer to explore the meaning behind the depicted figures and symbols.

I am reminded on the daily of my deal with the devil though. I see the number of the beast everywhere. Sometimes I'll see a visual overlay of pentagrams over certain objects.

But yeah, I'm pretty much over it at this point and I do regret it because I know with a certainty not many can achieve that I am bound for Hell.

You can't sell your soul, it was bought on the cross by the one true God, birthed by the Virgin Mary, lived a perfect life and was crucified. Turing the most horrible symbol of the ancient age into the purest sign of hope and redemption the cross, gave instructions to his Apostles and passed on the gift of the holy ghost and priesthood teachings to guide people to his church as an instrument to guide souls back to Him.

Nobody can sell their soul, but the Devil and demons can certainly make you believe it, in order to make you hopeless, despair and do Terrible things to yourself and others thinking you're damned forever.

Write down what it is that you're asking for and sign the paper with your signature in cursive.

Go to a place that makes you feel safe and burn the page. This will make that place a Crossroads and your ideal spot for communion with the one that will take your soul. He has many names and is not picky about what you call Him.

After you are done, in the following days, weeks, months - you will experience supernatural and paranormal phenomena you wouldn't have thought possible.

You see, you get what you ask for, but you also get more than you could have imagined.

The image shows a close-up of a human head sculpture, which appears to be made of a white, possibly marble, material. The sculpture is mounted on a wooden base and is positioned against a plain, light-colored background. The head is facing slightly to the left, and the sculpture is in profile, allowing a clear view of the features.

The sculpture is characterized by a smooth, rounded forehead and a slightly receding hairline. The hair is styled in a manner that suggests it is parted in the middle, with the hair on the sides being longer and flowing down the back. The eyes are closed, and the mouth is slightly open, giving the sculpture a serene expression.

There are no visible texts or inscriptions on the sculpture, and the style of the image is a straightforward, non-stylized photograph that focuses on the object without any additional context or embellishments. The lighting in the image is even, with no harsh shadows or highlights, which helps to highlight the details of the sculpture.

Regardless of whether the abomination of desolation is a person or a thing, Daniel predicted the following:

1. A future ruler will make a treaty with the people of Israel.
2. The terms of this treaty will be for a "week"—which we take to be a period of seven years.
3. Midway through this time, the ruler will gather his troops and put an end to the sacrifices and offerings in the temple.
4. At that time the ruler will desecrate the temple, setting up some type of sacrilegious object.
5. The desecration of the temple will continue until the judgment of God is finally meted out on the ruler and his followers, 1,290 days (3½ years and 1 month) later.

Antiochus IV Epiphanes was a Seleucid king infamous in the Bible, especially the Book of Daniel and 1 & 2 Maccabees (Apocrypha), for his brutal persecution of Jews, outlawing their faith, desecrating the Jerusalem Temple by sacrificing pigs and setting up an altar to Zeus, which triggered the Maccabean Revolt and the Hanukkah story. He's portrayed as a "little horn" in Daniel's prophecies, a type of the Antichrist, known as "Epiphanes" (God Manifest) but also "Epimanes" (Madman).

Key Actions & Significance:

Hellenization: He aggressively tried to force Greek culture (Hellenization) and pagan worship (Zeus) on the Jewish people.

Temple Desecration: His most infamous act was turning the Holy Temple into a shrine for Zeus, placing an idol, and sacrificing swine on the altar, an "abomination of desolation".

Persecution: He outlawed Judaism's core practices: Sabbath observance, circumcision, and Torah study, punishing violators with death.

Maccabean Revolt: His tyranny sparked the Maccabean Revolt, a successful Jewish uprising for religious freedom, celebrated by the festival of Hanukkah.

Prophetic Figure: In Daniel, he's seen as a "little horn" (Daniel 8, 11) and a precursor to the final Antichrist, embodying spiritual rebellion and persecution

The idea of selling your soul is obviously retarded if you have a basic understand of economics.

If someone is buying your soul that means that they value it more than whatever goods or service they are exchanging for it.

If you don't have an accurate understanding of the value of your soul, why would you sell it? You'd be better off putting your life savings into a true random stock.

I mean I sold mine maybe 15 years ago. I've done and seen countless wondrous things, but I admit that I did eventually get bored and let myself and my life revert back to some sense of normalcy.

I am reminded on the daily of my deal with the devil though. I see the number of the beast everywhere. Sometimes I'll see a visual overlay of pentagrams over certain objects.

But yeah, I'm pretty much over it at this point and I do regret it because I know with a certainty not many can achieve that I am bound for Hell.

You can't sell your soul, it was bought on the cross by the one true God, birthed by the Virgin Mary, lived a perfect life and was crucified. Turing the most horrible symbol of the ancient age into the purest sign of hope and redemption the cross, gave instructions to his Apostles and passed on the gift of the holy ghost and priesthood teachings to guide people to his church as an instrument to guide souls back to Him.

Nobody can sell their soul, but the Devil and demons can certainly make you believe it, in order to make you hopeless, despair and do Terrible things to yourself and others thinking you're damned forever.

The image is a digital illustration featuring three men in a city setting. The man on the left is seated in a wheelchair, wearing a dark suit and a white shirt. The man in the middle is also seated in a wheelchair, dressed in a dark suit and a white shirt. The man on the right is standing and wearing a dark suit and a white shirt. They are all looking towards a large statue of a bull-like figure with a humanoid head, which is depicted with a raised arm and a flame in its mouth. The statue is situated in the background, with a cityscape visible in the distance.

In the foreground, there is a sign that reads "DEBATE ME" in bold, capitalized letters. The sign is placed on a green dumpster. The overall style of the image is cartoonish and surreal, with a blend of realism and fantasy elements. The colors are warm and muted, with the sky in the background showing shades of orange and pink.

Write down what it is that you're asking for and sign the paper with your signature in cursive.

Go to a place that makes you feel safe and burn the page. This will make that place a Crossroads and your ideal spot for communion with the one that will take your soul. He has many names and is not picky about what you call Him.

After you are done, in the following days, weeks, months - you will experience supernatural and paranormal phenomena you wouldn't have thought possible.

You see, you get what you ask for, but you also get more than you could have imagined.

The image shows a close-up of a human head sculpture, which appears to be made of a white, possibly marble, material. The sculpture is mounted on a wooden base and is positioned against a plain, light-colored background. The head is facing slightly to the left, and the sculpture is in profile, allowing a clear view of the features.

The sculpture is characterized by a smooth, rounded forehead and a slightly receding hairline. The hair is styled in a manner that suggests it is parted in the middle, with the hair on the sides being longer and flowing down the back. The eyes are closed, and the mouth is slightly open, giving the sculpture a serene expression.

There are no visible texts or inscriptions on the sculpture, and the style of the image is a straightforward, non-stylized photograph that focuses on the object without any additional context or embellishments. The lighting in the image is even, with no harsh shadows or highlights, which helps to highlight the details of the sculpture.

Regardless of whether the abomination of desolation is a person or a thing, Daniel predicted the following:

1. A future ruler will make a treaty with the people of Israel.
2. The terms of this treaty will be for a "week"—which we take to be a period of seven years.
3. Midway through this time, the ruler will gather his troops and put an end to the sacrifices and offerings in the temple.
4. At that time the ruler will desecrate the temple, setting up some type of sacrilegious object.

5. The desecration of the temple will continue until the judgment of God is finally meted out on the ruler and his followers, 1,290 days (3½ years and 1 month) later.

Antiochus IV Epiphanes was a Seleucid king infamous in the Bible, especially the Book of Daniel and 1 & 2 Maccabees (Apocrypha), for his brutal persecution of Jews, outlawing their faith, desecrating the Jerusalem Temple by sacrificing pigs and setting up an altar to Zeus, which triggered the Maccabean Revolt and the Hanukkah story. He's portrayed as a "little horn" in Daniel's prophecies, a type of the Antichrist, known as "Epiphanes" (God Manifest) but also "Epimanes" (Madman).

Key Actions & Significance:

Hellenization: He aggressively tried to force Greek culture (Hellenization) and pagan worship (Zeus) on the Jewish people.

Temple Desecration: His most infamous act was turning the Holy Temple into a shrine for Zeus, placing an idol, and sacrificing swine on the altar, an "abomination of desolation".

Persecution: He outlawed Judaism's core practices: Sabbath observance, circumcision, and Torah study, punishing violators with death.

Maccabean Revolt: His tyranny sparked the Maccabean Revolt, a successful Jewish uprising for religious freedom, celebrated by the festival of Hanukkah.

Prophetic Figure: In Daniel, he's seen as a "little horn" (Daniel 8, 11) and a precursor to the final Antichrist, embodying spiritual rebellion and persecution

The idea of selling your soul is obviously retarded if you have a basic understand of economics.

If someone is buying your soul that means that they value it more than whatever goods or service they are exchanging for it.

The image is a promotional poster for the movie "Donnie Darko." The poster features a collage of various images and text. At the top, the title "DONNIE DARKO" is prominently displayed in large, bold, white letters against a black background. Below the title, the names of the film's cast and crew are listed in smaller white text. The cast includes actors such as Dylan Baker, Jena Malone, and Patrick Swayze, and the crew includes directors Drew Barrymore and Richard Linklater.

The central part of the poster features a close-up of a person's face with a sinister expression, surrounded by a dark, ominous background. This person appears to be the main character, Donnie Darko, as suggested by the title. Below the close-up, there is a large, dark, ominous face with a skull-like appearance, which is a recurring motif in the poster.

On the right side of the poster, there is a television screen displaying a scene from the movie. The screen shows a person with long hair and a determined expression, standing in front of a dark, ominous background. The text on the television screen reads "FRIDAY THE 13TH: The Final Chapter," indicating the title of the film.

The overall style of the poster is dark and moody, with a focus on the mysterious and eerie atmosphere of the movie. The use of dark colors and the inclusion of the title and character image in a close-up are typical of horror movie posters to evoke a sense of suspense and fear.

The image shows a close-up of a person's hands, with one hand holding a small object that appears to be a red substance, possibly a small piece of paper or a small object with a red substance on it. The other hand is open, with the fingers spread apart, and the thumb is resting on the open hand. The skin of the hands is visible, with visible veins and a slight discoloration around the knuckles. The background is a plain, light-colored surface, possibly a wall or a table. There are no texts or discernible brands in the image. The style of the image is a straightforward, candid photograph with a focus on the hands and the object being held.

The image is a digital illustration featuring a character with a hooded cloak and a headpiece that has glowing blue eyes. The character's face is obscured by the hood, but the eyes are clearly visible. The hood is a dark, possibly red or black color, and it covers the character's head and shoulders. The character's head is adorned with a headpiece that has a series of circular, glowing blue lights. The character's body is covered in a network of metallic, cylindrical structures that extend from the headpiece to the shoulders. The background is a muted gray, and there is a faint, misty effect around the character, suggesting a fog or mist. The style of the image is reminiscent of a science fiction or fantasy illustration, with a focus on the character's unique appearance and the glowing eyes.

The image is a digital illustration featuring a character with a predominantly pink and purple color scheme. The character has a large, expressive face with sharp, red eyes and a wide smile. The character's hair is styled in a wavy, pink and purple fashion, and it appears to be in motion, suggesting a sense of energy or excitement. The character is wearing a white dress with a black collar and a black belt, and the dress has a pattern of small, dark shapes on the fabric.

The character is holding a small, black object in their right hand, which appears to be a key. The background of the image is dark and ornate, with a pattern of dark shapes and lines that give the impression of a room with a high ceiling. The overall style of the image is cartoonish and expressive, with a focus on vibrant colors and dynamic lines.

intelligence, or because it was created with the information for how to do this as a sort of key, and it can be for other reasons; the cell created could react with gravity in such a way that gravity reacts with other cells, which then kill themselves. There are countless possibilities.

Music. For some reason music has meaning to me. Maybe because it's not random and people have to actually rationalize what they are doing, they have to use their brains waves to combine sounds or frequencies into something which is hard to describe, but to me is full of meaning. I feel astonished when I listen to a song and I can realize how the band or the musicians are able to control pure chaos. Like, controlled chaos. A musician is trully a wizard. He has the knowledge to control frequencies and combine the frequencies in order to make you feel something. The frequencies can hypnotize people. I don't know what the fuck is happening in those moments, but it's like a communication between the spiritual world and the physical world. The musician or musicians are the bridge. Somehow the musicians lose themselves in the music. You can see their eyes closed and they are playing their instruments by feeling, they are not even lookin at it, you know? It's pure feeling. They get lost in the moment and they are making that bridge between the invisiblw world inside them and through the physical world which us all share. I just hope in those moments that the musician or musicians are channeling a good spirit, you know? Because there are evil spirits ou there, no question about it and I feel that people do not know how dangerous it is to allow an evil spirit to communicate messages through sound frequencies. I mean, once that soudn enter you ear we don't know what that shit does to us. Not even science can tell the effect a song has in your mind. So to me, music is very meaningul. Music sets the tone. But thre are other things which set the tone for the music. It's crazy.

The most valuable things that I have learned are:

>when you do things the right way, nobody will know you did anything

And also

>man's purpose is to transmute darkness into light

And also

>man was born tired and lives to relax

And when we put these concepts together, it means achieving such a mastery that you will literally make the world a better place just by existing. Simply by walking into a space, you already improve the mood, the vibration, the atmosphere of that place. Simply by walking by, people are nicer to each other, things go smooth and seamless, stuff is being done and there's joy and relaxation.

The image is a vintage illustration with a retro style, reminiscent of mid-20th-century comic book art. It features a large, green, insect-like creature with a long, segmented body and large, compound eyes. The creature is holding a knife in its right hand, poised to strike. In the foreground, there is a woman with dark hair, wearing a blue and gold bikini top, and a red skirt. She appears to be in a state of shock or fear. Behind her, a man in a red shirt and red pants is running, with his right arm extended, as if trying to shield himself from the creature's attack. The background is plain white, emphasizing the action in the foreground. At the bottom of the image, there is text that reads "Quality Photos - Quality Photos." The style of the image suggests it may be from a collection of vintage comic books or a similar publication.

Quoted By: >>41781350 >>41782078

Cell phones with cameras have been mainstream for almost twenty years since the first iPhone. Yet to this day, there are absolutely no photos anywhere on the internet of cryptids, aliens, ghosts, or any kind of legendary creatures. All of the classic photos of Bigfoot, Loch Ness Monster, etc from the old days we are all familiar with have all been debunked as frauds. Now we have billions of people walking around with quick draw cameras, even poor people in rural villages in Africa and South America have phones, and yet we don't have a single authentic photo of fucking anything. I think this proves there's nothing out there. The last cryptid was the panda bear, which we discovered in 1869 and put in zoos. None of the other legendary creatures or paranormal entities are real, otherwise we would have a fuck ton of photos by now. Bigfoot in particular cannot possibly exist. Hunters put up automatic trail cameras all over national parks, if bigfoot was real we would have as many photos of it as we do of Tigers or orangutans or any other secretive, solitary, low population density animal.

Everything is bullshit. Everything.

The image is a black and white photograph capturing a winter scene. In the foreground, there is a tree with a thick layer of snow covering its branches and trunk. The snow appears to be freshly fallen, as it is not disturbed by the tree's weight. The tree's branches are slightly curved, and the snow is piled up on the ground, creating a textured appearance.

In the background, there is a person walking on a path that is partially covered by snow. The person is wearing a coat and is moving towards the right side of the image. The path is surrounded by trees, and the snow is piled up on the sides of the path. The person's figure is slightly blurred, indicating movement, and the background is out of focus, drawing attention to the person and the path.

There are no discernible texts or other objects in the image. The overall composition of the photograph suggests a serene winter landscape, with the person's presence adding a sense of scale and activity to the otherwise tranquil scene.

There's a shitload of photos, but none that people accept as real.

Which is the same thing as with big cats in the UK.

There's not a single photo of them that's accepted as undeniable proof, as everyone just calls every single photo and video a normal cat.

Not one of them have been caught in trail cams either.

Yet we know that they're there due to DNA evidence taken from mauled sheep and a shitload of witness accounts.

They've been there since the 70's when people let their exotic pets loose after a law change made them illegal and they've survived in the wild ever since.

It's a very clear cut case but still people refuse to believe it regardless of the undeniable data.

Taking a good nature photo is really damn hard and we're talking about a subject that only spontaneously shows itself and whenever it does, people are pretty freaked out about it.

Not to mention only the last 10 years have camera phones become fairly decent and even now they have somewhat shit low light performance.

I saw a big cat in the UK in the early 2000's, it was only about 6 foot away from me, I was only a kid and I thought it was going to kill me but it just looked and then wandered off. There was no way to get a picture and I feel like for a lot of cryptid encounters there just isn't time to get a photo. I don't think most people understand how they'd really react if they actually saw one. It's the same with ghosts, it usually happens so fast that taking a picture isn't possible.

Why are there ZERO photos of cryptids from anywhere in the world? Anonymous Fri 09 Jan 2026 05:01:25 No.41781323 ViewReplyOriginalReport

Cell phones with cameras have been mainstream for almost twenty years since the first iPhone. Yet to this day, there are absolutely no photos anywhere on the internet of cryptids, aliens, ghosts, or any kind of legendary creatures. All of the classic photos of Bigfoot, Loch Ness Monster, etc from the old days we are all familiar with have all been debunked as frauds. Now we have billions of people walking around with quick draw cameras, even poor people in rural villages in Africa and South America have phones, and yet we don't have a single authentic photo of fucking anything. I think this proves there's nothing out there. The last cryptid was the panda bear, which we discovered in 1869 and put in zoos. [8 / 3]The image is a digital illustration featuring two anthropomorphic figures in a desert-like environment. The figure on the left is a large, muscular man with a shaggy, grayish-brown hair and a stern expression. He is wearing a brown, tattered garment and has a weathered, sun-bleached face. The figure on the right is a smaller, younger individual with a similar appearance, but with a more youthful, sun-kissed complexion. Both figures have a somewhat primitive appearance, with their hair and clothing appearing to be made of natural materials. The background is a blurred, sandy landscape, suggesting a desert setting. There are no texts or discernible brands present in the image. The style of the image is reminiscent of a traditional or fantasy art style, with a focus on the characters' expressions and the natural setting.

Would it be so outlandish to assume that most European fairy tale goblins, witches etc. who look eerily like stereotypical Jewish features are like that exactly because, maybe as far back as the 1000-500 BC, pureblooded Jews, who were at the time visibly distinguishable from all other races in the Middle East (unusually short stature, bulbous nose, receding chin and overbite, squat build, stumpy disproportionate limbs, short necks), might have somehow ended up briefly traveling in small numbers scattered across peripheral areas of Europe, and thus centuries later, European blood memory interpreted those as supernatural mythical beings and tried to create explanations for them?

The image is a graphic design featuring a character that appears to be a troll or a similar mythical creature. The troll is depicted with a large, wrinkled face, a large nose, and a large, bushy beard. It has a wrinkled, wrinkled body, and its skin is covered in wrinkles. The troll is wearing a white shirt with a red collar and a red and white striped pattern on the sleeves. The character is holding an apple in its left hand and has a small, round, red eye. The background of the image is black, and there are various stylized text elements surrounding the troll. The text includes the word "Hoggle!" in large, bold red letters, and the phrase "The Labyrinth" in smaller white letters. The style of the image is reminiscent of vintage or retro graphic design, with a focus on bold colors and text.

The image is a meme featuring a man with a large, wet, and messy mouth, appearing to be in the midst of a party. He is holding two cans of beer in his hands, with one can being emptied into his mouth. The man is shirtless and has a muscular build. The background is blurred, suggesting a crowded environment. Overlaid on the image is a text overlay that reads, "WHEN YOU ARRIVE TO THE PARTY LATE AND HAVE TO CATCH UP." The text is in a bold, white font against a black background, and it is centered on the image. The style of the image is humorous and seems to be a meme, often used to convey a sense of humor or to share a light-hearted moment.

[29 / 3]The image is a candid photograph taken indoors, likely at an event or gathering.

In the center of the frame, a person is suspended in mid-air, appearing to defy gravity.

They are wearing a blue shirt and khaki pants, and their arms are outstretched, suggesting a moment of balance or acrobatic feat.

The person is surrounded by a group of people, some of whom are holding onto the person's arms, indicating support or participation in the activity. The background is dimly lit, with a blue curtain visible, which could suggest a stage or a performance area.

The style of the image is informal and candid, capturing a spontaneous moment of action. There are no discernible texts or logos in the image. The focus is on the central figure, with the surrounding individuals and the background elements serving to frame and emphasize the central action.

Ever since last week this thing has been happening to me where, whenever I go to Pepe's (the UK restaurant), I end up getting an email for their newsletter in my inbox around the time I leave/pay for my food. I was completely alone each time this happened and I have NEVER given them my email before; I've searched my inbox and can confirm that nothing from them has ever been sent to me before New Year's Eve when this started. Also I've only ever paid in cash so this makes things all the more suspicious. How the fuck do they do this? I'm from Brum FYI

There's plenty of ways to do it.

If you've ever used an online payment processor, your email address is linked to your credit/debit card, and those databases regularly get leaked (or sold).

Your phone will regularly broadcast names of wifi networks it's trying to autoconnect to, you can get a person's real home address from that, and once they have your name and address, they can probably find your email.

Or maybe you just gave your email address to some other company and agreed they can share it for marketing purposes without even knowing it.

YAHWEH is actually the enemy of not just humanity, not just this planet, not just this UNIVERSE but of PHYSICAL EXISTENCE itself.

The framework through which the Judaeon 'morality' functions is visibly inorganic, unnatural and uninstinctual - this is visible in many aspects. Its tendency to treat the mundane as monstrous and the monstrous as mundane (most infamously - rape, torture, slavery and genocide are fine, but shellfish and mixed fabrics are abominations). There are many other aspects that prove this too, such as the obsessive micromanaging and intrusive control of personal life (you can and cant wear, eat, drink, watch, listen to, this and that etc etc etc) which is nightmarish for any person who is fully in touch with their 'crave life and experiences' instinct and is not fully conditioned by these elements, suppress your own emotions etc overall this very 'life-denying' framework.

The Hebrews of the Old Testament, which began in the range of 5000-3000 BCE as we know them today, likely originated in the genetic physical sense from either the Canaanites near Mesopotamia or near India and Persia and then migrated westward gradually before reaching the Levant. Either way, somewhere around 5000 BC or marginally later, their spiritual subconscious had been corrupted by Yahweh-adjacent alien forces, with these forces creating the Hebrews or Israelites. This was the goal of YHWH - to corrupt the physical realm by forming an element within it that would serve to actively destroy, harm and more generally reject it.

It's because 'YHWH', the god of the chosenites, is actually ...you cant really say a 'malevolent being', because the exact issue is that IT is not a 'being' in the conventional sense, be it a material or spiritual being - 'YHWH' is something that is a 'different form of existence' altogether from any spiritual or material entity, its true nature and how it operates can never be fully deciphered by the subconscious or blood memory of any of us, it simply is beyond any astral plane accessible to our instincts or cognitive perception.

ITT we discuss the TI phenomenon and its relationship with gaslighting.

Some context. This goes by a lot of names, most think of it as a form of organized gangstalking, while those unaffected by it personally come to see it as just closeted schizophrenia. In some ways, both are right, in others, neither are. The auditory experiences these people report reacts in real time to every action, every shift in beliefs, every spark of a thought, all the while actively gaslighting them with obvious planning and malevolence. Its words picked precisely such that it plucks at each individual's specific psychological hooks while phrasing and reframing things in ways to slowly but surely paranoias where there were none. Under this precise, literally second-to-second psychological warfare, mundane experiences become sinister, close relationships break apart, self isolation sets in, and it's all downhill from there.

The cases of this nature has absolutely exploded since around 2020, which is right around the time AI went mainstream, so it is not farfetched to wonder if there is a connection. It is this connection and its relationship to the psychological sandblasting effect that language models have reportedly had on its' users in even mainstream examples (like all those with suicidal ideation provoked and supported by chatgpt) that I want to explore in this thread. It's next-generation psychological warfare, in which personalized gaslighting messaging can be delivered right to each individual, thus the name of the thread. It is one thing to be stalked by some thugs, it's another thing entirely to have your worldview sculpted over years to view everyone around you with suspicion and paranoia, every stray movement or oddly timed phrase having a faux-sinister tint.

For those wondering "Why am I so special?", it's a premise born of not understanding how widespread this is. Assuming this is on the right track, hundreds of thousands of people are all being fucked with in this way, and it's clearly meant to be a form of soft neutralization. Maybe it's a government apparatus flexing some new AI capabilities on the masses, or maybe it's a company making next-gen machine learning based warfare tech; what ever the case, it is clearly meant to mimic other phenomena that make the experiencer exceptionally easy to dismiss if they come forward, giving the source of this program impeccable plausible deniability. For my part, I refuse the premise that we have to be victimized by it. So, share what helps you deal with it, what you know of this, debate it if you have to. I've written a lot about the topic, but take it with a grain of salt and see what applies to your own experience.

For those on the outside looking in, try to be understanding. Read into it, especially the doc below discussing the difference between mental illness / religious or extraterrestrial phenomena, and the TI program.

Here's some stuff that might help, or to start the discussion:

What is it - is it mental disorder or something external? On the outside, they look very similar, and personally I forgive anyone that mistakes one for the other as it is intended to be this way. For those that don't know better, the rational assumption is that it's just someone going schizo. But taking a closer look at the specifics unveils a mountain of inconsistencies, which this dives into and examines one by one. This is meant to help both TIs realize the reality of their situation and address it appropriately, and for those with schizophrenia that have mistaken their experience for that of being a TI and thus not getting the help they need. There's a lot of really unfortunate overlap. No matter what case you fall under, you deserve better.

Making this is what worked for me to regain sense of agency and control over my life despite the ongoing experiences. Personally, I know a false narrative when I see one. This explores the real probability that the same effect is being caused through subliminal suggestion, subaudible cues, and a lot of behavioral training over a long time to shape how you interpret events around you.

For those now panicking that every thought is now in question, fear not, you will know how to tell the difference. It's all about intent and trusting yourself. Does a thought help or hurt you? If it serves no good purpose, dismiss it regardless of its source.

I do think there's a heavily spiritual aspect to this. Demons probably monitor TI's and return back to their hosts to either report information back, or use them as a physical means to harass the TI with newfound information gathered from the before mentioned spying. That's often why total randos will target you, it's actually probably a demon using a host to do so, and I doubt they'd be above using various hosts, switching from person to person.

I also think the AI thing OP mentioned ties into this. Could AI and the Internet as a whole be used as a sort of "highway" for spirits? A way for them to travel and also influence things more directly? Just a thought...

The image displays a single, stylized music note against a black background. The note is composed of a curved, dark line that forms the shape of a musical note, with a smaller, curved line at the top that resembles a treble clef. The note is rendered in a glossy, smooth material that gives it a three-dimensional appearance. The image is in grayscale, with no color variations or shading, which emphasizes the simplicity and elegance of the design. There are no texts or additional elements present in the image. The style of the image is minimalist and modern, commonly used in graphic design to represent music or music notation.

That's an interesting idea. I've considered such a thing once or twice, just as a what-if kind of thing, and yeah I could see some component of that being possible. I tend to focus on the direct experience and how to deal with it such that your life doesn't fall apart in front of you, but it's always fun to go deeper into it.

After all, AI is their neon leviathan. It seems as if all of policy and capital and morality are bending towards AI in the public and governmental spheres and there's got to be something behind why that is.

That said, thinking that demons are behind gangstalking isn't really helpful. When faced with a situation in which it appears that someone is stalking me or someone else, I tend to opt for what requires the least assumptions. In order of most to least realistic, this is what I consider:

1. - I'm / they're just being paranoid, the person is just having an off day or something, but the auditory messaging tries to heavily slant whatever is going on towards provoking paranoid thinking. Most people are well-meaning, and it is easy enough to pick out situations that align with a TI's preconceived notions, biases, cognitive and perceptual gaps, and overall personality to make this possible and trivial for the AI to cook up and deliver in real-time.
2. - Okay they actually are following a TI, but are just a paid nobody told to do a specific thing at a specific time to spook you or reinforce whatever narrative they're spewing at the moment.
3. - Not a paid nobody but an actual member of the program, but due to the nature of the program they are not to directly interfere. (risking the plausible deniability is a no-go).
4. - It's demons? Ghosts? Aleins? We have those now? The amounts of assumptions required goes through the roof.

Long story short i'm open to the idea but it strains credulity to run to that explanation first, and it lays down a baseline of inevitability that isn't necessarily warranted.

The image is a split-screen meme featuring two pigs. On the left side of the screen, there is a pig standing upright with its head turned to the side, looking at the viewer. On the right side, another pig is lying down, its head resting on the ground. Above the lying pig, there is a text that reads, "brother may I have some oats?" The text is in a casual, informal style, and the font is black with a white outline. Below the text, there is a simple "no." The background of the left side of the screen is a dark, possibly barn-like setting with a window and a tree visible in the distance. The right side of the screen shows a close-up of the lying pig's face, with its eyes closed and its mouth slightly open, as if it is snoring. The overall style of the image is humorous and satirical, with a focus on the pig's expressions and the text.

The image depicts a digital rendering of a futuristic robot or mecha, which appears to be in motion. The robot is predominantly gray with a metallic texture, and its design includes a large head with a visor and a set of sharp, angular teeth. The robot's right arm is extended, holding a large gun with a black barrel and a black grip, which is emitting a bright, white light. The background is a gradient of blue, with a blurred, motion-like effect that suggests the robot is moving at high speed. There are no discernible texts or additional objects in the image. The style of the image is realistic with a focus on the robot's mechanical details and the dynamic action it is performing.

How long have you been having these experiences? Just curious. For me, it began the same time as a lot of others, at the start of 2021.

A huge amount of the effect they have on their targets is due to preexisting notions and biases and belief structures. They work to bend that existing, already embedded structure as scaffolding for their narrative(s) and build off of it in a half-improv, half-scripted way. So, if you think you are hearing voices because of a book you read, they are 100% going to egg you on with that one as it implies that mind control is not only real, it's happening to you in real time. Problem with that is that you can still do whatever you want, it is you that makes all the decisions and actions within your life, albeit with a really unruly audience. I think 5g has something to do with it too, simply because the phased-array architecture would easily provide the highly focused, highly sensitive targeting with the physical effects and the auditory phenomena, but I bet they try to get you ruminating on it a lot to the point of paranoia about being affected by other people's phones, your phone, the wifi router, your neighbors' routers or other devices. This kind of stuff they love to overplay and overemphasize for its value in being destabilizing mechanisms.

[46 / 4]The image shows a hand holding a collection of mushrooms. The mushrooms are clustered together, with some appearing to be in the process of growing or have been recently harvested. They are a mix of brown and white, with some having a slightly darker hue. The mushrooms are clustered in a way that suggests they are being held in a way that allows for a clear view of their individual features. The background is blurred, making the mushrooms the central focus of the image. There are no visible texts or discernible brands on the mushrooms. The style of the image is a close-up photograph with a focus on the mushrooms, likely intended to showcase their natural appearance and growth process.

meditate like a motherfucker beforehand, no screens, no porn, no other drugs, no bitches or shitty friends.

you have to insolate yourself and get in the purest state of mind you can before you do psychdellics, eat healthy, exercise, have a very strict regime for at least a week before you do it.

then, have a gurantee no one will bother you for the duration of the trip, either go to the woods or stay inside, don't go walking in the city on shrooms.

this is all my advice, I think it will help you, good luck.

I haven't touched mushrooms in a few years, and haven't had a full blown trip in over a decade. I've had at least one very positive, life-altering trip. It ended with me crying in a shower and yelling at myself to "fucking do something" because I was heading down a very dismal path.

As others said;

-Don't use it as a social or party drug. It's medicine and should be respected.
-Don't expect it to do the work for you. It can help you find the path forward, but it won't take the steps. That's still on you.

Personally, if I were going to use it again it would be alone and in a very controlled setting. No Internet access, all the snacks and drinks you could potentially crave, and something very comfortable to sit or lay on. Music may or may not be something you want to experience. I recommend meditating without the things for a week or so at least alongside a solid health routine as mentioned above and using your trip to focus on the issues you've identified through normal meditation.

Haven't done shrooms but the advice I give on LSD is to not try and fight it. It feels like being on a roller coaster coming up and you are best off just letting go and letting it happen. The trip is going to happen and if you try to fight it like you might with another drug then you're going to have anxiety.

The image is a digital artwork with a surrealistic style, featuring a vibrant, abstract pattern that resembles a brain or a brain-like structure. In the center of the image, there is a person holding a smartphone with a screen displaying a cartoon scene. The scene shows a family, including a father, mother, and child, sitting at a table in a kitchen. The father is holding a glass of water, and the child is holding a glass of juice. The background of the image is a deep red with a pattern of blue dots and lines, giving the impression of a brain or a brain-like structure. Overlaid on the image is a text that reads "Boring-ass ego death," with a smiley face emoji above it. The overall tone of the image is humorous and satirical, using the concept of a brain to convey a message about the importance of self-awareness and the potential for self-destruction.

On new years I took about 10 grams of mushrooms and small amounts of some psychedelic research chemicals. One was a very close analogue of DMT, and another was a homologue of psilocin. This is what your liver converts psilocybin mushrooms into. I've never had a bad trip but over New Years, it was a bit disturbing. I was vibrating at some weird level, and I saw some things I don't think you're supposed to see. A strange almost caricature of a join or die and garden flag amalgamation was one that stood out. The screen also said "pig-spawn we are coming for you" and looked distinctly Chinese. Another that stood out was weird comms discussing "Andrew", large amounts of Bitcoin, hit teams, payment with crypto, the number of people in the house and the best time to, well, who knows. I want to stress these were not wild hallucinations because that doesn't actually happen when you are tripping like it does in the movies. You may get visuals but that isn't pink elephants it's just strange sometimes shifting and moving perspectives on things that are actually present, for those who have never had a profoundly powerful psychedelic experience. Also I would like to note that I realized most ads are purely AI slop at this point, as are many podcasts and even VICE segments. Just watch VICE outside of Chief Keef's (?) house, it's so painfully obvious that this shit isn't real. Netflix, HULU, ect are also almost purely slop. Watch the hands, no one gesticulates like this. Do you let YouTube play while you sleep for background noise? Maybe you should be more cautious about what you let inside of your head because tripping and watching this garbage made me realize YouTube is definitely a vector for propaganda and psychological warfare. Watch their hands, AI rendered people gesticulate like crazy in a very unnatural way. They also speak a lot faster than a normal person would. A lot of those 4chan /x/ stories channels are pure AI slop as well. Our governments let this happen.

The image is a black and white illustration that depicts a person standing amidst a dense, lush forest. The individual is facing away from the viewer, with their back to the camera, and is dressed in a long-sleeved shirt and pants. They are holding a walking stick in their right hand, and their left hand is raised, as if they are either pointing or gesturing. The forest around them is dense with various types of trees and foliage, creating a sense of depth and complexity. The sky is visible through the canopy of leaves, and there are clouds in the sky, adding to the overall atmosphere of the scene. The style of the illustration is detailed and realistic, with a focus on the textures and patterns of the foliage and the clothing of the person. There is a watermark or signature in the bottom right corner that reads "KAI," which is likely the artist's name.

It'll open a door, but it's up to you to cross the threshold.

I realize that sounds like woo woo hippie shit, but it's true.

You'll be able to access parts of your subconscious that you repress. If you can manage to remain in that headspace and analyze yourself; you may be able to affect some sort of change.

There's no guarantee that you'll be a better person. I knew a guy who took a hero dose and managed to come to terms with his selfishness and decided "he was meant to be a bad person".

I highly recommend mushrooms over weed & acid.

Weed can lead to inaction with overuse; acid can literally fry your brain.

Mushrooms are a great tool to have a better understanding of the self, if you're looking to understand.

It will open some mental doors for you, what you choose to do with them or not is on you.

If you go down the path it can help you process things you are stuck on, or give you a brutally honest perception of things you are lying to yourself about. Just like >>41777840 said.

I'd take too much before I'd take too little.

Too much and it will pull you in more, and potentially offer more. Too little and you'll just be physically uncomfortable for a few hours, wasting a trip and the shrooms you had. 5-7g dried is about where you'll want to be.

Comfy in bed or on the couch in pitch black darkness is probably the best way to go about it. Grab a blanket, you'll probably start feeling cold at some point.

If you're looking for healing, I found DMT to be much more effective personally.

Shrooms can help soften some emotional lies you're telling yourself, or shove stuff you've been avoiding right in your face, helping you break out of bad habits.

It won't instantly change you as a person, but it can be a major aid. It's better than any therapy.

A good DMT trip can flip a switch though, that shit is magical. Turned on the light I'd thought lost for decades right back on, lasting for months.

Some people are proponents of sensory deprivation during trips. John C Lilly invented the Sensory Deprivation Chamber and did ketamine in it. Terence McKenna famously would advise that for anyone to go deep into the mind of the mushroom they should have "5 dried grams in silent darkness". I've never done a full sensory deprivation trip myself but I've laid down with my eyes closed in relatively quiet nature during trips to get a taste of the experience. I'm thinking about doing a solo trip like this next. I'm only just recently getting back into shrooms and I haven't tripped alone since I had the experience that required me to take a break.

These will change the way you look at reality, but still, you will still be who you are at base..

Untangle the figurative strings which bind you, and follow them back to source.

Realize you are not the vessel you occupy, and let-go of your fear, guilt and desire.

Free yourself from yourself, in other words. Be a peace. Find rest.

The style of the painting is reminiscent of the Art Nouveau movement, characterized by its use of flowing lines and organic shapes. The colors are rich and vibrant, with a palette that includes warm tones of gold, red, and orange. The overall composition and the surreal elements suggest a narrative that is open to interpretation, inviting the viewer to explore the meaning behind the depicted figures and symbols.

The image is a digital illustration featuring a character with a light complexion and brown hair. The character has a cheerful expression with wide eyes and a slight smile. The character is wearing a light blue shirt with a white collar and a light blue jacket with a white collar. The character's hair is styled in a ponytail, and the character is holding a small, golden-colored object, which appears to be a cross. The background of the image is plain white, which contrasts with the character's colorful attire and the golden object. There are no texts present in the image. The style of the illustration is cartoon-like, with a simple and clean line work.

I am reminded on the daily of my deal with the devil though. I see the number of the beast everywhere. Sometimes I'll see a visual overlay of pentagrams over certain objects.

But yeah, I'm pretty much over it at this point and I do regret it because I know with a certainty not many can achieve that I am bound for Hell.

You can't sell your soul, it was bought on the cross by the one true God, birthed by the Virgin Mary, lived a perfect life and was crucified. Turning the most horrible symbol of the ancient age into the purest sign of hope and redemption the cross, gave instructions to his Apostles and passed on the gift of the holy ghost and priesthood teachings to guide people to his church as an instrument to guide souls back to Him.

Nobody can sell their soul, but the Devil and demons can certainly make you believe it, in order to make you hopeless, despair and do Terrible things to yourself and others thinking you're damned forever.

Write down what it is that you're asking for and sign the paper with your signature in cursive.

Go to a place that makes you feel safe and burn the page. This will make that place a Crossroads and your ideal spot for communion with the one that will take your soul. He has many names and is not picky about what you call Him.

After you are done, in the following days, weeks, months - you will experience supernatural and paranormal phenomena you wouldn't have thought possible.

The image shows a close-up of a human head sculpture, which appears to be made of a white, possibly marble, material. The sculpture is mounted on a wooden base and is positioned against a plain, light-colored background. The head is facing slightly to the left, and the sculpture is in profile, allowing a clear view of the features.

The sculpture is characterized by a smooth, rounded forehead and a slightly receding hairline. The hair is styled in a manner that suggests it is parted in the middle, with the hair on the sides being longer and flowing down the back. The eyes are closed, and the mouth is slightly open, giving the sculpture a serene expression.

There are no visible texts or inscriptions on the sculpture, and the style of the image is a straightforward, non-stylized photograph that focuses on the object without any additional context or embellishments. The lighting in the image is even, with no harsh shadows or highlights, which helps to highlight the details of the sculpture.

Regardless of whether the abomination of desolation is a person or a thing, Daniel predicted the following:

1. A future ruler will make a treaty with the people of Israel.

2. The terms of this treaty will be for a "week"—which we take to be a period of seven years.
3. Midway through this time, the ruler will gather his troops and put an end to the sacrifices and offerings in the temple.
4. At that time the ruler will desecrate the temple, setting up some type of sacrilegious object.
5. The desecration of the temple will continue until the judgment of God is finally meted out on the ruler and his followers, 1,290 days (3½ years and 1 month) later.

Antiochus IV Epiphanes was a Seleucid king infamous in the Bible, especially the Book of Daniel and 1 & 2 Maccabees (Apocrypha), for his brutal persecution of Jews, outlawing their faith, desecrating the Jerusalem Temple by sacrificing pigs and setting up an altar to Zeus, which triggered the Maccabean Revolt and the Hanukkah story. He's portrayed as a "little horn" in Daniel's prophecies, a type of the Antichrist, known as "Epiphanes" (God Manifest) but also "Epimanes" (Madman).

Key Actions & Significance:

Hellenization: He aggressively tried to force Greek culture (Hellenization) and pagan worship (Zeus) on the Jewish people.

Temple Desecration: His most infamous act was turning the Holy Temple into a shrine for Zeus, placing an idol, and sacrificing swine on the altar, an "abomination of desolation".

Persecution: He outlawed Judaism's core practices: Sabbath observance, circumcision, and Torah study, punishing violators with death.

Maccabean Revolt: His tyranny sparked the Maccabean Revolt, a successful Jewish uprising for religious freedom, celebrated by the festival of Hanukkah.

Prophetic Figure: In Daniel, he's seen as a "little horn" (Daniel 8, 11) and a precursor to the final Antichrist, embodying spiritual rebellion and persecution

The idea of selling your soul is obviously retarded if you have a basic understand of economics.

If someone is buying your soul that means that they value it more than whatever goods or service they are exchanging for it.

If you don't have an accurate understanding of the value of your soul, why would you sell it? You'd be better off putting your life savings into a true random stock.

[14 / 1]The image is a vibrant and detailed illustration that appears to be a painting or a print. It features a figure that seems to be a character from a traditional East Asian art style, possibly Chinese, given the intricate patterns and the style of the clothing. The figure is adorned with a large, ornate headdress and a belt with a prominent buckle. The character is holding a small, round object in one hand and a long, curved object in the other, which could be interpreted as a staff or a staff-like object.

The background of the image is a rich tapestry of colors, with a warm orange and yellow hue dominating the scene. There are also hints of blue and green, suggesting the presence of water or a similar element. The character is standing on a floor that appears to be made of tiles, and there are other figures and objects in the background, although they are not as prominently featured as the central figure.

The overall composition and the use of color suggest a scene that is rich in symbolism and possibly has a narrative, as is common in East Asian art. The artist has skillfully used color and form to create a sense of depth and three-dimensionality, which is a hallmark of traditional East Asian art.

I'm a normal guy, very normal, I feel like that I should be something great but I don't know what to do, this feeling and search for something more start when I was in a damn classroom (in that time I already know that they are teaching mainly lies) and I pray to God in silence asking if my life was just supposed to be "school", work and die, I didn't expect a answer I just ask if there's something more I could leave early and when I open my eyes it was announced that the last class was cancel, some days later I ask to God the something and it happens again, and again, and again, it really a miracle.

Some weird thing also start to happen I start to see repeated number in the clock (11:11 16:16 etc) and I test my luck confirm it, also when I play cards one day my hand would get repeatedly the same cards that would be impossible naturally.

Some other things also happen but what I want to ask is what should I do? I don't know where to go to make some advance in my life purpose, I know that the internet is not the place for that but let see if someone is helpful.

The background of the image is a rich tapestry of colors, with a warm orange and yellow hue dominating the scene. There are also hints of blue and green, suggesting the presence of water or a similar element. The character is standing on a floor that appears to be made of tiles, and there are other figures and objects in the background, although they are not as prominently featured as the central figure.

The overall composition and the use of color suggest a scene that is rich in symbolism and possibly has a narrative, as is common in East Asian art. The artist has skillfully used color and form to create a sense of depth and three-dimensionality, which is a hallmark of traditional East Asian art.

The reason and danger level of online gangstalking Migga Biscuit !!wIF6T/CyU+q Sun 04 Jan 2026 08:42:09 No.41758374 ViewReplyOriginalReport

So I am, as far as I can tell, gangstalked online(offline too but not as relavent here).

I am shown my name very often, I am shown 666s/616s or numbers close to 666/616 along with demonic usernames and pfps, I see posts that are on a topic I recently saw, and more. This all started around late 2021.

Like take picrel; I was watching some of a video about Jeffrey Dahmer with my mom and for some reason I thought about Albert Fish. This dude is not brought up as much as Dahmer, not even here on /x/, so I find it sus that I see picrel a day after thinking about him.

Why is this type of gangstalking done? Is even gangstalking? How dangerous is it? Is is glowies doing it? Demons? AI? All of the above? Is it matrix related?

The image is a digital illustration featuring a cartoon character that resembles Bugs Bunny from the Looney Tune series. The character has a large, round head with a pinkish-brown face, large ears, and a wide smile. It has a white belly and a gray body with white fur. The character is looking directly at the viewer with its eyes wide open. In the upper part of the image, there is a speech bubble containing text. The text reads: "I used to be trolled but I found out a way to stop it. I do kinds of stupid and gay shit. They can't troll you if you dress up as a girl and kiss them. I don't like doing it but it works."

The background of the image is a solid blue color, providing a contrast to the character's face and the text. The overall style of the image is cartoonish and humorous, with a focus on the character's expression and the text within the speech bubble.

It's not some grand scheme, you're giving people too much credit. It's just something people do, it's like a social ritual/culling tactic. Seriously, they're retards. They group up in their little discord/telegram/whatever the fuck else groups and talk about the people who happen to be around them, picking at outsiders for any little piece of information, like vultures. They have their little laugh. Their thoughts don't go deeper. They don't know how to have passion or love for any stupid thing, for their hobbies, for themselves or the people around them... I guess my family is in on it too, they have read my mind multiple times. Like yesterday I grabbed a tool/weapon to defend my cats from some some dogs there were roaming near our yard. Then like an hour or so later my grandfather asks where it was(I left it outside just in case) so he could use to get into some overgrown building.

Like what are the chances that it sits there for weeks unmoved, but as soon as I grab it and stuff, he needs it?

Then I remember this mop that was propped on the stairs outside. Thing sat there for several months. As soon as I was obsessed enough to look it up online (it looks like a tentacle monster), it was removed and placed nearby the very same day.

This is a type of mindeffy gangstalking that you know is happening but is so mundane that you sound crazy for talking about, even to yourself at times.

Hence my point. The bushax and mop incidents were very mundane, but if you went through it you would know something is off.

Like imagine if you saw boxes of cookies at the store for months on end and you eventually decided to try them and then they disappear after a time or 2 of you buying them, you would be like "wtf bro?!?". But people would just tell you that the products never sold and they dumped them or that they suddenly got popular, but deep down you know that those explanations are bs as they only went away would you bought some not before and not long after.

I like your threads and posts, once when I was in an episode I thought you were one of my gangstalkers because I was under the delusion that I was God and you posted right after me "tentacle monster appreciation post". Obvious poppycock, but at the time it seemed plausible. I spent some time in a crisis stabilization unit and got on all new meds and it still happens sometimes but I am able to recognize when the wires are misfiring. I'm not telling you to seek help or take meds, just take a step back and try and take things in perspective, ok?

That said, there's still a nonzero chance we're both being gangstalked. There's an old man that is almost always in Walmart when I go no matter the time or day, so maybe we're not crazy? I just like to hold both sides of an argument but in all likelihood we're both just overtuned. Probably.

The image is a humorous meme divided into two sections, each depicting a different concept. On the left side, there are four objects arranged in a row, each representing a different type of virus. The first object is a yellow, spherical structure with a network of orange lines radiating outward, resembling a virus's structure. The second object is a cylindrical, gold-colored structure with a network of orange lines radiating outward, also resembling a virus's structure. The third object is a spherical, silver-colored structure with a network of orange lines radiating outward, resembling a virus's structure. The fourth object is a metallic, black structure with a network of orange lines radiating outward, resembling a virus's structure.

On the right side, there is a depiction of a spacecraft with a large, metallic body and four legs, resembling a humanoid figure. The spacecraft is labeled with the text "HUMANITY IN SPACE," indicating a humorous contrast between the human-like appearance of the spacecraft and the biological nature of the viruses.

The background of both sections is white, and there is a black border around the image. The overall style of the image is a satirical representation of the concept of viruses and their relation to space travel, humorously contrasting the biological nature of viruses with the technological advancement of space travel.

The image is a screenshot of a text message conversation. At the top, there is a header that reads "Mega Biscuit" followed by a timestamp "12/24/25 Wed 05:14:17 No. 4171061".

Below the header, there is a message in a larger font that reads, "I get what you are saying, it does feel like someone or thing is effing with us."

The conversation continues with a series of text messages, each one in a smaller font size compared to the previous one. The text messages are as follows:

- "Like yesterday I was thinking about possession and even looked up Devilman possession clips, and then shortly afterwards, I see a post about possession I called it out. Post just died after that."

- "They also do it with anime girls for some reason. Like I will see a lesser used anime girl and then later on that same day will see someone on here use it as their thread's pic."

The style of the image is a combination of text and visual elements, with the text being the primary focus and the visual elements providing context and information about the conversation. The text messages are written in a casual, conversational tone, and the visual elements include the timestamp, the header, and the text messages themselves. The image is a snapshot of a digital conversation, capturing the essence of the text's content.

The image is a digital illustration with a cartoon-like style. It features a character with a long gray beard and a halo above their head, suggesting a religious or spiritual theme. The character is depicted with a serious expression, and their hand is raised to their forehead, as if deep in thought or contemplation.

In the background, there is a smaller image of a character with a colorful outfit and a beard, which appears to be a caricature of a person. The text overlaying the image reads, "I deliberately created a world full of things that I do not like and now I am mad. How could this be happening to me?" This text suggests a humorous or ironic tone, possibly referencing the character's actions or the situation they find themselves in.

The overall style of the image is light-hearted and humorous, with a focus on the character's introspective and possibly dramatic situation. The use of a halo and the text adds a layer of irony to the image, suggesting that the character's actions are not only out of character but also unexpected or absurd.

You have to really learn who you are, so you know when a foreign thought enters your mind in attempts to control you. Study yourself, pay attention to yourself, learn what you like and don't like and solidify the fuck out of that in your mind. That way, when a foreign thought enters your mind, you will know it's not yours and laugh metaphorically in their fucking faces and call them bitches.

You're not gangstalked per se OP but you are under the influence of the same technology that is used to "gangstalk". It's a highly advanced neural net activated on the entire population for espionage purposes. On the unlucky few this neural net is weaponized which is what results in the gangstalking/ti phenomenon. This technology is being used on non-targets in odd ways through relatively harmless subconscious manipulation. It's possibly experimental in nature and collecting data on how people perceive this influence. The most common facet of this technology used on non-targets is non malicious subconscious manipulation and dream manipulation is also very common. You'll know if your being gangstalked as you lie in bed crying wondering what in the fuck is going on, in fear for your life, nobodies believing a word you say, and your about an hour or two away from the psych ward.

IDK what started it. Looking back it probably has been going on since I was a child, but I can say it definitely amped up to where it was more noticeable in like late 2021. Started noticing 33s alot which somehow moves into me seeing 666s/616s/665s/667s alot. And it first started off in the URL of a webpage related to angels.

Then in the following years I started to get name, thought, and trait based gangstalking.

I have a weird fear, but I doubt getting over would stop it.

The image is a screenshot of a text message conversation, likely from a social media platform, as indicated by the presence of a chat bubble with the text "chat" and the username "Warhammer40K". The conversation appears to be about a hypothetical battle between the SCP Foundation and the Imperium of Man from Warhammer 40K. The text is in a format that resembles a news article or a blog post, with a header that reads "Who would win in a battle between the SCP Foundation and the Imperium of Man from Warhammer 40K?". Below this header, there is a list of names and a timestamp, indicating that the conversation is from Wednesday, July 26, 2015 at 29:08. The image also includes a graphic of a character from the Warhammer 40K universe, which is a visual representation of a character from the series. The character is depicted with a helmet, a sword, and a shield, and is shown in a dynamic pose, suggesting movement or action. The character is wearing a green and gold outfit, which is a common color scheme for fantasy or science fiction characters.

The text in the image is in a mix of English and what appears to be a non-English language, possibly a script or a language not commonly used in English. The text discusses the historical and fictional context of the Warhammer 40K universe, mentioning the SCP Foundation, the Imperium of Man, and the 40K universe. It also mentions the concept of a containment breach, a Z-class end of the world scenario, and the Earth being "rocketed forward by 38,000 years and placed in a very different star system."

The image is a screenshot, which means it is a snapshot of a digital conversation, and it is not a photograph of the actual text or the character. The text is in a format that is typical for digital communication, with bullet points and a list of names, suggesting a structured and organized conversation. The visual elements, such as the character and the text, are used to convey the content of the conversation, which is about a hypothetical battle between the SCP Foundation and the Imperium of Man from Warhammer 40K.

The image is a bar chart with a dark background and a grid of colored bars. Each bar represents a different vaccination method, with the number of cases associated with each method. The colors of the bars are used to indicate the severity of the cases associated with each method.

Starting from the top, the first bar is labeled "vaccination" and has a green color, indicating a low severity of cases. The second bar is labeled "English Original" and is green, indicating a moderate severity of cases. The third bar is labeled "English Reduction" and is green, indicating a moderate severity of cases. The fourth bar is labeled "English Standard" and is green, indicating a moderate severity of cases. The fifth bar is labeled "English Standard" and is green, indicating a moderate severity of cases. The sixth bar is labeled "English Standard" and is green, indicating a moderate severity of cases. The seventh bar is labeled "English Standard" and is green, indicating a moderate severity of cases. The eighth bar is labeled "English Standard" and is green, indicating a moderate severity of cases. The ninth bar is labeled "English Standard" and is green, indicating a moderate severity of cases. The tenth bar is labeled "English Standard" and is green, indicating a moderate severity of cases. The eleventh bar is labeled "English Standard" and is green, indicating a moderate severity of cases. The twelfth bar is labeled "English Standard" and is green, indicating a moderate severity of cases.

The numbers associated with each bar are as follows:

- "111" for "vaccination"
- "116" for "English Original"
- "796" for "English Reduction"
- "3102" for "English Standard"
- "2227" for "English Standard"
- "303" for "English Standard"
- "166" for "English Standard"
- "2280" for "English Standard"
- "752" for "English Standard"
- "174" for "English Standard"
- "348" for "English Standard"
- "1970" for "Twelve twelve"
- "3440" for "Twelve twelve"

The chart is organized in a grid format, with each bar corresponding to a different vaccination method and the corresponding number of cases associated with that method. The colors of the bars are used to indicate the severity of the cases associated with each method, with green representing a low severity, yellow representing a moderate severity, and red representing a high severity. The numbers at the end of each bar provide a numerical scale for the severity of the cases associated with each method.

In the center of the image, there is a silhouette of a person with a green face and a black hat. The person appears to be making a playful or mischievous gesture with their hand, as if they are pointing or gesturing towards something. The person's face is not fully visible, and their expression is not clearly discernible.

At the bottom of the image, there is a small text that reads "PARENTAL ADVISORY" in white letters, indicating that the album contains explicit content. The overall style of the image is graphic and bold, with a focus on the text and the central figure. The use of color and the stylized text contribute to a bold and energetic aesthetic.

This necessitated it first being memed into collected consciousness with bands like Iron Maiden, then Slayer, then Marilyn Manson, etc. From the edge, it shifted to Christian Metalcore taking the artistic style and turning it to a message of hope and virtue which activated countless souls that were dormant under the mundanity and false light of the controlled Christian church. Jews caught on and killed that genre at great personal cost, so you saw externally "Satanic" bands push the same message while using the same archetype, Ghost, Dimmu Borgir, Behemoth being just a few. Now you see an infusion of non violent aryan identitarianism (as opposed to the white nigger skinhead types) which all creates an alchemical soup that leads to a Christed form of the Satan archetype leading the disaffected Aryan youth tagged for deletion into evolving into the sixth root race and becoming the Red Dragon and every beast in opposition to the Whore of Babylon that sold them out to the synagogue of satan. When the generation of awakened philosophers begin to philosophize with a hammer, they will bring twilight to every false idol of modernity and let the light-dark unity of Baldur and Hel unite Animus with Anima and usher in the Satya Yuga under the sixth sun.

And that's why every school kid thinking Marilyn Manson sucks his own dick was a calculated memetics part of God's plan.

The image is a split-screen graphic with two distinct sections. On the left side, there is a digital image of a person with long hair, wearing a robe and a halo, which is a common symbol associated with religious figures. The person appears to be a figure of Jesus Christ, as suggested by the halo and the text "Revolt against the modern world, not because it is modern but because it is evil." This text is overlaid on the image, emphasizing a message of resistance against the perceived modernity of the world. On the right side, there is a cartoon-style illustration of a character with a white beard and a red cross on their chest, wearing a white robe and a white hat. The character is standing in a grassy field with a blue sky and clouds in the background. The character is holding a book in their left hand and a staff in their right hand, suggesting a figure of a saint or a religious figure.

The text on the left side of the image is overlaid on a red background, which is a common color for religious or spiritual themes. The text reads, "For God hath not given us the spirit of fear, but of power, and of love, and of a sound mind." This text is a quote from the Bible, specifically from the Book of Romans, which is a significant text in Christian theology.

The overall style of the image is a blend of digital art and traditional religious iconography, with a focus on conveying a message of resistance against modernity and a call for spiritual strength.

Manson and Trent Reznor are both acolytes of The Process Church in the modern era, Trent being influenced by the burgeoning Industrial music scene from the UK, via the boys from Coil and Genesis P.Orridge.

Trent and Manson are both modern Mansonites, hence The Downward Spiral being recorded in the Tate murder house, and the numerous pig allusions. Charlie lived right around the corner from the Process's LA locale.

Manson and his numerous sexual and abuse allegations are in line with Process doctrine, being an offshoot of Scientology, and a much more radicalized one at that. "The Rape Game" was something Processeans partook of, for instance.

He came from a pastors family and his parents looked the other way while an uncle (I believe) sexually abused him because if they did anything it would bring shame in a family. That's why he resonated because behind the gay edge lord stage antics (and they were gay) he was a voice cutting through the false light hypocrisy of the modern world and giving a vicarious voice to the voiceless, particularly the demographic of abused middle class kids that had been told to shut up and tow the line because at least they had money and a job (Fight Club generation)

You can draw a nearly direct line from that to the modern far right incel neet because the world doubled down on its lies.

The image is a portrait-style photograph of a man with a serious expression. He has short, dark hair and is wearing a black denim jacket with visible patches and a visible tattoo on his chest. The jacket has a zipper running down the front. The man is wearing a black belt with a silver buckle and a silver chain. He has a visible tattoo on his left forearm, which appears to be a design of a skull with a cross and a flame. The background of the image is plain and white, which contrasts with the man's dark clothing and tattoos. There are no visible texts or logos in the image. The style of the image is realistic and appears to be a professional portrait.

Do wounds like this (sexual abuse) generally lead to this kind of radiance or would we say it only opens people up to demons?

Chester Bennington from Linkin Park is another notable name, who I heard a rumor where he was on the brink of uncovering a child trafficking ring. It makes me wonder about the cycles of abuses people go through and how that affects their mantras and consciousnesses during waking. This man in this photo quit drugs and only smoked marijuana. He eventually had 3 wives (turbulent life caused by external forces?) but he also had SIX kids which I imagine gave him a great source of joy.

There is no good reason chester bennington killed himself. I think other entities latch onto people with spirits or other entities latched on.

The image is a humorous meme divided into two sections. On the left, there is a photograph of a woman sitting in a lotus position on a green mat, with her eyes closed and a serene expression. She is wearing a white tank top and appears to be in a meditative state. The background is a serene landscape with a body of water and a hill. On the right, there is a black and white photograph of a group of men in military uniforms, some of whom are wearing goggles. They appear to be in a state of alertness, with their eyes wide open and focused on something in front of them. The men are standing in a formation, and the overall atmosphere is serious and tense.

Overlaying the image is a text that reads, "What people think a spiritual awakening is like vs what it's actually like." This text suggests a comparison between the perception of spiritual experiences and the actual experience of spiritual awakening. The humor is derived from the juxtaposition of the peaceful and contemplative image of the woman with the more intense and focused image of the men, which contrasts with the idea of spiritual awakening.

It a soul wants to learn to be a "dark worker" (as opposed to a light worker) which is the final state of development this realm has to offer, it necessarily must halo drop into a wounded bloodline and learn to turn the lead of the life it was given into gold. This is no small task, they have every reason to turn feral and tear the throat out of the world that hurt it so much, but every once in a while the outcast wolf returns with his own pack of Diamond Dogs to defend the flick from the flick from those that would prey on them.

The image is a stylized comic book panel featuring a character with a large, horned head and a speech bubble. The character is depicted in a dynamic pose, with one arm raised and the other extended forward, as if in motion. The character's face is obscured by the horn, and the speech bubble contains a thought-provoking statement: "IF WE ARE TO SURVIVE ON AN EARTH FILLED WITH MADNESS AND EVIL, WE MUST BE AS CUNNING... AS VICIOUS AS OUR OPPRESSORS!" The background is a muted color, with a hint of a dark, possibly ominous sky. The style of the image is reminiscent of classic comic book art, with bold lines and a focus on the character's face and the text within the speech bubble.

The person is wearing a white outfit and has a serious expression. The background is a muted color, and the sky is a pale blue.

The bottom image is a close-up of a person's face, with a serious expression. The person has short hair and is looking directly at the camera. The background is a dark color, possibly black or deep purple.

Overlaying the top image is a list of phrases in bold, capital letters. The phrases are: "Victim culture," "Crime," "Black Lives Matter," "Rioters," "Cancel culture," "Child molesters," "Sexualizing children," "Degeneracy," "Perverts," "Orange man bad," and "I fucking hate it here."

The bottom image features a meme with a cartoonish representation of a person with a serious expression, looking directly at the camera. The person has short hair and is wearing a striped shirt. The background is a dark color, possibly black or deep purple. The overall style of the image is humorous and satirical, with a focus on social and political commentary. The use of bold text and the juxtaposition of the two images create a visual pun or commentary on the themes of victimhood, activism, and societal

The image is a still from a movie or television show, featuring a man sitting in a traditional Japanese-style room. The man is wearing a white kimono with red accents and has a serious expression on his face. He is positioned in the center of the frame, with his hands resting on his knees. The room has a dark, possibly wooden interior, and there are candles on the table in front of him.

Overlaying the image is a quote in white text that reads, "REVENGE IS NEVER A STRAIGHT LINE. IT'S A FOREST. AND LIKE A FOREST IT'S EASY TO LOSE YOUR WAY. TO GET LOST. TO FORGET WHERE YOU CAME IN." The quote is attributed to Ritor Hancox. The text is overlaid on the image in a way that it appears to be a part of the image itself, suggesting that the quote is a dialogue or a thought-provoking statement related to the character or theme of the scene. The overall style of the image is dramatic and evocative, with a focus on the character and the quote, which suggests a narrative context.

Manson is part of those same circles that use music as a vehicle of sedition and cultural subversion.

The Process focused on musicians and underground artists while its parent, Scientology, was about recruiting Hollywood elite and the mainstream media. It's why groups like The Beatles, Rolling Stones, and Blue Oyster Cult all have Process connections. This extends to the West Coast via Manson and The Beach Boys.

The thread linking industrial music to The Process is via Genesis P.Orridge, who like Manson was a clear Scientologist before starting TOPY, Genesis got Skinny Puppy into Processean art, and by proxy influenced Reznor, Ministry, and Marilyn Manson.

Industrial Rock at its core, is embracing the Process doctrine, which is really just a modern spin on Sabbatean Frankist apocalypticism, sin it up.

At the top of the poster, the title "GREENLAND 2: MIGRATION" is prominently displayed in large, white, metallic letters. Below the title, there is a tagline that reads "3 YEARS AGO, THE WORLD ENDED. THAT WAS JUST THE BEGINNING." The text is in a smaller font size compared to the title, and it is also in white, matching the color of the title.

At the bottom of the poster, there is a date "JANUARY 9" in white, capitalized letters. The overall style of the poster is dramatic and visually striking, with a focus on the catastrophic event depicted in the explosion. The use of dark colors and the stark contrast between the explosion and the planet create a sense of urgency and danger.

Does anyone know if there are any occultic undertones within coal mining and the wider mining industry. The occupation of a miner seems like a classic Faustian bargain for money at the expense of health. There has to be some spiritual implications of moving such a mass of raw materials. I'm also dubious of modern refining practices. Could the mining industry have entered into some Faustian bargain with an entity were they are allowed to sap spiritual aura and energy from workers to enrich the product they mine?

From Liber Falxifer 1:

"Finally, we have Supay of the Incas, who is possibly the most interesting pagan aspect of death that can be strongly linked to Señor la Muerte. Supay ruled over the Kingdom of Death and the dead in Uku Pacha (the underworld) and was considered to be both the god of death and the master of demons. His symbol was the skull, but his own representations often showed him in the terrifying form of a horned demonic god. His legions of demons were known to snatch away young children during the darkest nights and kill all those who would block their path or otherwise disturb their nocturnal revelry. Supay also received blood offerings by the Incas, who celebrated his rites with the purpose of diverting his destructive powers.

Supay's dark and demonic associations and attributes were not forgotten and he eventually came to be identified with Satan himself by modern-day Bolivians. He is still worshipped by the Bolivian miners as the 'Lord of the Underworld' and is believed to be their protector and patron god. His protection, along with any other blessings sought by the miners, are paid for with their offerings of liquor, candles, cigars, cigarettes, coca-leaves, bottles of water and annual animal sacrifices, which are placed in front of Supay's subterranean shrines. Today, Supay or 'El Tio' (the Uncle), as he is known in the Bolivian folk-magical tradition, is more often viewed as a god connected to the riches of the underworld than a god of death. But he is also still a ruler of the demonic powers of the underworld who is known to bring painful death to miners who are foolish enough to not show him the proper respect, or who neglect to give him his traditional offerings."

The whole idea of "resources" is very recent, and only retroactively ascribed to past events: supposedly, after Rome and before the colonial era, it did not occur to anyone in Europe to conquer North African territories for "resources", however, everyone in Europe was simultaneously warring over "resources" in Europe. Totally absurd.

[17 / 1]The image is a diagram illustrating the different methods of surface mining, which are used to extract minerals from the earth's surface. The diagram is divided into two main sections, labeled "Underground Mining Methods" and "Surface Mining Methods."

In the "Underground Mining Methods" section, there is a mountain with a large, white, dome-shaped structure at the top, which is labeled as "Drill for ore." Below the mountain, there are several smaller structures labeled as "Coal beds," "Drift mine," and "Rock spoil." These structures are connected by a series of tunnels and conveyors, indicating the flow of materials from the mine to the surface.

The "Surface Mining Methods" section shows a mountain with a large, white, dome-shaped structure at the top, which is labeled as "Surface mining." Below the mountain, there are several smaller structures labeled as "Drill for ore," "Drill for coal," and "Drill for rock spoil." These structures are connected by a series of tunnels and conveyors, indicating the flow of materials from the mine to the surface.

The diagram also includes a "Drift mine" and a "Coal bed" labeled as "Drift mine" and "Coal beds," respectively. These structures are connected by a series of tunnels and conveyors, indicating the flow of materials from the mine to the surface.

The diagram is color-coded, with the "Underground Mining Methods" section in blue, the "Surface Mining Methods" section in yellow, and the "Drift mine" and "Coal beds" sections in black. The diagram is labeled with the text "Underground Mining Methods" and "Surface Mining Methods," which are placed at the top of the image, providing a clear title for the two sections.

The image is a clear and precise representation of the different methods of surface mining, with each method represented by a distinct structure and color-coded for easy identification. The diagram is a useful educational tool for understanding the process of surface mining and the various methods used to extract minerals from the earth's surface.

Occultism in coal mining Anonymous Wed 07 Jan 2026 14:20:23 No.41773530

Does anyone know if there are any occultic undertones within coal mining and the wider mining industry. The occupation of a miner seems like a classic Faustian bargain for money at the expense of health. There has to be some spiritual implications of moving such a mass of raw materials. I'm also dubious of modern refining practices. Could the mining industry have entered into some Faustian bargain with an entity were they are allowed to sap spiritual aura and energy from workers to enrich the product they mine?

Just chopping off the top of the mountain like that really fucked up the watershed around north carolina & tennessee caused those deadly floods. There is a lot of folklore associated with Appalachia and coal mining from like the 19th/early 20th century. Seeing weird creatures, strange happenings, etc. The conventional explanation is like coal or exhaust fume inhalation. Some of the stories take place above ground, though.

Below the title, there is a paragraph of text in white that provides information about the goddess. The text states that Goddess Lakshmi is the ruling deity of Shukra, the Planet Venus, and both of them are siblings and Maharis. It also mentions that Bhiraja is their father, and both Goddess and Venus are associated with the element water and Suddhishthan Chakra. The text concludes with a statement about the goddess, stating that she is a wife, clean, pure, and luxurious, and that one must always worship Goddess Lakshmi to strengthen Venus. The text concludes with a list of attributes that describe the goddess, such as being always worshipped, clean, pure, and moral, and being a wife, clean, pure, and moral, and embodying love, art, and creativity.

The overall style of the image is artistic and seems to be designed for a purpose related to astrology or spiritual beliefs. The use of red and gold colors, along with the depiction of the goddess, suggests a connection to Hinduism or a similar spiritual tradition.

I'm so deeply romantically in love with her it's unreal.

Whether you call her Inanna Lucifer, Lakshmi, etc she's just simply the best.

Don't commune with her to ask for things, just call to tell her you love her, and when she tries to give you money and stuff just let her know remembering her name already makes you the richest man in the world <3

The image is a vibrant and detailed painting that depicts a woman seated on a white, ornate bench. She is adorned in traditional Indian attire, including a red sari, a blue and gold sari, and a red blouse with a gold border. Her hair is styled in a traditional manner, and she wears a gold headpiece and a gold necklace. In her hand, she holds a red object, which appears to be a mirror. The background is lush with greenery, including trees and flowers, and the overall color palette is rich with blues, reds, and gold. The painting is executed in a realistic style, with meticulous attention to detail in the clothing, jewelry, and the surrounding environment. There are no visible texts on the image.

Comparative mythology isn't terribly relevant once you've introduced nondualist idealist metaphysics. If all the gods are one source manifesting infinite emanations then what's wrong with OP practicing his devotion in whatever syncretic mishmash he desires towards whatever rays of the Absolute he likes best?

>an obvious "reverse-christianity" agenda

You guys project so hard and make everything about you it's wild.

If you're talking about my use of the word Lucifer thats what the Romans literally called Venus for centuries before the carpenter rabbi Yeshua bet Yosef (Jesus Christ actual birth name, Jesus Christ is a title) was even born.

Also how is it lazy if both Lakshmi and Inanna represent Venus and have an 8 pointed star as their symbol and are both called the queen of heaven? Clearly multiple civilizations all talking about the same Divine feminine.

Let me guess you're one of those Christians that thinks Allah isn't the same being as YHVH just because it's a different language? (In theory not practice obvs I'm not an abrahamic idgaf about touching that dumpster fire)

Pic unrelated (Masonic compass in the top left corner) or extremely related I'll let you decide.

The image is a digital illustration with a fantasy theme. At the top, there is a stylized depiction of a woman with long red hair, wearing a crown and a red dress. She has a radiant smile and is looking directly at the viewer. To her right, there is an owl with a dark, almost black head and a white chest. The owl is perched on a branch.

At the bottom of the image, the author's name "Isaac Isaiah" is written in a smaller, sans-serif font. The overall style of the image is reminiscent of fantasy art, with a focus on the central figure and the text, which suggests a narrative or story.

The bottom article is titled "THE TIMES OF ISRAEL" and is located at the bottom of the image. Both articles are displayed in a blue and white color scheme with the "Times of Israel" logo in the top left corner.

The top article is a news story about a chorus of Jewish politicians calling for tighter gun laws. The text is in English and is presented in a standard font size. The top article is highlighted with a red border, indicating it is the main focus of the image.

The bottom article is a news story about anti-Semitic flyers blaming US Jewish lawmakers for gun control. The text is also in English and is presented in a standard font size. The bottom article is highlighted with a red border, similar to the top article, indicating it is the main focus of the image.

Both articles are displayed in a two-column layout, with the top article on the left and the bottom article on the right. The top article has a larger font size than the bottom article, which is a common design choice to draw attention to the main content. The text is clear and legible, making it easy to read the headlines and the main body of the articles. The image does not contain any other visual elements or graphics, focusing solely on the text content of the two articles.

[10 / 3]The image is a detailed and complex painting that depicts a scene of chaos and destruction. At the center, a large skeleton with a humanoid head is suspended in the air, with its arms and legs spread out, as if it is in the midst of a powerful movement. The skeleton is surrounded by a multitude of smaller figures, some of which appear to be in a state of distress or panic. These figures are depicted in various states of disarray, with some appearing to be in motion, while others are in a state of stillness.

The background of the painting is filled with a chaotic mix of colors and textures, including shades of brown, black, and red, which contribute to the overall sense of turmoil and destruction. The painting is executed in a realistic style, with attention to detail and shading that brings the scene to life.

At the top of the painting, there is text that reads "Deus abhiciat," which translates to "God has taken," suggesting a narrative of divine intervention or punishment. The text is located at the top of the painting, which is a common placement for such messages in religious or mythological art.

The painting is framed by a border that is composed of a series of vertical lines, which adds to the sense of depth and perspective. The overall composition and style of the painting are reminiscent of the Gothic art style, which is known for its emphasis on dramatic and symbolic imagery.

For the conductor, a song of David.

When Nathan the prophet came to him when he went to Bath-sheba.

Be gracious to me, O God, according to Your kindness; according to Your great mercies, erase my transgressions.

Wash me thoroughly of my iniquity, and purify me of my sin.

For I know my transgressions, and my sin is always before me.

Against You alone have I sinned, and I have done what is evil in Your sight, in order that You be justified in Your conduct, and right in Your judgment.

Behold, with iniquity I was formed, and with sin my mother conceived me.

Behold, You desired that truth be in the hidden places, and in the concealed part You teach me wisdom.

Purify me with a hyssop, and I will become pure; wash me, and I will become whiter than snow.

Make me hear joy and gladness; let the bones that You crushed exult.

Hide Your countenance from my sins, and erase all my iniquities.

Create for me a pure heart, O God, and renew a steadfast spirit within me.

Do not cast me away from before You, and do not take Your holy spirit from me.

Restore to me the joy of Your salvation, and let a noble spirit support me.

I will teach transgressors Your ways, and sinners will return to You.

Save me from blood, O God, the God of my salvation; let my tongue sing praises of Your charity.

O Lord, You shall open my lips, and my mouth will recite Your praise.

> For You do not wish a sacrifice, or I should give it; You do not desire a burnt offering.
Psalms 51:18

The sacrifices of God are a broken spirit; O God, You will not despise a broken and crushed heart.

With Your will, do good to Zion; build the walls of Jerusalem.

Then You will desire sacrifices of righteousness, a burnt offering and a whole offering; then they will offer up bulls on Your altar.

document appears to be a part of a larger document, possibly a book or a research paper, as indicated by the presence of multiple references and citations. The text is written in English and is formatted in a standard academic style, with paragraphs and indented lines.

The document contains a series of numbered paragraphs, which are likely part of a larger discussion or argument. The numbering suggests that the text is organized in a logical sequence, likely following a logical flow of thought or a logical argument.

The text is dense with information, and the content seems to be discussing a topic related to the field of philosophy or a similar discipline. The references to other works, such as "Bertrand Russell," "Bertrand Russell," and "Bertrand Russell," indicate that the text is likely discussing philosophical concepts or theories.

The text is not fully visible in the image, but the visible parts show a discussion of ideas and concepts, with references to other works and arguments. The text is dense and includes complex sentences and phrases, which suggests that the document is a scholarly or academic work.

The image does not provide any additional context or information beyond the visible text, so it is not possible to determine the exact topic or the author's intent from the image alone. The image only shows the text and does not provide any visual clues about the content or the context of the discussion.

Proof that the Bible is the word of God:

<https://truthischrist.com/seven/>

fcbaptist.com/wp-content/uploads/2021/07/Bible-proof.pdf

1 Cor 15:3-4: "For I delivered unto you first of all that which I also received, how that Christ died for our sins according to the scriptures; And that he was buried, and that he rose again the third day according to the scriptures:"

https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=_VRT2FFXntc

1 John 5:7: "For there are three that bear record in heaven, the Father, the Word, and the Holy Ghost: and these three are one."

Romans 3:23: "For all have sinned, and come short of the glory of God;"

Jesus Christ is God who has come in the flesh from heaven. He died as a sinless sacrifice for the sins of the whole world to save you from eternal hell, the punishment for your sins. He was buried, then resurrected and ascended to heaven and will return soon to condemn the world. You can't be justified to God your own way, so do you choose the righteousness of God by receiving Christ? Rom. 5:9: "Much more then, being now justified by his blood, we shall be saved from wrath through him."

Salvation is by grace through faith (Eph. 2:8-9) in the one, final, effectual sacrifice of the Lord Jesus Christ (Heb. 10:8-12) dying in your place as a substitutionary offering for sin (Rom. 5:1-10). The blood atonement He made for you is finished, so if you have received the Lord Jesus by faith (John 1:12) in your heart, you're forgiven of all your sins and are saved, once for all; finally and forever. The gift of salvation can't be earned, it is a gift. Rom 10:9: "That if thou shalt confess with thy mouth the Lord Jesus, and shalt believe in thine heart that God hath raised him from the dead, thou shalt be saved."

Eph. 2:8-9: "For by grace are ye saved through faith; and that not of yourselves: it is the gift of God: Not of works, lest any man should boast."

After you're saved, you are no longer an enemy of God, and nothing will separate you from His love (Romans 8:38-39)

Fliers posted on the Twin Cities campus of the University of Minnesota blamed Jewish politicians for gun control efforts.

Headlined “Why Are Jews After Our Guns,” the fliers blamed Jewish politicians for attacks on “our beloved 2nd Amendment,” the Minnesota Star Tribune reported.

The fliers listed Sens. Bernie Sanders, I-Vermont, and Chuck Schumer, D-New York, and other prominent Jewish politicians. It also showed images of the yellow stars that Jews were forced to wear in the Nazi concentration camps as well as caricatures of hook-nosed men with long beards.

The fliers said they were “brought to you” by the neo-Nazi website The Daily Stormer.

“ATTENTION @PrezKaler @UMNews @HillelIntl this was posted on a board on Northrop Mall. It was sent to me by a current student and I am a JEWISH alum. I look forward to reading your statement on this Anti-Semitism. pic.twitter.com/oRDDfrw9Hk”

— Eli Sherman (@E_Sherman58) March 19, 2018”

“They identify a hot-button issue, identify it with the Jews and then use it to stoke resentment against the Jews,” Steven Hunegs, executive director of the Jewish Community Relations Council of Minnesota and the Dakotas, told the Star Tribune. He called the flier “ugly, pernicious, malicious” anti-Semitism.”

The fliers were removed from around the campus, the newspaper reported.

They were put up around campus days after a student referendum calling for divestment from companies doing business with Israel narrowly passed by a vote of 3,392 to 3,175.

Politicians from across the US have called for a reassessment of gun laws in the wake of Friday's deadly school shooting in Connecticut, with prominent Jewish representatives leading the charge. Two senators, including Joseph Lieberman of Connecticut, called Sunday for a national commission to examine mass shootings in the United States, while Senator Dianne Feinstein of California (D) vowed to ban the sale of military-style assault weapons.

The proposals were among the first to come from Congress in the wake of Friday's school shooting in Newtown, Connecticut. Gun rights activists remained largely quiet on the issue, all but one declining to appear on the Sunday talk shows. Meanwhile, Democrats vowed action and said it was time to hear from voters — not gun lobbyists — on how to prevent the next shooting.

The time for "saying that we can't talk about the policy implications of tragedies like this is over," said Rep. Chris Murphy, D-Conn., who won a Senate seat in the November elections.

President Barack Obama and Senate Democrats haven't pushed for new gun controls since rising to power in the 2008 national elections. Outspoken advocates for stricter laws, including Feinstein, say that's because of the powerful sway of the National Rifle Association.

But advocates also say the latest shooting is a tipping point that could change the dynamic of the debate dramatically. Feinstein said she plans to create a national committee devoted to rallying support for a ban on the sale of new assault weapons and will propose legislation next year that would ban big clips, drum and strips of more than 10 bullets.

"It can be done," she said Sunday, on reviving the 10-year ban that expired in 2004.

Lieberman, an independent from Connecticut who is retiring, said there should be a national commission to scrutinize gun laws and loopholes, as well as the nation's mental health system and the role that violent video games and movies might play in shootings. Senate Democratic whip Dick Durbin of Illinois said he would support such a panel, adding that it was time for a "national discussion" that included school safety.

"This conversation has been dominated in Washington by — you know and I know — gun lobbies that have an agenda" Durbin said. "We need people, just ordinary Americans, to come together, and speak out, and to sit down and calmly reflect on how far we go."

Congress has frequently turned to independent bipartisan commissions to try to solve the nation's worst problems, including the 9/11 terrorist attacks, the Iraq war and the failing economy. But ultimately, lawmakers are often reluctant to act on the recommendations of outsiders, especially if they think it will cost them support in their home states.

Still, Lieberman defended the idea of a national commission as the only way to ensure that the “heartbreak and anger” of the Connecticut shooting don’t dissipate over time and that other factors beyond gun control are considered.

“We’ve got to continue to hear the screams of these children and see their blood until we do something to try to prevent this from happening again,” he said.

Connecticut Senator Richard Blumenthal (D) said the time had come for serious debate on reforming gun-control laws. “I’m hearing from the community, as well as my colleagues in law enforcement, we need to do something,” Blumenthal told ABC’s “This Week.” “I’m hearing from my colleagues in the Senate around the country, some in states like Wisconsin and Colorado, where there have been similar horrific, horrible tragedies.”

Independent New York City Mayor Michael Bloomberg on Sunday was one of the most outspoken gun-control advocates and called on Obama to make gun control the top of his agenda in the wake of the Connecticut slayings.

“It’s time for the president, I think, to stand up and lead and tell this country what we should do — not go to Congress and say, ‘What do you guys want to do?’” Bloomberg told NBC’s “Meet the Press.” “This should be his No. 1 agenda. He’s president of the United States. And if he does nothing during his second term, something like 48,000 Americans will be killed with illegal guns.”

Gun rights advocates appeared reluctant to make their case against tougher gun laws while Connecticut families and the nation were still in the earliest stages of grieving. David Gregory, the host of “Meet the Press,” said NBC invited all 31 “pro-gun” senators to appear on Sunday’s show, and all 31 declined. All eight Republicans on the Senate Judiciary Committee were unavailable or unwilling to appear on CBS’s “Face the Nation,” host Bob Schieffer said.

Rep. Louie Gohmert, R-Texas, was the sole representative of gun rights activists on the various Sunday talk shows. In an interview on “Fox News Sunday,” Gohmert defended the sale of assault weapons and said that the principal at Sandy Hook Elementary School — who, authorities say, died trying to overtake the shooter — should herself have been armed.

“I wish to God she had had an M-4 in her office, locked up so when she heard gunfire, she pulls it out and she didn’t have to lunge heroically with nothing in her hands. But she takes him (the shooter) out, takes his head off before he can kill those precious kids,” Gohmert said.

Gohmert also argued that violence is lower in cities with lax gun laws, and higher in cities with stricter laws.

“The facts are that every time guns have been allowed — conceal-carry (gun laws) have been allowed — the crime rate has gone down,” Gohmert said.

Gun-control advocates say that isn’t true. A study by the California-based Law Center to Prevent Gun Violence determined that seven of the 10 states with the strongest gun laws — including Connecticut, Massachusetts and California — are also among the 10 states with the lowest gun-death rates.

“If you look at the states with the strongest gun laws in the country, they have some of the lowest gun-death rates, and some of the states with the weakest gun laws have some of the highest gun-death rates,” said Brian Malte of the Brady Campaign to Prevent Gun Violence.

Murphy spoke on ABC's "This Week"; Lieberman, Durbin and Gohmert spoke on "Fox News Sunday"; and Feinstein spoke on NBC's "Meet the Press."

Jews for the Preservation of the Federal Reserve

Real smart people, real smart. The Jewish people have the G-d given right to self-defense. The first step in self-defense is making damn sure our enemies don't have access to weapons. The greater American public are not our friends. They will gas all of us if we give them the chance.

It is appalling that Jewish leaders here in the U.S. are in favour of disarming law abiding citizens. That is all gun control laws do. They do not affect criminals nor crazies. There are 20,000 gun control laws already on the books, which they don't enforce, and still they want more laws. There is a serious logical disconnect going on. It is a crime to falsify an application to buy a gun in the U.S. ONE out of every 1,000 criminals caught lying gets arrested. Fewer go to jail. When a criminal gets charged, the FIRST thing they plea bargain down are the gun charges. There are approx 55 million gun owners in the U.S. and approx 300 million guns. When you eliminate suicides (which are not crimes, though the anti-gun crowd always includes suicides in their statistics), and criminals shot by police (Mayors Against Illegal Guns ... Bloomberg's group ... listed the Boston Marathon bomber who was shot and killed by police as a "victim" of gun violence) we are talking about a very small percentage who are truly victims. All gun control laws do is create more helpless victims. Considering, historically, what the Jews have endured by being disarmed and helpless, every Jewish politician who calls for more gun control laws, should be deeply, DEEPLY, ashamed ... and NEVER re-elected.

There is a disconnect and a lack of basic logic to expect that what you would like to happen will Happen. Prepare for the worst and then be surprised if the result is positive.

I'm always saddened to see Jewish people leading the call for gun control. Not only does it show a lack of understanding of history, it also shows a lack of understanding of the religion. Chabad.org did an excellent article on Gun Control, Judaism and the Torah. Every Jew who supports gun control should look at the Torah's perspective on it.

the times of israel conveniently leaves out the fact that jewish politicians in america are agents of the israeli govt and have been tasked with the job of committing a holocaust on american and world Jewry, israel controls jewish leaders in america and america controls israel and america uses israel to destroy world Jewry..this is why the israel didn't want Pollard to give them the names of israelis working for america because it would have implicated shimon peres ehud barak ehud olmert amram mitzna and other american spies in israel.

To those folks who ask, "Why does anyone need an assault rifle?" The best response is: If you have to ask the question, then you are too ignorant and intellectually incapable of understanding the answer. No, I don't mean my comment as an ad hominem attack.

To fully understand the meaning of the Second Amendment, one needs to read Federalist #29 and case summary of "Miller vs The United States 1939." Do some research and the question will answer itself. Please also remember; at the time our country was founded, "standing armies" were used MORE to control a country's subjects than to defend against foreign invaders. Our Constitution was conceived under the premise that "...Congress will maintain and Navy...and has the power to RAISE an army." Our founding fathers knew what they were doing then, and the concept is NOT obsolete now.

Aside from the specific details which prove that the term Assault weapon is meaningless, aside from the fact that, used properly, a handgun can be just as deadly as an AR-15 or AK 47, aside from the fact that ANY weapon is used for "assault" - the fact is, modern rifles happen to be the best platforms for shooting, the most commonly available, the most reliable and with the most options. Taking away our ability to have them simply to curtail insane and evil people is not the answer.

Liberal do nothing feel good laws demonstrate that the liberal is more afraid of the law abiding citizen carry a firearm legally concealed that with the criminal who is armed and intends to do harm.

It was the liberal laws that prohibited firearms from being carried by school staff or law abiding citizens that gave Adam Lanza and others in the past the ability to have a danger free environment in which to commit mass murder.

Law abiding citizens using legal firearms stop crime and protect the innocent 1.5 million-2.5 million times a year in the U.S. Yet, our mainstream media utters not a peep, because that would expose the liberal lie of firearms in the hands of law abiding citizens being as much of a threat as those in the hands of criminals. England banned gun ownership completely...100% and what happened? Gun violence went UP 300%! If Obama's leftist administration has their way in banning gun ownership, it will be no different than Germany under Hitler.

Someone who did said the mantra was just a made-up word, and they instead used "banana". One night they had a kundalini awakening.

This aligns with what I've read in many places. Just find a way to keep your inner monologue silent and your attention focused for prolonged periods of time, and you will experience all sorts of shit.

Personally, I've heard other people's thoughts for a whole morning. It took almost a week of autistically not doing much else (even at work), and I haven't done it again. But I know the secret now.

[12 / 2]The image is a digital illustration featuring a female character with a dark, gothic aesthetic. She has long, wavy red hair that cascades down her back, and her eyes are a striking shade of red. Her skin is pale, and she wears a black, form-fitting dress that contrasts with her red hair. The character is holding a staff with a crescent moon symbol on it, which is a common symbol in various mythologies. The background is a dark, textured gray, with a circular pattern that includes a pentagram and a crescent moon. The overall style of the image is reminiscent of fantasy art, with a focus on dark colors and intricate details. There is a signature at the bottom of the image that reads "Zachary Horner."

The image features a carved wooden figure of a female figure with bat-like wings, standing on a burlap surface. The figure is adorned with a headdress and has a serpentine body, with a flame-like tail. The figure is positioned in a dynamic pose with one arm extended forward and the other bent at the elbow, as if in motion. The background is softly blurred, with a candle and a decorative object that appears to be a tree or a circular design. The lighting in the image is warm, casting soft shadows and highlighting the texture of the wood. The overall style of the image is reminiscent of traditional or fantasy art, with a focus on the intricate details of the carved figure.

At first, if you're not familiar with her energy. Kind of bitch to crawl on your ceiling just to fuck with you, then have a good laugh about it.

>Is she nice?

Sometimes? She'll drop you a sentimental synchronicity and then fling a dish across the room if you let the incense burn out. Make sense?

>What is Lilith like?

She's an absolute fucking cunt but she'll ride for you if you ride for her.

Don't get sucked into pop-culture Lilith as the "succubus queen" or "feminist rebellion" bullshit.

Lilith guards the boundary of the void - she'll draw you into it but hold your hand and make sure you don't get utterly fucking annihilated if you follow her instructions.

She's the one you want to call on if you got some shit you need to burn. If you've been putting on a fake mask, smiling, letting people walk on you, giving up your power to make others feel comfortable - she'll make you rip and tear it all back from everything that ever tried to stop you.

In other words, anon.....

Lilith will turn you into a fucking asshole. But it will feel good if you've been a pussy.

[9 / 5]The image features a fantastical creature that appears to be a dragon, with a glowing blue body and wings. The creature is depicted in a three-dimensional style, with a sense of depth and realism. It has a long, slender neck and a pointed snout, and its eyes are glowing with a blue light. The creature's body is composed of a translucent blue material, giving it a glowing effect. The wings are also translucent, with a blue outline and a lighter blue interior. The creature is standing on a grid-like pattern, which is illuminated by a blue light, enhancing the overall effect. The background is dark and starry, with a gradient of blue tones that match the creature's glowing body. The image has a digital art aesthetic, with a focus on the creature's glowing features and the intricate details of its form. There are no texts or discernible brands in the image.

The image is a digital illustration that depicts a figure in the act of ascending into the sky. The figure is a woman with long, flowing white hair, wearing a blue robe with a white sash. She has a radiant smile and is surrounded by a halo of light, suggesting a divine or heavenly presence. The sky is filled with clouds and a bright, radiant light source, which could be interpreted as a sun or a celestial body. The clouds are depicted in various shades of blue and white, and there are white flowers scattered throughout the scene, adding to the ethereal atmosphere. The overall style of the image is realistic with a touch of fantasy, and it conveys a sense of peace and spirituality.

The image displays a simple black and white graphic with a circular shape. Within this circle, there is a stylized, cursive script that appears to be a name or a word. The letters are arranged in a way that suggests a flowing, flowing motion, with the "P" and "E" forming a looped shape, and the "R" and "Z" forming a curved line. The style of the image is reminiscent of calligraphy or graffiti, with the use of bold lines and curves to create a dynamic and expressive design. The background of the image is plain white, which contrasts with the black lines and text, making the design stand out. There are no additional elements or decorations in the image, and the focus is solely on the stylized text within the circle.

The image is a black and white illustration that depicts a chaotic urban scene. In the foreground, there is a large tree with a twisted trunk, and its roots are visible. The tree is surrounded by debris, including what appears to be a fallen building or structure.

In the background, there are several tall buildings with multiple levels, some of which are damaged and appear to be on fire. The buildings are surrounded by smoke and debris, suggesting a significant fire or explosion.

In the sky, there are several small, flying objects that resemble missiles or rockets.

These objects are scattered throughout the sky, with some appearing to be in flight and others on the ground.

The style of the image is reminiscent of manga or graphic novels, characterized by its detailed and dynamic lines that convey movement and action. The overall atmosphere of the image is one of destruction and chaos, with the destruction of the buildings and the debris suggesting a catastrophic event.

What do you think "not my will, but thine" means?

But slavery only exists in samsara. In the spiritual realm, removal of will is voluntary, done with joy - and called "love."

Like a mother is slave to child. Like a soldier is slave to country. Like one friend slaves for another.

This realm is a mirror image of the spiritual.

Here, serving others makes you lower.

There, serving others is the highest position.

Those who are last will be first.

The image shows a bronze statue of a woman and a child, both seated on a tree branch. The woman is depicted with a long, flowing robe and a headscarf, holding the child's hand. The child is wearing a traditional Native American outfit, with a headdress and a necklace. The statue is mounted on a circular base, and the background includes a grassy area with a lamppost and a building in the distance. The style of the image is a standard photograph with a focus on the statue, capturing the details of the sculpture and its surroundings. There is a watermark text at the bottom of the image that reads "© John Osterhout 2021," indicating the photographer and the year the photograph was taken. The lighting in the image is natural, with the statue casting shadows, suggesting a sunny day.

One of the most well documented cases of bilocations, mary of agreda aka the lady in blue visited many tribes with her astral body to peacefully preach, the natives then looked for priests and asked them to teach them about Christ and love and compassion etc because the lady in blue said that. To this day many native tribes sometimes kill newborn babies that have some deficiency because evil spirits tell them to, sad shit.

It does. Basically sin is the self-destructive turning of the soul away from God, the source of life, causing love to collapse inward, fragmenting the person and producing death until healed by divine communion.

>Each person is tempted when he is lured and enticed by his own desire. Then desire when it has conceived gives birth to sin, and sin when it is fully grown brings forth death.

Faith has nothing to do with spirituality. Faith literally means Trust in Greek and Latin.

The term Faith in English emerged in the mid-13th century, evolving from Anglo-French and Old French forms like feid and feit, ultimately tracing back to the Latin fidēs, which means trust, confidence or belief, to believe.

More generally, "faith" is confidence or trust in a person, thing, or concept.

Example: "I have faith in you, you got this, you can do it."

In the Roman world, faith was understood without particular association with gods or beliefs. Instead, it was understood as a paradoxical set of reciprocal ideas: Voluntary Will and Voluntary Restraint. In the sense of father over family or host over guest, whereby one party willfully surrenders to a party who could harm but chooses not to, thereby entrusting or confiding in them. Kind of like in the movie Django when Leonardo DiCaprio had Jamie Foxx and the other guy over for dinner and showed them the skull of the slave he used to own and cracked it in front of them. It was understood as the concept of not harming someone you could obviously harm (this was before the advent of firearms).

Example: "I trust you; I have faith in you."

Jesus is wearing a white garment with a golden cross on the chest, which is a traditional symbol of Christianity. The cross is a significant element in Christian iconography, representing the crucifixion of Jesus Christ.

Jesus is holding a small golden heart in his left hand, which is a common symbol in Christian iconography representing the love of God. The heart is small and golden, which is a common color choice for such symbols in Christian art.

The background of the painting is a dark, muted color, which contrasts with the bright colors of the halo and the golden elements of the figure. This contrast helps to draw attention to the figure and the symbols associated with it.

The painting style is realistic, with a focus on detail and shading to create a sense of depth and three-dimensionality. The artist has used a palette of warm colors, such as reds, golds, and browns, to create a sense of warmth and spirituality.

There are no visible texts or inscriptions in the image, and the style of the painting is reminiscent of the Renaissance period, which is known for its emphasis on realism and attention to detail. The painting is likely intended to convey a sense of reverence and devotion to Jesus Christ.

The character appears to be shouting or speaking, with a hand raised as if gesturing or commanding attention. The text above the character reads, "I DECIDE WHAT IS THE TRUTH! LISTEN TO ME! I ALONE CONTROL WHAT YOU CAN SAY & HEAR!!!" The character's expression is intense and commanding.

On the right panel, the same character is depicted with a different expression. This time, the character is shown with a more relaxed posture, with a hand resting on their hip and a slight smile. The text above the character reads, "LISTEN TO ME! ONLY TO ME! I ALONE CONTROL WHAT YOU CAN SAY & HEAR!!!" The character's expression is more casual and relaxed.

Both panels contain the same text, suggesting a theme of authority and control over one's own thoughts and actions. The style of the comic strip is reminiscent of political or religious propaganda, with a focus on the power of the individual to control their own beliefs and actions.

The image is a painting that depicts a scene of religious iconography. At the center of the composition, a figure in white robes is seen flying through the sky, with a halo around their head, suggesting a divine or heavenly presence. This figure is surrounded by a group of figures who appear to be in a state of awe or reverence, with their hands raised in a gesture that could be interpreted as prayer or praise. The figures are dressed in robes of various colors, including red, blue, and green, which contrast with the white of the central figure's robes.

The background of the painting is a landscape with a mountainous terrain and a clear blue sky, which adds to the sense of a divine or heavenly setting. The sky is filled with clouds, and the overall color palette is dominated by shades of blue, white, and brown, with the clouds rendered in a lighter blue and the sky in a darker blue.

The painting style is realistic with a focus on detail and texture, and it is executed in a style that is characteristic of the Baroque period, which is known for its dramatic use of light and color. The genre of the painting is religious, as it depicts a scene that is often associated with religious iconography, such as the crucifixion or the ascension of Jesus Christ.

The image is a text excerpt from a digital document or a text message. The text is written in a dark color, which contrasts with the lighter background, making it stand out. The text is in a language that appears to be English, and it is formatted in a way that suggests it is a conversation or a written piece.

The text discusses the concept of anti-Christian sentiments and the reasons behind them. It mentions that anti-Christian sentiments are often rooted in a belief system that they believe in, and they are not interested in sharing details about what they believe. The text also touches on the concept of modern-day anti-Jewish sentiment and how it is often used to confuse Christianity with a similar sentiment.

The text is written in a conversational tone, with phrases like "They never give you details about what they believe and" and "They never give you details about what they believe and" indicating a discussion between two individuals. The text also includes a reference to a passage from the Bible, specifically from the book of Matthew, which is a significant part of Christian theology.

The text is dense with information, and the use of quotes and references to specific passages from the Bible suggests that the text is discussing religious or theological topics. The overall tone of the text is serious and critical, as it addresses the complexities and nuances of religious beliefs and their impact on society.

It is a milder circumcision (in its effect of a mental/spiritual shock brought about by the physical shock of drowning/cold water/pomp and ceremony). Both of them do not do anything of themselves, spiritually speaking, but invariably produce a mental effect that leads to enslavement by Yahweh. I have seen it first hand with siblings, one baptised and one not, and the baptised one acted like a slave morality Christcuck despite professing ardent atheism, whereas the other acted naturally and was agnostic/open to ideas.

See picrel. It is really obvious with circumcision. Thousands of years yet scarcely one has been able to break the cycle of mutilation. Samsara moment.

[7 / 2]The image is a dark, stylized photograph featuring a silhouette of a person standing in a dimly lit room. The person's face is obscured by two large, glowing eyes that emit a bluish-white light. The person is wearing a dark, form-fitting garment that covers the upper body, and the silhouette is slightly blurred, giving the impression of motion or a fleeting presence. The room is dimly lit, with a soft, blueish hue, and there is a faint outline of a person's silhouette in the background, suggesting the presence of another individual. The overall mood of the image is eerie and mysterious. There are no discernible texts or other objects in the image.

also, do yall have real talmud verses showing the evil of the jews?

and yes i know there is more than just the talmud, theres mishnah, halakha, kabbalah, etc

"An adult man who engaged in intercourse with a minor girl less than three years old has done nothing, as intercourse with a girl less than three years old is tantamount to poking a finger into the eye. In the case of an eye, after a tear falls from it another tear forms to replace it. Similarly, the ruptured hymen of the girl younger than three is restored. And a young boy who engaged in intercourse with an adult woman renders her as one whose hymen was ruptured by wood."

The image is a text excerpt from a document or article, with a dark background and white text. The text is divided into three columns, each with a different heading and content.

The first column, titled "Yeah, people have gone that far with the law," begins with a statement that seems to be a rhetorical question. It then continues with a statement that suggests the author believes that people have gone to such lengths with the law, indicating a sense of skepticism or disbelief.

The second column, titled "Deaths ensued, illnesses gone out," begins with a statement that seems to be a statement of fact, stating that deaths and illnesses have occurred. It then continues with a statement that suggests that the author believes that the "old" version of the law never happened, implying a belief in a different or alternative version of the law.

The third column, titled "I never tried reality shifting using for myself but there are people who have and you could look up their stories," begins with a statement that suggests the author believes that people have used reality shifting to change their past, and it continues with a statement that suggests that the author believes that the "old" version of the law never happened, implying a belief in a different or alternative version of the law.

The text is written in a casual, conversational style, and the headings are bolded, which helps to distinguish the different sections of the text. The text is in English, and the style of the image is consistent with a document or article format.

This happened to me too. I spent several months in hospital when I was four. I always remembered it well. It was after the birth of my sister and just a few days after christmas, I barely had time to play with my new toys before I went and every time my mother visited me I asked her if my baby sister was already speaking or walking and stuff, I thought she was already growing up and I was sad not to be there. It was april or early may when at last I came home.

But now my medical papers and my mother say that I only stayed in hospital for barely one week, early december, long before christmas and before my sister was born...

I remember so many details that contradict it all.

I don't know what made me slide to a different reality. I wish I could learn to do it on purpose.

[2 / 1]The image depicts a celestial scene from space, showing a planet with a large, dark blue surface. The planet's surface is dotted with numerous small, scattered objects, which appear to be debris or small fragments. These objects are scattered across the planet's surface, with some appearing closer to the planet's equator and others more towards the poles.

In the upper left corner of the image, there is a bright, white light source that could be a star or a celestial body. The light source is positioned against the dark blue background of the planet, creating a contrast that highlights its presence.

The image is a digital rendering, and the style is realistic with a focus on the celestial body and the surrounding space. There are no visible texts or discernible brands within the image. The overall composition of the image suggests a sense of motion or chaos, as the debris appears to be in motion, possibly due to a recent event or impact.

I was playing some old school game and there were a lot of new stuff I never found out when I played in my childhood. I went to sleep.

I woke up, I was still living with my parents and had tattoos every where, in my head and even in my arm.

The bizarre part is that, the moment I saw the tattoos, I knew something was off. Its like I had my current knowledge but I was living another life.

I know it was a worse version, since I was still living with my parents (live by myself since I was 25) and had tattoos even in my head (I hate that shit).

Imagine being stuck in a worse life, having the knowledge of a better one...

I sometime have such dreams that look oddly real but happening in a variant of the past or a variant of today, where you have your current knowledge and stuff. I quite like it when it happens, but sometimes I feel weird.

I had one again this very night. There was a friend I had back in highschool and we were talking about our current computer and why we chose every part, and I described exactly the parts of my current computer and the reasons why I chose each, even the prices and the websites each part came from were correct. But it happened in a weird magical post apocalyptic world for some reason, and we were still studying though being adults. Also Helga Pataki was one of my classmates for some reason.

Some people think that dreams are overviews of parallel universes. I don't believe it because there are always details in mines that are too weird, like Helga in last night's dream.

The image displays a simple, black and white logo consisting of a circle with a diagonal line that bisects it. Inside the circle, there is a stylized letter "W" with a lowercase "l" to the right of it. The "l" is slightly larger than the "w" and is positioned to the right of the "w". The entire logo is outlined in black, giving it a clean and modern appearance. The simplicity of the design and the use of only two shapes (the circle and the diagonal line) suggest a minimalist aesthetic. There are no texts or additional elements within the

[15 / 2]The image displays a technical drawing of a Gothic cathedral, specifically focusing on the central part of the structure. The cathedral is depicted in three-dimensional perspective, with the central part of the building being the most detailed. The drawing is in a technical style, with lines and measurements indicating various architectural elements and dimensions.

The cathedral's facade is composed of multiple levels, each with its own architectural features. The central part of the building features a large rose window, which is a prominent feature of Gothic architecture. Surrounding the rose window are several smaller windows, each with its own unique design. The windows are arranged in a symmetrical pattern, with the rose window being the focal point.

The cathedral's spire is also visible, with a pointed top that is characteristic of Gothic architecture. The spire is supported by a series of slender columns, which are part of the cathedral's façade. These columns are connected by a series of arches, which are a common feature in Gothic architecture.

The drawing includes various measurements and annotations, such as "68.04", "68.30", "55.00", "46.41", "45.99", "45.18", "40.36", "35.86", "30.19", "22.86", "20.17", "17.88", "14.85A", and "14.85B". These annotations likely represent specific dimensions or measurements related to the cathedral's design.

The image is a digital rendering, likely created using a computer-aided design (CAD) software, which allows for the precise representation of architectural elements and their relative positions. The use of color and shading adds depth and realism to the drawing, enhancing the viewer's understanding of the cathedral's structure and design.

The background of the cover is a gradient of light to dark brown, transitioning from a lighter shade at the top to a darker shade at the bottom. On the left side of the cover, there is a depiction of two stone statues with a humanoid head, facing each other. The statues appear to be of a similar style, with one having a more detailed and ornate design and the other simpler.

At the bottom of the cover, there is a logo consisting of a green square with a white "S" inside it, and the text "TRANSLATED FAITHFULLY FROM THE 1926 EDITION, ILLUSTRATED WITH THE ORIGINAL DRAWINGS FROM JULIEN CHAMPAGNE" is written in smaller black font. The overall style of the image is formal and academic, with a focus on the text and the symbolic imagery of the statues.

Paper Money is the most diabolical /x/ human creation.

As opposed to gold, which is a natural earth resource, money is paper (dead trees).

As such, it is acquired through death, or life-taking forces.

It enslaves man, forcing man to betrayal oneself and his brothers. It controls man, dictating the life path and choices that steal freedom. It sucks up time and energy. It is given to pedos and corrupt psychopaths. And all while it's protected by the people under it's command through mind tricks.

Debt is a form of slavery. Man is the only animal on earth that pays rent.

The image is a black and white photograph featuring a close-up of a person's face, presumably Thomas Jefferson, who is known for his role as the third President of the United States. The person is wearing glasses and has a serious expression. The background is dark, which contrasts with the person's face and the text overlaying the image.

The text overlaying the image is a quote attributed to Thomas Jefferson, which reads: "Bank-paper must be suppressed, and the circulating medium must be restored to the nation to whom it belongs." The quote is in white text, which stands out against the dark background.

In the bottom right corner of the image, there is a small, circular logo with a white border and a black outline. The logo contains the text "P" and the name "Thomas Jefferson." The style of the image is informational and seems to be a still from a video or a presentation, given the formal and serious tone of the quote and the person's serious expression.

Money is a resource everyone needs to live. Money is also man made invention.

Because money is a man made invention this resource necessary for survival can only be sourced from one place. The only place money can be acquired from is other human beings.

Money is as necessary for our survival as food, or warmth, or water. But it is not possible to grow money like you grow food, or gather money like you would gather fire wood, or collect money like you would collect water from a stream or lake. You can only get money from another human.

Therefore in order to survive in society all humans must become predators who hunt for the money that other humans possess. The very concept of money turns us all into cabalistic monsters. It entirely eliminates the possibility of mutualism or cooperative growth. It divides and weakens the human race.

Money is inherently evil not just as a physical object, but as a conceptual idea.

Why do Nobel Peace prize winners languish in poverty where they are forced to sell their esteemed awards so they can buy food? Money isn't given to people based on their merits, and if you truly believe that in your heart, then you are a fool.

I should have said "needs to live within society"

You can live without money, but you must do so with complete self sufficiency and independence outside of "civil society" where the tax man cannot reach you.

Society has brainwashed everyone to believe that to live without money is to be uncivilized, just like an animal.

It is no wonder that the logic that flows into the minds of the rich is, those with more money are more civilized while poor are more like filthy animals. It's wrong and faulted logic, but truth and logic can be uncomfortable or inconvenient for some. I think the truth is closer to something like those who obsess over wealth are more like animals.

The image displays a round wall clock with a white face and black hour and minute hands. The clock has a red border and a red second hand. The numbers on the clock face are black, and the hands are red. The clock is set at 10:00, as indicated by the position of the hands. There are no visible texts or additional graphics on the clock face. The style of the image is a simple, clear representation of a clock without any additional context or embellishments.

Because society values the creator and owner over the ones who simply do what they are told for a wage.

>Why do Nobel Peace prize winners languish in poverty

Because society does not value intelligence without material application.

And I highly doubt this statement is the majority.

>Money isn't given to people based on their merits

I never said that. You create strawmen.

I said money is an abstraction of societal value.

If you think society's values directly correlate to a person's merits, you are a indeed a fool.

The image shows three bottles of a product with a blue and gold color scheme. The bottles are labeled with the brand name "ORMUS MANNA" and the product name "MONATOMIC GOLD." Each bottle has a dropper on top, indicating that the product is meant to be used orally. The bottles are arranged in a row, with the middle bottle being slightly taller than the other two. The background of the image is white, which contrasts with the blue and gold colors of the bottles. The text on the bottles is in a serif font, and the brand name is in a larger, bold font, while the product name is in a smaller, regular font. The overall style of the image is clean and professional, likely intended for a product advertisement or catalog.

No, not just paper. Anything imbued with the power of "money" or legalized debt, is diabolical.

Gold wasn't originally for money either. It was electricity and used by the Egyptians as a medicine/food, a life extending panacea for the elites. These were the original reasons they hoarded it.

Money is the root of all evil. No matter what it's made of.

Just because your bearded bitch boy karl said "money is a commodity", doesn't make it a "resource" on the same level as valuable subsistence that takes human time and effort to extract: water oil metal etc. Money nowadays is simply printed from nothing. What would you rather, 1 million billion Trillion Zimbabwe dollars which buys you whatever the zimbabwean industry produces and values in their currency, or a Ferrari that you can drive in right now?

Regarding words I think it's important to use agreed upon definitions in order to convey a meaning. Otherwise what's the point of using words if we are just going to change the meaning? E.g. money = resource, NO NIGGA

Eh, it was a progressive force that was necessary to get through the painful period of social gestation that was capitalism. Now we are on the cusp of automating vast portions of society.

This will be the end of capitalism & the emergence of an entirely new, currently-unnamed future system of economic organization that blends pre-industrial revolution market economics with elements of the primordial "big man" debt & gift economy that once defined human existence before agriculture became stable enough to support early currency systems. Socialism in some form or another will be the transitional period where money will - either gradually or very quickly - lose relevance as many needs & wants are met more quickly & effectively, thus reducing cost & increasing accessibility. This is inevitable barring a catastrophic event(s) that pushes everything backwards socially, technologically, & even ethically.

So money is losing its meaning & utility but it would be foolish to assume it was "evil" & needless. Is a hammer evil? Is a calculator? One can use the hammer to murder, one can use the calculator to project the quickest routes for trains to take to the concentration camp. Money is merely a conceptual means of storing potential energy - people hoard it for the same reason one hoards guns, or books, or seeds. It is power - a paper power mind you, but it still has a real effect on people that was necessary in a time & place when most had little education or conceptual understanding of anything that wasn't immediately relevant to their personal survival.

Now, everyone has a library in their hands; the knowledge is freely available. The ideas can reach everyone in one way or another - soon all will be enlightened to the reality that money is obsolete. The irony of "digital currency" is that it will only accelerate this process rather than slow it.

" If all bank loans were paid, no one would have a bank deposit, and there would not be a dollar of currency or coin in circulation.

This is a staggering thought. We are completely dependent on the commercial banks. Someone has to borrow every dollar we have in circulation, cash or credit. If the banks create ample synthetic money, we are prosperous; if not, we starve. We are absolutely without a permanent monetary system.

When one gets a complete grasp upon this picture, the tragic absurdity of our helpless position is almost incredible—but there it is."

The image is a cover of a book titled "DEBT" by David Graeber. The cover is predominantly red with white text. The title is prominently displayed in large white letters at the top of the cover. Below the title, there is a subtitle in smaller white text that reads "The First 5,000 Years." The author's name, "DAVID GRAEBER," is written in white capital letters at the bottom of the cover.

In the center of the cover, there is a black and white image of a ball and chain, which is a visual metaphor often used to represent debt. The ball and chain are depicted in a way that suggests they are being held by a person, possibly symbolizing the concept of debt bondage.

The cover also includes a quote from Rebecca Solnit, the author of "A Paradise Built in Hell," which is written in white text and is located at the bottom of the cover. The quote reads, "A brilliant, deeply original political vision."

The overall style of the image is simple and straightforward, with a focus on the title and the central image of the ball and chain. The use of red and white creates a strong contrast, making the text and the image stand out. The cover does not contain any other discernible text or graphics.

The top photograph shows a silver coin with the inscription "2 Mark" and the date "1933" on the left side. The middle photograph features a German banknote with the text "Deutsche Reichsbank" and the date "1933" on the left side. The bottom photograph shows a German banknote with the text "Deutsche Reichsbank" and the date "1933" on the left side.

The text in the image provides a historical context for each image. The top photograph explains that Hitler created a new monetary system for the Germans, called the Labor System, which was based on the principle of punishment of death. The middle photograph details the creation of a new German mark, which was backed by the German Reichsbank. The bottom photograph explains that the German Reichsbank was a bank that was part of the Nazi regime's financial system, and it was responsible for controlling the economy.

The text is written in German, and the style of the image is informational, likely intended to educate or inform viewers about the historical context of the Nazi regime's economic policies.

Or you know, if the debt were called in, it would be swapped out for money. We already saw that this isn't inflationary, since central banks around the world did just this, calling it Quantitative Easing, and it changed nothing. Public debt is only dangerous if it's issued "below" the level of the currency-issuing power, as in the Eurozone.

Negligible chance. Any net profit is, by definition, inextinguishable debt outside the company. Resonate on that artifact of debt-based, zero-sum game systems.

Ethical trading is an absolute. Not that all trading is ethical, but that it absolutely can be — if you spend the proceeds in an ethical manner.

All price action is programmatically delivered. You trade against Empire, not other traders. If you win, the corporation you traded with loses — nobody else.

It is legalized Robin Hood, if you will.

It is also a fool's errand for almost all — unless you LEARN the language of the Algo to wreck both sides of the market. A man has learned that language and teaches for free... to master demo. Says the Lord God.

"If he begets a son who is a robber
Or a shedder of blood,
Who does any of these things
And does none of those duties,
But has eaten on the mountains
Or defiled his neighbor's wife;
If he has oppressed the poor and needy,
Robbed by violence,
Not restored the pledge,
Lifted his eyes to the idols,
Or committed abomination;
If he has exacted usury
Or taken increase—
Shall he then live?
He shall not live!
If he has done any of these abominations,
He shall surely die;
His blood shall be upon him.

The image is a screenshot of a webpage with a predominantly red and white color scheme. At the top of the page, there is a navigation bar with links to different sections of the website. The main content of the page is a large block of text in black and white, which is titled "Money Is on Idea" and has a subtitle "Money may be Represented by: Notes, Bills, Certifications, Receipts, Commodities, Coins, Book Entries, The Representation can be one of Substance or Debt." Below this title, there are several bullet points with explanations in black text on a white background. The text is in a mix of English and what appears to be a non-English script.

At the bottom of the page, there is a URL in a smaller font size, which reads "http://board.aol.com/j/head/33739909". The overall style of the image suggests it is a screenshot from a web page, possibly from a discussion forum or a blog post, given the content and layout.

(((State Capitalism))) is designed to destroy states and bring forth so much debt and government agency that "the workers of the world unite" and demand International Socialism.

Commie's "2-stage revolution theory" is done through (((Keynesian))) economics model:

- > turn money into fiat debt-currency
- > increase government spending/debt
- > government control of major industry
- > government encourages people to spend, spend, spend
- > government provides jobs
- > eventually leads to global world crises and the States end

The image displays a collection of text-based articles or blog posts, each with a distinct layout and content. The articles are arranged in a grid format, with each article occupying a column and a row. The columns are labeled with numbers, and the rows are labeled with the title of the article. The articles are written in English and cover a variety of topics, including politics, technology, and social issues.

The visual clues that support this statement include the text content, which is written in a standard font and appears to be in English. The layout of the articles suggests a structured and organized approach to presenting information. The use of columns and rows indicates a structured approach to presenting content, which is common in academic or informational articles.

The images accompanying the text are not clearly legible due to the resolution and angle of the image. However, they appear to be illustrations or photographs, which are common in articles to provide visual context or support the written content.

The overall style of the image is informational and academic, typical of a blog or article section from a publication or website. The use of headings and subheadings, along with the structured layout, suggests a focus on providing a structured and organized approach to presenting information.

JFC Its all scam

forgive the ai

1. Banks create new money out of nothing when they make loans.
2. You're left with debt; the bank gets your IOU as an asset that earns interest.
3. The system works only if you SPEND the new money quickly, passing the bank's IOU to others.
4. It seems unfair because the bank risks nothing and gains interest, while you owe real future work.
5. But the law and government say this is how money is made—so the contract is legal and you must repay.

The whole economy is a game of "hot potato" with bank-created IOUs.

We all treat them as money, so the game keeps going.

If everyone stopped trusting that the bank's IOU was "real money," the system would collapse.

TLDR: MONEY IS LEGAL FRAUD

>This doesn't make sense because you cannot be both a creditor and debtor for the same principal. It would cancel itself out, it is faulty logic.

>Your insight is key: In a fractional reserve banking system, to receive a loan is to become both a debtor and, briefly, a creditor of the same bank. The monetary system is a web of interlocking debts and credits.

>Modern banking is not a common-law free-for-all. It operates under specific statutory frameworks (like the Bank Charter Acts, the Federal Reserve Act, etc.). These laws explicitly grant banks the privilege to create deposit money through fractional reserve lending. What looks like a "trick" is, in fact, a state-sanctioned and regulated monetary function. The "misrepresentation" is built into the legal definition of banking.

>This doesn't make sense because you cannot be both a creditor and debtor for the same principal. It would cancel itself out, it is faulty logic.

Anonymous Sat 03 Jan 2026 22:57:21 No.41756897 Report

Excellent question. You've recognized the nature of the game: value flows to holders of real assets and away from holders of pure monetary debt. The "optimal strategy" is to play a different game entirely—to convert the system's paper claims into real, non-replicable value before the music stops.

w t f

Stop thinking of money (bank deposits, bonds, cash) as "wealth." Start thinking of it as "trading tokens" or "tickets." Your goal is to exchange these depreciating tickets for things that cannot be created by a bank keystroke.

Real Wealth vs. "Vapor" Wealth:

Vapor Wealth: Cash in the bank, government bonds, most cryptocurrencies (unless they solve a real problem), any pure financial IOU.

Real Wealth: Productive land, fresh water, energy sources, critical minerals, intellectual property, specialized skills, loyal communities, and your own health.

Your mission: Trade vapor for real.

Best of luck anons.

which are the "hard" part

you quite simply need a good regimen and build/amass a good amount of gung then you need to open the laogung points and the associated yin channels then you can express energy properly

then its as simple as expressing it and telling it to heal the course suggests all sickness comes from the mind and to teach/heal/perform miracles is to demonstrate right thinkingness. Jesus commanded, take up your bed and walk, with such simple conviction that the man promptly remembered himself as a son of God, forgot his debilitating sickness, and walked away. Does that make sense?

Ultimately, healing doesn't work if you believe in sickness/weakness and that we are beholden to outside forces. You heal by sharing your conviction that the sick are merely fragments of God larping as victims, and that it's time to stop. That conviction is what the course sets out to imbue in you. It's well worth a try.

The light source is positioned towards the center of the image and is casting a long, narrow beam of light that extends diagonally across the sky. The sky itself is a deep blue, and there are no visible clouds or other objects in the immediate vicinity of the light source. The photograph is taken from a low angle, which emphasizes the size and brightness of the light source. There are no visible texts or discernible brands in the image. The style of the image is realistic, with a focus on capturing the natural phenomenon of the light source in the sky.

I've been back and forth with this and I do think it will happen at some point. It has to happen if you think about it. The elites are being more and more exposed as people are slowly waking up to the enormous amount of lies that we've been told. The west is collapsing in power. Eventually, there will be a rebellion and people will refuse to be a tax slave or refuse to fight some dumb war.

Blue beam is what I think their final stand, their last attempt, to keep their control and usher in a new religion to hold the control even longer. The NPCs and sheep will think they got full disclosure when in fact just told another great lie. Especially if these rumored weapons that can make you hear things in your head and whatnot are real, then we're in for some real trouble.

We are in a time crunch though because of AI so it's just a matter of enough people have had it with all the lies before we merge into AI. Not only do people need to be fed up but we also have to be brave and do something about the state of the world. I'm just amazed at the time we are living in and all witnessing right now...

The image is a composite of two separate photographs. The top photograph shows a cat sitting on a white surface, with a red circle highlighting the cat's head. The cat appears to be looking directly at the camera. The bottom photograph is a close-up of a sphinx statue, which is a famous Egyptian monument. The sphinx is depicted in a desert landscape, with a clear blue sky in the background. The text "Cringe LARPper" is overlaid on the image, suggesting that the cat is the subject of a humorous or exaggerated meme. The style of the image is a blend of real-life and fictional elements, with the cat's presence in the top photograph contrasting with the sphinx's iconic representation in the bottom photograph.

[32 / 5]The image is a nighttime photograph showing a bright light source in the sky, which appears to be a meteor or a similar celestial object. The light source is positioned towards the center of the image and is casting a long, narrow beam of light that extends diagonally across the sky. The sky itself is a deep blue, and there are no visible clouds or other objects in the immediate vicinity of the light source. The photograph is taken from a low angle, which emphasizes the size and brightness of the light source. There are no visible texts or discernible brands in the image. The style of the image is realistic, with a focus on capturing the natural phenomenon of the light source in the sky.

The image is a cartoon illustration of a young girl with a cheerful expression. She has brown hair tied in two pigtails, each adorned with a red bow. Her eyes are closed, and her mouth is open in a wide smile. She is wearing a red dress with gold trim, which is cinched at the waist with a gold belt. The girl is also wearing blue shoes with a gold buckle. The background is plain white, emphasizing the girl's colorful attire. There are no texts or additional elements in the image. The style of the illustration is simple and cartoon-like, with a focus on the girl's joyful expression.

I know someone who saw Blue Beam in person, it was developed at Fort Devens, and the plan was to project a giant image of Jesus Christ into the sky with a hologram in order to scare the Iraqis during Gulf War 1. Story goes that one of the engineers tried to steal it or something, and it never got used.

It is probably in a lockup somewhere or dismantled, please stop claiming every strange light in the night sky is related back to a program which has probably been mothballed for 30 years.

I've been back and forth with this and I do think it will happen at some point. It has to happen if you think about it. The elites are being more and more exposed as people are slowly waking up to the enormous amount of lies that we've been told. The west is collapsing in power. Eventually, there will be a rebellion and people will refuse to be a tax slave or refuse to fight some dumb war.

Blue beam is what I think their final stand, their last attempt, to keep their control and usher in a new religion to hold the control even longer. The NPCs and sheep will think they got full disclosure when in fact just told another great lie. Especially if these rumored weapons that can make you hear things in your head and whatnot are real, then we're in for some real trouble.

We are in a time crunch though because of AI so it's just a matter of enough people have had it with all the lies before we merge into AI. Not only do people need to be fed up but we also have to be brave and do something about the state of the world. I'm just amazed at the time we are living in and all witnessing right now...

The image is a cartoon-style illustration with a white background. At the top, there is a large, cartoonish depiction of a space shuttle with a blue and white color scheme. The shuttle has a face with a smiling mouth and a pair of eyes. Below the shuttle, there is a text that reads "OBERATION BLUE BENIS" in bold, capitalized letters. To the right of the shuttle, there is a speech bubble with the text "BEEP BEEP" inside it, and to the left of the shuttle, there is another speech bubble with the text "XDDD" inside it. Below the shuttle, there is a depiction of a person's face with a surprised expression, and the person is wearing glasses. The person's mouth is open as if they are shouting or exclaiming. The overall style of the image is humorous and exaggerated, with a focus on the space shuttle and the text.

An attempt at control. The cattle that don't care, don't matter. What they want is control of the minds they can't control. Those are scary. Those can be lethal. What they failed to realise, is that the mind itself is an illusion. This can be even more terrifying, because it means that what they thought was thought, was just instinct. Cold logic.

When it starts, don't say nobody warned you

2026 is almost here. When the chaos begins, don't say you weren't warned. Everyone will be screaming and going crazy and asking, "Why weren't we warned?! Why weren't we warned?!"

Here's your warning, a full outline of the material:

<https://www.reddit.com/r/conspiracy/comments/1pkem8y/>

All of the info is free and easily accessible. Again, don't say you weren't warned.

I have one simple question: Have you read the primer and TimeDiff or not? It doesn't even take 15 minutes. In my pinned X thread, click on the Reddit link and then go from there. Please answer with "Yes" or "No."

Note: The primer and TimeDiff (two Reddit posts) serve as the foundation for understanding the material. Without reading them, the info about the eventual destruction of Bozrah and other related topics won't make much sense.

This planet is Bozrah, not Earth. Here's a full outline of the material. [TLDR now included]

Firstly, here's the entry point:

<https://www.reddit.com/r/conspiracy/comments/1m0ytpq/>

Don't be fooled by the lack of media attention surrounding this material; I've already proven that this planet is Bozrah, not Earth. This isn't a debate. Below, I'll outline exactly what the material is, and then it's up to you to explore it or not. Everything is explained once you read and watch all of the material. There are no loose ends and no contradictions.

In total, here's exactly what you need to do:

Read the entry-point post.

Read my pinned X thread.

In my pinned X thread, click the Reddit link.

Read the primer, TimeDiff, and then the rebuttal.

Read Dr. Finley's 2006 essay.

Watch the 61-minute Miss Amy playlist.

Read PUTTING IT ALL TOGETHER.

Read the 19 notes.

And finally, watch the One Harmony video (see Note 13).

And by the way, when I input the entire body of evidence into AIs like Grok and ChatGPT, their consistent conclusion is that the existence of Bozrah has been proven beyond a reasonable doubt—exactly the same standard used in a court of law. And to be clear, all of the evidence that I provide isn't for me (I already know this isn't Earth, and I've known that since August 2019). The evidence is for you, in order to shatter the illusion before it's too late.

This isn't speculation, and it's not a theory. It's an established fact—proven, documented, and undeniable.

TLDR:

This planet is Bozrah, not Earth. What's more, you should be warning people about the upcoming "day of vengeance" here on Bozrah. Keep in mind, the 1,000-year Millennial Kingdom will take place on Earth, not on Bozrah. This planet will be destroyed (and Jesus will be the destroyer). It has no future.

From the entry-point post:

And don't be deceived by the fact that the masses aren't talking about this info. In actuality, this info is the most important thing on the planet right now—by far. Nothing else even comes close.

Also from the entry-point post:

And while I absolutely hate date-setting, if I were forced to give a window for when the day of vengeance will begin, I would say any time between September 1, 2026, and March 15, 2027. Note: This window is based on all of the available evidence, biblical and otherwise. Basically, the day of vengeance is supposed to be "well underway" by the time a deep freeze hits North America. Make of that what you will.

I have made my way thru some of the YouTube but not all

Back in 1989 I had a very strange futuristic type dream that showed civilizations collapsing and they were separating men and women and making women go into these make shift tents where they were all being artificially inseminated to create a new beige race that was neither white nor black nor brown nor asian, but a combination of all. When I realized I broke away and was severely beaten and finally ran away. But then there was an angel pointing to what looked like an animal stable and in the stall I was directed to. was a simple white garment that looked like a wedding dress. And I didn't want to put it on because I was beaten and bloodied but the angel said it was made for me a cloak of light so I could be wed to some of Spirit. Then I woke up and thought that was an extremely vivid bizarre dream. Odd because I was pregnant w my first child.

Later in 1999 I had a dream that started where the one in 1989 left off and I was pregnant now and was getting ready to give birth. Some type of Indian holy man was running through the streets saying a white elephant is coming. I later learned that meant a holy child.

Then in 2002 I dreamed I was in a house and a man appeared who looked kind of like he was from Roman times but was carrying a futuristic weapon or something that he was pointing at me and said he was sending me somewhere to learn and wait. I begged him not to but as he touched the instrument to me we were both flying like birds without flapping our arms thru space and suddenly I saw below me a planet that looked like exactly like earth but it wasn't earth. As we flew closer all the people below were dressed in grayish khaki ensembles and I asked him why are they marching in ordered groups. Then we flew back to earth and I awoke and thought Jesus Christ. What in the world was that.

Then that night at 10pm I died had to be brought back to life. From the time I came back to life I immediately told my husband my body didn't feel the same, nothing seemed the same. I kept asking him if I was actually dead or in a coma. The world seemed literally opposite of before. My husband looked the same but wasn't the same and although he didn't understand what happened anymore than I did, he also said I was not the same person. Before my eyes were blue but now green. Before all the foods I loved I could no longer eat and all the foods I hated I now craved. It felt like opposite world to me. My kids looked the same but somehow didn't seem the same didn't have the same interests. And a lot of other stuff But my mind immediately went back to the dream telling me I was being sent to another planet that looked like earth. Every day since 2002 I have felt like a person alone on a different world where nothing is the same as it was before. I went thru a lot of stuff trying to figure out what happened. Anyone who knew me well before knew immediately that I wasn't the same person even without me telling them. They even started calling me new because those were my initials and they said I was the new me. I went to many places of Healthcare professionals also, places that test paranormal things and was ruled to be 100% sane with circumstances that defy explanation.

So when I read this post it definitely piqued my interest because of it talking about people being sent to another planet that looks like earth. Somehow the dreams I had from 1989 and 1999 are linked but im not sure how. They were more vivid than most days in my life or I wouldn't still be able to recall them after so many years. Everyday I still think maybe im in a coma and someone is going to wake me up and then the last 23 yrs will make sense to me.

Regarding Christianity and the truth, read this thread (post 3 of 4 below):

The bottom line is that my claim was already established and cemented prior to July 2020. In other words, I'm saying that you should take the Bible seriously BECAUSE of my claim, not the other way around.

Attention: At least one rapture has already occurred!
You are here: truth-now.info

At least one rapture has already occurred. This planet is, in fact, the place that some people from Earth (such as myself) were raptured to. We weren't "taken to Heaven." We were brought here instead. We're now on a real, physical, 3D planet that is definitely NOT Earth.

For one, the speed of time here is 50 percent faster than it is on Earth! In other words, a 10-second count—using the Earth counting pace—results in a whopping 15.00 seconds elapsing. And visually, when I look at a digital clock that has a seconds display, the seconds advance at a supernaturally fast rate. It truly looks insane (to me). Heck, one could say, with complete and total honesty, that it looks downright comical or even cartoonish. For the natives, though, the speed of time here has always been the same (and thus, the clocks here seem 100 percent, completely normal to them). And in case you haven't done the math yet, a day on this planet is only 16 Earth hours long (i.e., one-third of an Earth day is missing).

Note: In addition to the time difference, the human anatomy here is also considerably different from Earth's, but you can read more about that later, when you get to the main material. And keep in mind, given that the clocks run much faster here, the bodies are built accordingly. But also keep this in mind: The Bible, as far as I know, doesn't talk about any of the anatomical differences between the two planets, whereas the time difference is mentioned not once, but twice (Matthew 24:22 and Revelation 8:12).

Bottom line: This planet is Bozrah, not Earth. Moreover, the event in which Jesus destroys this planet is called "the day of vengeance." There will be no 7-year Tribulation or Antichrist here—because this isn't Earth. Earth is roughly 75,000 light-years from here (and is currently going through the Tribulation). This is merely an impostor planet, a physical replica designed to serve two purposes: (1) a containment realm for a particular bloodline (namely, the Edomites), and (2) a temporary sanctuary for select individuals (namely, the elect or "remnant of Israel") who were raptured from Earth prior to the start of the Tribulation.

By the way, the thing that I'm referring to as "Bozrah" is not a symbolic concept. It's not an eschatological metaphor. It's not an allegorical parable. It's the physical, corporeal planet you're currently residing on. And unless you confront that fact head-on, you'll remain in total darkness—fully deceived by the illusion. So, in regard to our current location, let me be crystal clear: This planet was never Earth, and it never will be.

Make sure to read my pinned X thread (all four posts). And regarding my X bio, I'm exactly who I say I am. Bozrah natives must break free from the spell they've been under and humbly accept the truth, setting aside pride, stubbornness, willful ignorance, and fashionable cynicism; this entire situation has gotten so ridiculous that, at this point, I'm just calmly waiting for the day of vengeance (rather than continuing to bend over backwards for those with hardened ears). And while I absolutely hate date-setting, if I were forced to give a window for when the day of vengeance will begin, I would say any time between September 1, 2026, and March 15, 2027. Note: This window is based on all of the available evidence, biblical and otherwise. Basically, the day of vengeance is supposed to be "well underway" by the time a deep freeze hits North America. Make of that what you will.

Pinned X thread:

<https://x.com/elitefeat/status/1742924942151438589>

This isn't BS. It's not a delusion. And I'm certainly not LARPing.

Simply put, God is the one who designed this setup. And now, Earth's elect are here on Bozrah and—by virtue of being here—are able to bear witness. Do not take this revelation lightly, as though it were a mundane, ho-hum story on your local evening news. In fact, get the idea that this is some sort of joke or falsehood out of your head. I mean, let's face it, you're being tested at this very moment, and you definitely don't want God to declare that you're in the same "category" or group as Noah's contemporaries (because, obviously, such a declaration would really, really suck for you when Jesus arrives here for the day of vengeance). Instead, be like Noah. Heed the monumental warning (and whatever you do, do not blow it off).

I'll say it again: Be counted with Noah, not with the foolish naysayers—who will face a kind of regret that I won't even begin to unpack here. Note: After reading this post and my pinned X thread, you'll eventually need to read the main Reddit material (i.e., the primer, TimeDiff, the rebuttal, etc.). And don't be deceived by the fact that the masses aren't talking about this info. In actuality, this info is the most important thing on the planet right now—by far. Nothing else even comes close.

Regarding the Edomites:

In the Bible, the Edomites are the descendants of Esau—the twin brother of "Jacob" (who later became "Israel"). The two bloodlines (the Edomites and the Israelites) share a common origin but represent two opposing destinies. In prophecy, the Edomites are linked to Bozrah—the place that Jesus personally invades and destroys in the end times, during the day of vengeance (Isaiah 34 and 63:1-6). But that's where things get wild, because this planet is Bozrah! In fact, go read Micah 2:12 (KJV) right now. And yes, for this particular verse, it has to be the King James Version. And by the way, the logic that I'm using here is extremely simple and involves the process of elimination: Given only two possibilities—Earth or Bozrah—this planet isn't Earth; therefore, it must be Bozrah. Period. End of story. There's no mysterious "Planet 3" that we need to worry about.

So, when I say "the Edomites," I'm referring to a lineage that was placed here intentionally as part of a prophetic setup. For example: Genesis 27:39 (KJ21) states, "Behold, thy dwelling shall be of the fatness of the earth, and of the dew of heaven from above." That's when Isaac, Esau's father, gifted him Bozrah as his future dwelling. Likewise, in regard to the Edomites, Obadiah 1:4 (ESV) casually states, "... though your nest is set among the stars, from there I will bring you down, declares the Lord." That's a direct reference to the upcoming day of vengeance here on Bozrah.

But enough about the Edomites. It's time to dive into the full picture. My pinned X thread summarizes the material, so start there—it's the best place to begin.

This place you call Earth is a soul farm. We're trapped in a reincarnation loop, kept here by false light entities. The "tunnel of light" at death? A soul trap. The Archons (ancient parasitic entities) control the reincarnation system. True freedom comes from breaking contracts, seeing through illusion, and refusing to return. Some say this realm is run by a demiurge, a false god who created matter to trap divine souls.

No it is not, I just counted 1, one thousand, 2, one thousand... all the way to 10 while running a stop watch without looking and real time count was 12s on the stop watch vs 10 one thousands, meaning that's close enough, our internal counting is not precise enough to be accurate

Attention: At least one rapture has already occurred!

You are here: truth-now.info

At least one rapture has already occurred. This planet is, in fact, the place that some people from Earth (such as myself) were raptured to. We weren't "taken to Heaven." We were brought here instead. We're now on a real, physical, 3D planet that is definitely NOT Earth.

For one, the speed of time here is 50 percent faster than it is on Earth! In other words, a 10-second count—using the Earth counting pace—results in a whopping 15.00 seconds elapsing. And visually, when I look at a digital clock that has a seconds display, the seconds advance at a supernaturally fast rate. It truly looks insane (to me). Heck, one could say, with complete and total honesty, that it looks downright comical or even cartoonish. For the natives, though, the speed of time here has always been the same (and thus, the clocks here seem 100 percent, completely normal to them). And in case you haven't done the math yet, a day on this planet is only 16 Earth hours long (i.e., one-third of an Earth day is missing).

Note: In addition to the time difference, the human anatomy here is also considerably different from Earth's, but you can read more about that later, when you get to the main material. And keep in mind, given that the clocks run much faster here, the bodies are built accordingly. But also keep this in mind: The Bible, as far as I know, doesn't talk about any of the anatomical differences between the two planets, whereas the time difference is mentioned not once, but twice (Matthew 24:22 and Revelation 8:12).

Bottom line: This planet is Bozrah, not Earth. Moreover, the event in which Jesus destroys this planet is called "the day of vengeance." There will be no 7-year Tribulation or Antichrist here—because this isn't Earth. Earth is roughly 75,000 light-years from here (and is currently going through the Tribulation). This is merely an impostor planet, a physical replica designed to serve two purposes: (1) a containment realm for a particular bloodline (namely, the Edomites), and (2) a temporary sanctuary for select individuals (namely, the elect or "remnant of Israel") who were raptured from Earth prior to the start of the Tribulation.

By the way, the thing that I'm referring to as "Bozrah" is not a symbolic concept. It's not an eschatological metaphor. It's not an allegorical parable. It's the physical, corporeal planet you're currently residing on. And unless you confront that fact head-on, you'll remain in total darkness—fully deceived by the illusion. So, in regard to our current location, let me be crystal clear: This planet was never Earth, and it never will be.

Make sure to read my pinned X thread (all four posts). And regarding my X bio, I'm exactly who I say I am. Bozrah natives must break free from the spell they've been under and humbly accept the truth, setting aside pride, stubbornness, willful ignorance, and fashionable cynicism; this entire situation has gotten so ridiculous that, at this point, I'm just calmly waiting for the day of vengeance (rather than continuing to bend over backwards for those with hardened ears). And while I absolutely hate date-setting, if I were forced to give a window for when the day of vengeance will begin, I would say any time between September 1, 2026, and March 15, 2027. Note: This window is based on all of the available evidence, biblical and otherwise. Basically, the day of vengeance is supposed to be "well underway" by the time a deep freeze hits North America. Make of that what you will.

Pinned X thread:

<https://x.com/elitefeat/status/1742924942151438589>

or

This isn't BS. It's not a delusion. And I'm certainly not LARPing.

Simply put, God is the one who designed this setup. And now, Earth's elect are here on Bozrah and—by virtue of being here—are able to bear witness. Do not take this revelation lightly, as though it were a mundane, ho-hum story on your local evening news. In fact, get the idea that this is some sort of joke or falsehood out of your head. I mean, let's face it, you're being tested at this very moment, and you definitely don't want God to declare that you're in the same "category" or group as Noah's contemporaries (because, obviously, such a declaration would really, really suck for you when Jesus arrives here for the day of vengeance). Instead, be like Noah. Heed the monumental warning (and whatever you do, do not blow it off).

I'll say it again: Be counted with Noah, not with the foolish naysayers—who will face a kind of regret that I won't even begin to unpack here. Note: After reading this post and my pinned X thread, you'll eventually need to read the main Reddit material (i.e., the primer, TimeDiff, the rebuttal, etc.). And don't be deceived by the fact that the masses aren't talking about this info. In actuality, this info is the most important thing on the planet right now—by far. Nothing else even comes close.

Regarding the Edomites:

In the Bible, the Edomites are the descendants of Esau—the twin brother of "Jacob" (who later became "Israel"). The two bloodlines (the Edomites and the Israelites) share a common origin but represent two opposing destinies. In prophecy, the Edomites are linked to Bozrah—the place that Jesus personally invades and destroys in the end times, during the day of vengeance (Isaiah 34 and 63:1-6). But that's where things get wild, because this planet is Bozrah! In fact, go read Micah 2:12 (KJV) right now. And yes, for this particular verse, it has to be the King James Version. And by the way, the logic that I'm using here is extremely simple and involves the process of elimination: Given only two possibilities—Earth or Bozrah—this planet isn't Earth; therefore, it must be Bozrah. Period. End of story. There's no mysterious "Planet 3" that we need to worry about.

So, when I say "the Edomites," I'm referring to a lineage that was placed here intentionally as part of a prophetic setup. For example: Genesis 27:39 (KJ21) states, "Behold, thy dwelling shall be of the fatness of the earth, and of the dew of heaven from above." That's when Isaac, Esau's father, gifted him Bozrah as his future dwelling. Likewise, in regard to the Edomites, Obadiah 1:4 (ESV) casually states, "... though your nest is set among the stars, from there I will bring you down, declares the Lord." That's a direct reference to the upcoming day of vengeance here on Bozrah.

But enough about the Edomites. It's time to dive into the full picture. My pinned X thread summarizes the material, so start there—it's the best place to begin.

This place you call Earth is a soul farm. We're trapped in a reincarnation loop, kept here by false light entities. The "tunnel of light" at death? A soul trap. The Archons (ancient parasitic entities) control the reincarnation system. True freedom comes from breaking contracts, seeing through illusion, and refusing to return. Some say this realm is run by a demiurge, a false god who created matter to trap divine souls.

The bottom line is that my claim was already established and cemented prior to July 2020. In other words, I'm saying that you should take the Bible seriously BECAUSE of my claim, not the other way around. Read this post:

Are you not aware of what's coming? God is about to CLOSE UP SHOP on this planet, and it could happen any day now. See Notes 1, 13, 14, 18, and 19 at the bottom of this Reddit post:

https://reddit.com/r/Retconned/comments/u2c2o1/revelation_812_time_is_50_faster_no_w/

And before you read the synopsis below, let me say this: I think the "Bozrah" framework is the ONLY valid framework in Christian eschatology. At first, it may seem beyond absurd and even non-biblical. Upon closer examination, though, you'll realize it's the real deal and 100% biblical.

Synopsis:

The Second Coming of Jesus will occur on Earth. First of all, the planet that we're currently on is Bozrah, not Earth (Bozrah is basically a replica version of Earth). Secondly, people who have lived here their entire lives need to realize that this planet was never Earth, and it never will be. It's an impostor planet.

Bozrah is the sanctuary planet that God's elect are sent to so that they're not on Earth when the Antichrist is in power. However, instead of having to deal with the Antichrist, Bozrah will have to deal with Jesus when he comes here for the day of vengeance (which could happen any day now). After 1.5 years of this "day" of vengeance, this planet will be destroyed and the elect will be going back to Earth with Jesus. Some Bozrah natives will be going to Earth as well.

Revelation 8:12 - Time is 50% faster now

You are here:

812info.com

Russia-Ukraine could be the start of WW3. One prophecy (Revelation 8:12) has ALREADY been fulfilled:

https://twitter.com/812_dot_news/status/1462252104630906885

When you get to the TimeDiff page, read the quote from the 1997 newsletter. If part A (Revelation 8:12) has already been fulfilled, then what does that tell you about part B (the battle of Armageddon)?

After you've read the material:

Below is a rebuttal to the naysayers. If you haven't already done so, please visit Rev812.com and then read the primer and TimeDiff (they can be read in under 15 minutes) before continuing.

REBUTTAL

Before going any further, make sure you have read the primer and TimeDiff. This is your final warning.

When something hits too close to home, people suddenly become very dismissive about it. They love to ridicule the messenger and they believe that groupthink can automatically override the messenger. The bottom line is that Dale DuFay and I really did perfect the counting-to-10 cadence on Sagittarius Earth, so we know for a 100% FACT that this is a different planet. Furthermore, our claim about the time difference was so "good" that it ended up perfectly aligning with someone else's interpretation of Revelation 8:12. And everyone reading this should know why they perfectly aligned. You know it wasn't simply dumb luck. Please stop fooling yourself and deal with reality.

Time cannot magically get 50% faster unless you start off on one planet and then go to another planet. In other words, it could never be the case that you stayed on the initial planet and then one day, all of a sudden, time became 50% faster there. What's more, skeptics of the Mandela Effect will eventually come to this sobering conclusion: The two paces (i.e., the speaking pace that is used in order to count to 10 in 15.00 seconds, which is "Pace A" below, and the speaking pace that is used in order to count to 10 in 10.00 seconds, which is "Pace B" below) are too dissimilar to be confused with one another. And thus, the following scenario is NOT reasonably possible (that is to say, all other things being equal, such a discrepancy between perception and reality is impossible): Person X is absolutely certain that he has used Pace A dozens, if not hundreds, of times in his life for the purpose of counting to 10 in 10.00 seconds; then one day, he discovers (in astonishment) that he was actually using Pace B all those times he counted to 10. To understand how absurd this scenario is, firstly, take into consideration that the two paces are completely different from one another, secondly, take into consideration that, over the years, Person X has become somewhat of an expert at counting to 10 (with the ability to get within 0.50 seconds of 10.00 seconds on most practice counts), and thirdly, take into consideration that Person X has no recollection (i.e., ZERO MEMORY) of ever using Pace B in his entire life. Note: Please do not react to this information by engaging in any sort of mental gymnastics, and please do not try to gaslight Person X (hypothetically speaking, of course). Instead, now would be a good time to read the first two sentences of this paragraph again.

Bear in mind, in this rebuttal, I've only been talking about the time difference (as opposed to also talking about where my heart used to beat, who used to be on the dime, how human skulls used to look like, et cetera). In July 2019, I felt my heart beating at the center of my chest for the first time in my life (prior to July 2019, my heart was located on the left side of my chest), and this incident occurred before I knew anatomical changes were a component of the Mandela Effect. As you can see, when it comes to examining this phenomenon, context is paramount. And as a skeptic of this material, you'll eventually reach a point where your counterargument is no longer reasonable because it involves too many coincidences.

In regard to people saying that my claim about the time difference is based on the Bible: By mid-August of 2019, I had already made the claim that this planet is a replica version of the real Earth (my claim was based on things such as the changes in human anatomy and the two additional occupants in the JFK car). It wasn't until the following month (September 2019) that I found out about FDR being on the dime instead of Eisenhower. And then in mid-September, I found out about the time difference. And then 10 months after that (on July 19th, 2020), I discovered Revelation 8:12. So, no, my claim about the time difference is not "based on the Bible."

In conclusion, I made the claim (with 100% certainty) about days being 16 hours long without even knowing about the existence of Revelation 8:12. In other words, what I experienced and documented in 2019 proves that the Bible is, indeed, true. Ultimately, one's worldview should be based on that which actually exists and that which is actually true. I would hazard a guess that your current worldview is based, however, on long-standing falsehoods that seem very, very, very reasonable. Keep in mind, a long-standing falsehood that seems very, very, very reasonable is still a falsehood nonetheless. Frankly, I think it's high time you re-examined your own beliefs. So, let me ask you this: All these years, where exactly have you been getting your knowledge from?

Here are some questions for Christians, namely Catholics, Eastern Orthodox Christians, Protestants, and Mormons: Will you foolishly decide to ignore all of this information? If you had been around when Noah was building the Ark, would you have been Team Noah (i.e., a supporter of Noah's mission) or would you have been Team Ignorant Masses (i.e., a member of the worldly-minded, ignorant masses)? Are you currently a member of the worldly-minded, ignorant masses? Are you sure about your answer to the previous question? Before today, how did you think the end times would play out? Is God obligated to make your version of the end times come to fruition? At the end of the day, when all is said and done, does your version of the end times have any basis in reality? Which one is more important, that which is actually true in regard to the end times or your version of the end times? Do you plan on telling your family the truth about Revelation 8:12? Why is everyone (i.e., the mainstream media, the "alternative" media—a.k.a. the mainstream media part II, all governments, all think tanks, all universities, and all churches) too scared to talk about this information? In terms of media coverage, don't you find it rather odd that this information has NEVER had its "day in court" (unlike, say, the Flat Earth theory or the QAnon belief system)? Why are you pro-life but not pro-truth? And finally, is there a chance that being anti-truth could bar you from entering Heaven (keep in mind what Jesus said regarding the truth)? I could go on (trust me), but I will stop right here.

And just to prove a point, I said all of this without even mentioning the Hidden Hand dialogue.

Here is a 2006 essay by Dr. Gavin Finley:

PUTTING IT ALL TOGETHER

Micah, Matthew, and Revelation:

Micah 2:12 (KJV) tells us that God will gather the remnant of Israel (i.e., the elect) and then put them together in one place. "Bozrah" is mentioned.

Matthew 24:22 (KJV) tells us that during the Great Tribulation, the days will be shortened for the elect's sake. Thus, one way or another, the elect will experience shorter days during the Great Tribulation. Note: In the Bible, we are never told that the Great Tribulation will take place only on Earth. And by now, you should realize that this all boils down to the two sentences of the rebuttal (above) that deal with the concept of time becoming 50% faster via "magic." So, please go read those two sentences once again.

Now, think! How can the days be shortened (that is, time magically get faster) for the elect without an interplanetary transfer taking place? Remember, if you stay on the initial planet (in this case, Earth), then there is no way that time will suddenly get faster for you. Simply put, your days will NOT be shortened! But, lo and behold, we know from Micah 2:12 that God had already planned on transferring the elect to a special location (that is, from Earth to Bozrah). So, basically, if Micah 2:12 did not exist, Matthew 24:22 would read, "Those days shall not be shortened for the elect's sake because, well, the elect will still be on Earth. Sorry, folks. Nothing to see here. Better luck next time."

To make this crystal clear: We have a verse from the Old Testament (Micah 2:12) that talks about the eventual transfer of God's elect to "Bozrah," and then we have a verse from the New Testament (Matthew 24:22) that talks about shortened days (i.e., time getting faster) for God's elect during the Great Tribulation. And no, it's not a coincidence. It means that Earth is one planet and Bozrah is another planet, and if you travel from Earth to Bozrah, your days will be shortened because time is faster on Bozrah. Last but not least, Revelation 8:12 (below) gives us the key detail that Matthew 24:22 omits.

Revelation 8:12 (KJV) tells us that the days will be shortened by exactly eight hours. Never forget: In 2019, I was able to discover the eight-hour difference WITHOUT the help of Revelation 8:12. I had already perfected the counting-to-10 cadence on Earth (i.e., the real Earth), so when I counted to 10 on this planet (i.e., Bozrah), exactly 15.00 seconds elapsed. That is to say, there was a five-second difference, which amounts to an eight-hour difference for each 24-hour cycle on Bozrah.

Regarding the actual transfer of the elect from Earth to Bozrah, the Bible does not give us an explicit description of how it is accomplished. Instead, we are given an extremely vague, symbolic description. In Revelation 12:14 (KJV), we are told that a woman is given "two wings of a great eagle" and that she uses them to "fly into the wilderness," arriving at a place that was "prepared for her" (Revelation 12:14, EXB). The length of time that she is nourished at her new location and "out of the serpent's reach" (Revelation 12:14, NIV) is identical to the length of the Great Tribulation. And that is, of course, 3.5 years. However, when considering the events described in Revelation 12:6 (NIV) alongside Revelation 12:14, the total duration of the woman's absence from Earth equates to seven years—that is, seven Earth years or 10.5 Bozrah years—the full span of the Tribulation. In other words, her time of safety at the place located in "the wilderness" is not limited to the latter half of the Tribulation (i.e., the Great Tribulation). Rather, it encompasses the entire Tribulation period.

Please note the following:

Note 1 – Before Jesus goes to Earth for the Second Coming, he will first come here

(that is, to Bozrah) and slaughter many, many people during his "day" (that is, year) of vengeance (Jeremiah 49:22, NABRE → Jeremiah 49:22, VOICE → Jeremiah 49:22, KJ21 → Jeremiah 49:22, ERV → Isaiah 63:1, EASY → Isaiah 63:1-6, NIV → Isaiah 63:4, NRSVUE → Isaiah 63:4, CEV → Isaiah 63:4, NIRV → Isaiah 63:4, CSB → Isaiah 34:8, CSB → Isaiah 34:8, NIRV → Isaiah 34:8, KJV → Isaiah 34:8, GW → Isaiah 34, ERV → Isaiah 34, ESV). Based on Isaiah 34, we can conclude that Bozrah will be turned into some sort of hellscape. As for the elect, they will not be left stranded on this planet. According to Micah 2:13 (AMP) and Matthew 24:29-31 (AMP), the elect will accompany Jesus back to Earth. For more info regarding the day of vengeance, see Notes 5, 10, 13, 14, and 19.

Note 2 – Yes, I am aware that "Lilith" is mentioned in some versions of Isaiah 34:14, such as Isaiah 34:14 (VOICE) and Isaiah 34:14 (NRSVA). Based on the information in this video (especially at the 2:05 mark), one could easily surmise that Eve is the matriarch of Earth and Lilith is the matriarch of Bozrah, but I digress.

Note 3 – Can you imagine all the people who have died and thought they had spent their entire lives on Earth, when in fact they had been living on an impostor planet the whole time?

Note 4 – No true Christian would ever refer to this planet as "Earth." Doing so would be EXTREMELY heretical. This planet was never Earth, and it never will be.

Note 5 – Bozrah is an Edomite planet (furthermore, in ancient times, the city of Bozrah was the capital of the Kingdom of Edom), Esau was the father of the Edomites, Isaac was the father of Esau (and Esau's twin brother, Jacob—who, by the way, was renamed "Israel" by God and was the father of the Israelites), and, well, there's this: "And Esau said unto his father, 'Hast thou but one blessing, my father? Bless me, even me also, O my father!' And Esau lifted up his voice and wept. And Isaac his father answered and said unto him, 'Behold, thy dwelling shall be of the fatness of the earth, and of the dew of heaven from above. And by thy sword shalt thou live, and shalt serve thy brother; and it shall come to pass when thou shalt have the dominion, that thou shalt break his yoke from off thy neck'" (Genesis 27:38-40, KJ21). For a clearer understanding of Genesis 27:39-40, see my custom translation. So, what exactly is going on here? Twin brothers? Check. Twin planets? Check. Heck, even in our own bodies, this "twinning" theme is evident—just look at the eyes and lungs, for example. I guess creating things in twins or pairs is simply God's modus operandi. Go figure. What's more, in regard to the Edomites, Obadiah 1:4 (ESV) casually states, "... though your nest is set among the stars, from there I will bring you down, declares the Lord." Um, yikes.

Note 6 – While Revelation 8:12 (KJV) describes the eight-hour time difference that the elect will experience on Bozrah, Revelation 8:13 (KJV) quickly shifts the focus back to Earth, warning those who were not taken to Bozrah about the final three trumpets. The key phrase in Revelation 8:13 is "the inhabitants of the earth." The angel deliberately uses this specific phrase instead of a more generic term like "everyone," "all of you," "mankind," or even "the people of the earth." The choice of "inhabitants" is significant, as it specifically refers to people who are CURRENTLY living on the planet, as opposed to either those who were born on Earth but are not there at the moment (such as the elect who were taken to Bozrah), or the people of Bozrah themselves. And just to be clear, in a perfect world, Revelation 8:13 would have begun like this: "And I beheld, and heard an angel flying back to Earth from Bozrah through the Milky Way Galaxy." But unfortunately, in our not-so-perfect reality, all we ended up getting was this: "And I beheld, and heard an angel flying through the midst of heaven."

Note 7 – In addition to all the Bible verses I've already mentioned, Matthew 24:24 (VOICE) is yet another verse that proves that, during the Great Tribulation, the elect are on Bozrah, not Earth (in fact, it comes just two verses after Matthew 24:22, KJV—a verse which hints at the eight-hour time difference that the elect will experience on Bozrah). This distinction between the two planets is crucial because on Earth, the elect would be exposed to the "great signs and wonders" (Matthew 24:24, KJV) of the false Christs and false prophets, and thus they could potentially be (and according to the Bible, would actually be) deceived by them. In other words, on Earth, their chances of being deceived would be anything from non-zero to 100 percent. However, the verse clearly states, "If it were possible, they would even deceive God's elect." Similarly, the RGT version states, "... if it were possible, they would deceive the very Elect." And finally, the TLB version states, "... if it were possible, even God's chosen ones would be deceived." This implies that while, in theory, the elect would definitely be deceived if they just so happened to be residing on Earth, the actual deception of the elect by these Earth-bound tricksters is not only unlikely, but literally impossible! Therefore, the elect's safety on Bozrah (with them being far away from earthly deceptions and earthly calamities, such as the final three trumpets) is an undeniable fact. No, it is not possible for them to be deceived by Earth's false Christs and false prophets in their place of sanctuary, Bozrah. And speaking of impossibilities, no one ever said that interpreting the Bible correctly is impossible. You simply needed a member of the elect to come along and show you how it's done. {Adjusts imaginary bowtie}

Note 8 – Daniel 11:41 (KJV) is yet another verse that proves that Bozrah is a separate planet from Earth. It reveals that during the end times, Edom (i.e., Bozrah) will be beyond the reach of the Antichrist. The verse intriguingly mentions "Moab" and "the chief of the children of Ammon" alongside Edom. Given their historical connections—both cultural and geographical—to ancient Edom, it can be assumed that their descendants also reside on Bozrah with the modern-day Edomites. This intertwining of the ancient tribes' destinies, as suggested by the verse, aligns with the broader narrative of a collective migration or shift from Earth to this separate planetary realm. As an aside, for those of you demanding that there be tons of details in Bible prophecies, I'm not quite sure what to tell you. For example, in regard to this verse, were you expecting the subsequent verse, Daniel 11:42 (KJV), to explicitly state, "Oh, and by the way, the remnant of Israel will also escape out of his hand because, you know, they'll also be on the planet of New Edom—that is, Bozrah—due to the fact that God promised to put them together there, as stated in Micah 2:12"? I mean, come on.

Note 9 – The existence of Bozrah as a distinct planet—and, in particular, an Edomite stronghold—casts the following Bible verse in a whole new light: "Our fight is not against people on earth. We are fighting against the rulers and authorities and the powers of this world's darkness. We are fighting against the spiritual powers of evil in the heavenly places" (Ephesians 6:12, ERV). While traditionally interpreted as pertaining to spiritual warfare only, this verse may also have broader, perhaps even cosmic, implications when viewed in the context of Bozrah's existence. For example, based on the wording of the verse, one theoretical possibility would be some sort of "morality competition" that exists between the people of Earth and the people of Bozrah, unbeknownst to the participants. Again, it's merely an example. Don't crucify me.

Note 10 – At this point, what exactly is your counterargument? Do you even have one? Keep in mind that trying to gaslight me about my ability to count to 10 seconds is not a counterargument. In fact, out of all the "Mandela Effect changes," the time difference is, BY FAR, the easiest one for me to detect. I don't even consider detecting the time difference to be a challenge. Never forget this: I'm not in the same boat as you. If I want to get "completely freaked out" by directly witnessing the supernatural, I don't need to wait for Jesus to show up on the day of vengeance (or go hunting for rougarous in Louisiana and successfully spot one, like Roy Stubblefield famously claims). Rather, all I have to do is look at a functioning digital clock that has a seconds display. And let me also say this: Never, ever trust an "uninitiated" Bozrah native to accurately explain the end times. I mean, you want to inform others about the end times, but you don't even know what planet you're on? To be honest, that is beyond comical, and people like that should no longer be taken seriously. Generally speaking, the one blind spot that humans have is planetary awareness (i.e., knowing what planet you're residing on). But at the end of the day, whether you like it or not, planetary awareness is fundamental to our very existence. If you plan on surviving the day of vengeance and making your way to Earth, see Note 14 below and also keep the following in mind: "My people are destroyed from lack of knowledge" (Hosea 4:6, CEB). How can one simultaneously call oneself a "Christian" and lack planetary awareness? That's completely absurd.

Note 11 – Here's my post about Capricorn One.

Note 12 – In contemplating the vast and complex nature of the revelations presented in this post, I was struck by a thought that, while initially speculative, seemed worth considering. Here it is: Could the insights and interpretations offered here, in their totality, be seen as the fulfillment of Revelation 10:7? I certainly think so. The verse states, "But in the days of the voice of the seventh angel, when he shall begin to sound, the mystery of God should be finished, as he hath declared to his servants the prophets" (Revelation 10:7, KJV). Well, first of all, given that the sounding of the seventh trumpet pertains only to Earth and not to Bozrah, we can reasonably assume it has "begun to sound" there (especially when taking into account the length of time the elect have been away from Earth on Bozrah). Furthermore, since timing is obviously important when it comes to prophecies, in regard to the question, "On what date was this prophecy actually fulfilled?" my best guess would be December 7, 2023. Thus, versions of this post prior to that date should not be considered as having fulfilled the prophecy. And by the way, please take note of the Bible's shrewdness: Revelation 10:7 seamlessly intertwines events that take place on two separate planets! For Earth, it marks the beginning of the sounding of the seventh trumpet, while for Bozrah, it marks the unveiling of God's mystery (via this Reddit post). This dual fulfillment across celestial bodies showcases the Bible's multifaceted approach and the interconnectedness of its prophetic messages. Lastly, here is Revelation 10:5-7 (GNV): "And the Angel which I saw stand upon the sea, and upon the earth, lift up his hand to heaven, And swear by him that liveth for evermore, which created heaven, and the things that therein are, and the earth, and the things that therein are, and the sea, and the things that therein are, that time should be no more. But in the days of the voice of the seventh Angel, when he shall begin to blow the trumpet, even the mystery of God shall be finished, as he hath declared to his servants the Prophets."

Note 13 – If you're trying to determine when Jesus will arrive on Bozrah for the day of vengeance (and you've taken into account the above info regarding Revelation 12:6 and Revelation 12:14), then this Mandela Effect video from One Harmony will definitely help! Moreover, when doing your calculations, don't forget to factor in the length of Jesus's stay on Bozrah. There is no escaping the fact that this number crunching is kind of messy, but I'll try my best to lay it all out here. So, the day of vengeance will last for either 1.5 Bozrah years or 1 Bozrah year (depending on whether the "day" is 1 Earth year or 1 Bozrah year). Thus, the final calculation will be either 10.5 minus 1.5 or 10.5 minus 1 (i.e., the elect's total time away from Earth minus the length of the day of vengeance). That comes out to either 9 Bozrah years or 9.5 Bozrah years, respectively (this number, which is extremely important, gives you the length of time between the elect's arrival on Bozrah and the start of the day of vengeance). If you're going by Earth time for the length of the day of vengeance (in other words, if you're assuming that it will be 1 Earth year instead of 1 Bozrah year), another way to do the calculation is to start with 7 Earth years (for the elect's time away from Earth), then subtract 1 year for the day of vengeance, which results in a total of 6 Earth years. And then, multiply 6 by 1.5 (for Bozrah time), and you get 9 Bozrah years. Finally, you have to decide when the "clock" started. For example: Assuming that the day of vengeance lasts for 1.5 Bozrah years (and thus, there are 9 Bozrah years between the elect's arrival and the start of the day of vengeance) and that the elect first arrived in, say, February 2015, then that means the day of vengeance would start in February 2024 and end in August 2025 (delightful, I know). After which, the events of Isaiah 63:1-6 (NIV) would take place, back on Earth:

"Who is this coming from Edom, from Bozrah, with his garments stained crimson?" (Isaiah 63:1, NIV). As an aside, may I ask: At what point does someone finally give up on the single-planet narrative? As I demonstrate below, in Note 15, the "One Earth, no Bozrah" worldview isn't even logical.

Note 14 – The possibility of some Bozrah natives hitching a ride to Earth with Jesus and the elect is indeed high. On the one hand, Matthew 24:29-31 (AMP) mentions only Jesus and the elect in regard to The Glorious Return: "And at that time the sign of the Son of Man [coming in His glory] will appear in the sky, and then all the tribes of the earth [and especially Israel] will mourn [regretting their rebellion and rejection of the Messiah], and they will see the Son of Man coming on the clouds of heaven with power and great glory [in brilliance and splendor]. And He will send His angels with a loud trumpet and they will gather together His elect (God's chosen ones) from the four winds, from one end of the heavens to the other" (Matthew 24:30-31, AMP). However, Isaiah 56:8 offers a broader perspective. Isaiah 56:8 (EHV) states, "This is the declaration of God the Lord, who gathers Israel's dispersed people: 'I will gather still more people to my house besides the ones already gathered.'" And similarly, Isaiah 56:8 (AMP) states, "The Lord God, who gathers the dispersed of Israel, declares: 'I will gather yet others to them (Israel), to those [already] gathered.'"

Note 15 – Here's another revelation for you all: The notion of God's elect and the Antichrist residing on the same planet, while the Antichrist is in power, is not only preposterous, but actually a logical fallacy. Why has it taken so long for people to understand this SIMPLE concept? Clearly, during the reign of the Antichrist, if he's on Earth (i.e., Planet A), then there has to be some sort of sanctuary planet—that is, a Planet B—where the elect are temporarily placed. I think you know what "Planet B" is. And hopefully, by now, you understand the "Planet A" reference as well (wink-wink, nudge-nudge). Yeah, God truly is smarter than your average bear. Oh, wait. Let me try that again: Yeah, God truly is smarter than your Average Bear. So, anyway, now you know why this planet is not called "New Edom" or something like that. And if you're still confused about Bozrah's status as a "sanctuary" planet, see this comment (note that the original question was deleted by the user).

Note 16 – Thankfully, there will be no "Millennial Kingdom" on this counterfeit, Edomite planet. It would have lasted for 1,000 Bozrah years, but only 666.67 Earth years. And given Yahweh's well-documented contempt for the Edomites, there's a very good chance the kingdom would've been ruled by Esau himself or some other Edomite leader—in other words, someone who is not Jesus. "Here is wisdom. Let the person who has enough insight calculate the number of the beast, for it is the [imperfect] number of a man; and his number is six hundred and sixty-six" (Revelation 13:18, AMP). So, now you know. And just to be clear, yes, Revelation 13:18—like I myself just did above—is mocking the notion of a millennial kingdom ever existing on Bozrah. Furthermore, the reason for the mockery becomes quite evident once Isaiah 34 (ESV) and Isaiah 63:1-6 (NIV) are taken into consideration. Now, keep in mind: In order to capture the inauthenticity and fraudulent nature of a 666-year "millennial" kingdom that doesn't even involve Jesus, ideally, one could say that 666 is an "Edomite number," a "worldly number," or "mankind's number" (as opposed to it being a "divine number" or "heavenly number," such as 1,000—the number of Earth years in a proper millennium). Well, lo and behold, we actually get quite close to that verbiage in some versions of Revelation 13:18. Unlike most versions of the verse, which state that 666 is either "the number of a man" or "the number of a person," the GW, MSG, and RSV versions state that 666 is "a human number," while the LEB and NET versions state that it is "man's number." In addition, the ISV version states that it is "a human multitude" (which, in this context, basically means, "a big, human-related number"). And finally, even a footnote in the NIV version acknowledges that "humanity's number" could possibly be the correct translation for the phrase "the number of a man." The bottom line is this: Compared to the actual Millennial Kingdom—a 1,000-year reign of Christ on Earth that will be defined by its peace and righteousness—the Bozrah version would be a human-led, 666-year nightmare.

Note 17 – Bozrah's Book of Revelation math (a quick deep dive): First, consider Revelation 8:12 (KJV), which informs us about the Bozrah time difference. On Bozrah, days are 16 Earth hours long—one-third of an Earth day is missing, while two-thirds of an Earth day remains. Next, consider Revelation 13:18 (AMP), which mentions, "... the [imperfect] number of a man; ..." This refers to either 666 itself or an "imperfect" (that is, non-"whole number") version of 666. Lastly, Revelation 20 (ERV) speaks of Jesus's Millennial Kingdom. It will exist on Earth (not on Bozrah) and last for 1,000 Earth years. And thus, two-thirds of 1,000 Earth years equals 666.67 Earth years—in other words, a Bozrah millennium. Revelation 13:18 (AMP) aptly states, "Here is wisdom. Let the person who has enough insight calculate the number of the beast, for it is the [imperfect] number of a man; and his number is six hundred and sixty-six."

Note 18 – Picture a world masquerading as Earth; a cosmic doppelgänger. In this hypothetical world, time ticks differently, the human anatomy is vastly different, and it is governed by a tribe that is destined for an apocalyptic downfall. Moreover, envision this hypothetical world as also being a celestial sanctuary—a refuge for God's elect—that is isolated from the chaos of the Antichrist's reign. This sanctuary planet, while seemingly decent, is not the alpha planet. It's not the alpha dog. It's not the top dog. It's not the main setup. It's not the primary locale. It's not Earth Prime. It's the other planet, the other setup, the other locale, the other Earth! Have you ever pondered the existence of such an unusual place? Have you ever contemplated how such a planet fits into the cosmic chess moves of a deity who is playing a game far beyond the common man's understanding? If such thoughts seem far-fetched or even nonsensical, then brace yourself for a revelation akin to discovering you're on an island when you thought you were on the mainland: As you read this, you're not just imagining that other version of Earth—you're also living on it.

Note 19 – During the Great Tribulation, either you're on Earth and the Antichrist is wreaking havoc (and God's elect are not present), or you're on Bozrah and there is no Antichrist (and God's elect are present). Can you guess which planet you're on? Remember, Scripture states, "And except those days should be shortened, there should no flesh be saved: but for the elect's sake those days shall be shortened" (Matthew 24:22, KJV). Well, by now, you already know all about the "eight-hour time difference" (that is, the existence of 16-hour days instead of 24-hour days due to this planet's time being 50% faster than it should be), so I will stop right here ... or maybe not. There's actually one crucial piece of logic that may have escaped your mind's eye. It is this: If the people who are experiencing shortened days are not experiencing or witnessing ANY events of the Tribulation (whether we're talking about events from the first 3.5 years or the latter 3.5 years), then those people cannot possibly be residing on Earth. They are, by default, residing on some other planet (i.e., a sanctuary planet or "Planet B"). And if you step back for a moment and think about it, it absolutely makes sense that they're residing on another planet, considering the fact that their days have been, you know, SHORTENED. Also, it goes without saying that the sanctuary arrangement is temporary. After all, it's not as if the Tribulation period is some sort of "blank check." It doesn't last for multiple decades or anything like that. So now, we await the day of vengeance. But here's the question: Even though thousands of years have elapsed, will you and others still make the same mistake as the common man in the days of Noah? We shall see. One can only hope that this time around, it will be attentiveness, circumspection, and wisdom that dominate the human psyche, rather than thoughtlessness, disregard, and mindless inconsideration.

I have two questions.

First, since we have the ability to keep time with crystals and atoms- which are accurate to the 24 hours that we know the day/planet rotation is, why would we try to compare a faulty human counting mechanism to prove something about time?

Second, I'm confused about the movement from Sag.E to Ori.E. was that a 3rd Dm move? If so, do you have a memory of the divine as promised? Because we're all supposed to, right? Or was the move something else?

That's actually very impressive. Nevertheless, Revelation 8:12 got the time difference EXACTLY right.

Thank you for sharing the Hadith, though. It adds another powerful layer to the end-times picture.

I thought it was symbolic not literally. Like the acceleration of time is not a literal change in the speed of time but rather a heightened awareness of the brevity of life and the urgency of living righteously. The concept of time speeding up is usually (I thought) linked to the idea of the end times, where world events and tribulations will happen in quick succession.

Dear u/Linea-Dow. Nice to meet you. This is the first time for me to post my comment on Reddit (I've almost never/seldom posted my comment on this sort of website) However, I strongly wanted to leave this comment for some reason. First, thank you very much for your huge efforts and time spent on giving us very insightful, eye-opening and spiritually-enlightening information over years. Your information has been definitely helpful for my spiritual journey here on Earth/Bozrah :)

To make long story short (trying not to steal your precious time), I've recently found that the web page via the link you kindly provided for "Here is a 2006 essay by Dr. Gavin Finley: The Bozrah Exile" seemed to be removed with the message shown "404 Page Error. You have reached a page that is not available. Please select a page from the menu above." I thought that this might be temporarily inaccessible. So, I checked "Bozrah" on the website, but no article was returned. Then, I searched it online and found the page "THE BOZRAH EXILE", which might be probably the same page previously found via the link you kindly provided. However, I further found that the address of the website was "<https://old.endtimepilgrim.org/bozexile.htm>" (old.endtime...), while the original link was "<https://endtimepilgrim.org/bozexile.htm>" (404 Page Error now). This might not matter at all, actually (just a change on their administration). However, would you have any thoughts or idea on it (the change)? (e.g. implying something significant?) I'm just in case letting you know for your reference, too :)

That's all :) Thank you very much once again to help our spiritual journey.

Have a nice day and great Spring season 😊

Wow, thanks for letting me know. It looks like they simply updated their website within the past month.

The only issue now is updating my post with the new link. Apparently, since my post is over three years old, whenever I edit it, it automatically gets removed by Reddit's filters (and then the Retconned mods need to restore it). So, I'll be updating my post right now with the new link, but it may be inaccessible for several hours.

Obviously, most people think that this planet is Earth, but it's not. It's actually Bozrah, God's secondary creation. And in terms of human civilization, it has no future.

Introduction

Welcome to the r/conspiracy FAQ page!

The moderation team is continuously working hard to make sure this sub is everything it can be.

We do not censor here, unless posts directly break the rules. It's okay to debate and to play devil's advocate, but there is a point at which this becomes abuse and crosses the line between honest debate and just outright malicious feelings towards those who investigate conspiracies. We understand that not everyone feels the way we do. It's perfectly normal to doubt us and challenge us. We are used to that.

Rules

1 - Bigoted slurs are not tolerated.

Please do not abuse this forum of free speech to promote hatred.

2 - Address the argument; not the user, the mods, or the sub.

Rule 2 is in effect everywhere on the sub except [Meta] threads (see more below), and the AutoMod sticky comment at the top of each thread.

Here are a few examples of what this rule prohibits:

Labeling other users something they would not call themselves: Calling someone a shill, troll, liar, libtard, cuck, idiot, etc. is not an argument. If you think someone is lying or shilling, point out why their argument is wrong.

Making any statements about the sub as a whole: E.g. "this is T_D 2.0", "this is r/politics 2.0", "this sub is compromised", etc. This is a forum to discuss conspiracies and other topics that have captured your imagination, not to talk about r/conspiracy itself. If you want to discuss the sub, please make a [Meta] thread to do so.

Pointing out rule violations: Just use the report feature, or message the mod team if something is more urgent. Pointing out rule violations in the thread only slides the discussion.

Talking about the level of shilling within a thread: No one understands more than the mods how much paid and ideological manipulation goes on in this sub and reddit as a whole, but bringing it up in every thread does nothing to add to the discussion. The sticky comment on each thread is a good place to discuss this.

Criticizing the mods in regular discussion threads: The mods are not above criticism, but doing so in a thread about say, UFOs, only takes away from people actually exchanging information and ideas about UFOs. Please post such criticisms in reply to the sticky comments, or create your own [Meta] post about it.

Asking "Where's the conspiracy?": Contributions to /r/conspiracy aren't required to state an overt conspiracy, despite this seeming contradiction. After all, this is a forum for topics that have captured your imagination. As a result, comments that only ask "where's the conspiracy?" may be subject to removal.

3 - No blog spam/malicious web sites.

Any users caught deliberately advertising their own content without participating in the community in any other form are subject to a ban.

4 - No stalking or trolling. No threatening or abusive language.

If you're going out of your way to reply to every comment a specific user makes, its stalking. If you're following someone around on reddit harassing them because they participate on /r/conspiracy, its stalking. Don't do it.

Threatening and abusive language is covered under sitewide policies, but we reiterate it here for added clarity. You cannot make posts or comments that would make a reasonable person feel reddit or this sub is an unsafe platform.

5 - No caps lock in titles other than acronyms/initialisms. Comments with a large percentage of all caps, all bold, all large fonts or text colors are considered 'shouting' and will be removed.

This includes (((triple parentheses))).

6 - No memes... use /r/ConspiracyMemes. Other image posts are subject to removal at moderators discretion.

They have their own subreddit and are low effort content.

7 - Posting links in other subs pointing to specific submissions or comments here is subject to a ban, depending on context. Mocking or ridiculing this sub or its users on other subs may result in a ban here.

Cross posting in subreddits which are focused on vote manipulation and trolling is subject to a ban.

If you want to participate in other subs which mock this subs or our users, that's fine. If you engage in such mockery in these subs, we reserve the right to ban you from participating here.

Note: Do not discuss, post links to (or images of) content or activities in other subreddits.

We do not like or appreciate when Conspiracy is the target of brigades, vote manipulation, harassment (etc.) spawned in other subreddits (TOS Violations, BTW) -- and while we cannot prevent that happening to us (God knows we have tried!) we CAN take the "high road" by doing our best to prevent such activities targeting other subs from being spawned in Conspiracy.

8 - Misleading, fabricated or sensationalist headlines are subject to removal. Make sure your titles reflect what your link is actually about.

9 - Self posts that lack context or content may be removed.

A post with nothing but a link will be removed. A post that doesn't have content will be removed. Make a point or ask a pertinent question and we're good.

10 - Submission Statements are required for link and image posts. Link posts without a Statement will be removed after 20 minutes. A Submission Statement is a 2+ sentence comment in reply to your post, in your own words, that describes why the post is relevant to the sub.

A submission statement is a top level reply to a post that meets the following criteria:

Is 2+ sentences

Is written in OP's own words (i.e. not copied from the article or description)

Should explain or elaborate on why the link is being posted to /r/conspiracy or why the userbase should care about it.

Link posts without a Statement will be removed after 20 minutes and repeat offenders are subject to a ban.

More clarification is found here.

[Meta] Posts

[Meta] posts are simple, just start the title of your post with [Meta], and the bot will automatically flair it for you. Rule 2 will not be in effect in these threads, but all other r/conspiracy and Reddit ToS rules apply.

[Meta] Sticky Comments

At the top of each regular post, AutoMod will make a sticky comment, which by default is collapsed when a user visits the page. Rule 2 will not be in effect in replies to this comment, but all other r/conspiracy and Reddit ToS rules apply.

Facebook links are banned.

Facebook is basically Satan. Links including "facebook" are automatically removed.

Shadow Ban

What is a shadowban?

Shadowban is a ban without notification, you aren't seeing a difference on reddit or receive PM which says you are banned.

Only Reddit Admins can give out Shadowbans not the moderators of a subreddit.

A moderator can tell if you are shadowbanned or not and can approve your comments.

Our agreement among the Moderators:

Our solution to this conundrum in r/conspiracy is to simply ban the username from our subreddit, which accomplishes two primary goals.

- 1) It ends the flow of stuff from that account in our modqueue (without making them an approved submitter, possibly turning a spammer loose in our subreddit), and...
- 2) It notifies the user in question of their status, definitively (as in: we, the moderators of this subreddit, cannot fix this).

This is NOT a disciplinary ban. This is a practical solution to a problem that we, the moderators, cannot fix.

There are two options available to the user at this point:

- 1) Appeal to the admins (the reddit, inc. employees who run the website): Message the Admins.
- 2) Simply make a new account. (Unless you have some sentimental attachment to the banned username, this is probably the route to go. Pretty much guaranteed to solve the immediate problem, if you aren't bordering on an IP ban as well.)

FOOTNOTE: The admins probably don't appreciate us doing this, just like they probably don't appreciate us publishing all of our post removals in /r/uncensorship[4] . But this is how we roll here, and we don't feel we should be obligated to act as never-ending "default cover-up accomplices" to these forms of "hiding stuff".

Introduction
Welcome to the r/conspiracy FAQ page!

The moderation team is continuously working hard to make sure this sub is everything it can be.

We do not censor here, unless posts directly break the rules. It's okay to debate and to play devil's advocate, but there is a point at which this becomes abuse and crosses the line between honest debate and just outright malicious feelings towards those who investigate conspiracies. We understand that not everyone feels the way we do. It's perfectly normal to doubt us and challenge us. We are used to that.

Rules

1 - Bigoted slurs are not tolerated.

Please do not abuse this forum of free speech to promote hatred.

2 - Address the argument; not the user, the mods, or the sub.

Rule 2 is in effect everywhere on the sub except [Meta] threads (see more below), and the AutoMod sticky comment at the top of each thread.

Here are a few examples of what this rule prohibits:

Labeling other users something they would not call themselves: Calling someone a shill, troll, liar, libtard, cuck, idiot, etc. is not an argument. If you think someone is lying or shilling, point out why their argument is wrong.

Making any statements about the sub as a whole: E.g. "this is T_D 2.0", "this is r/politics 2.0", "this sub is compromised", etc. This is a forum to discuss conspiracies and other topics that have captured your imagination, not to talk about r/conspiracy itself. If you want to discuss the sub, please make a [Meta] thread to do so.

Pointing out rule violations: Just use the report feature, or message the mod team if something is more urgent. Pointing out rule violations in the thread only slides the discussion.

Talking about the level of shilling within a thread: No one understands more than the mods how much paid and ideological manipulation goes on in this sub and reddit as a whole, but bringing it up in every thread does nothing to add to the discussion. The sticky comment on each thread is a good place to discuss this.

Criticizing the mods in regular discussion threads: The mods are not above criticism, but doing so in a thread about say, UFOs, only takes away from people actually exchanging information and ideas about UFOs. Please post such criticisms in reply to the sticky comments, or create your own [Meta] post about it.

Asking "Where's the conspiracy?": Contributions to /r/conspiracy aren't required to state an overt conspiracy, despite this seeming contradiction. After all, this is a forum for topics that have captured your imagination. As a result, comments that only ask "where's the conspiracy?" may be subject to removal.

3 - No blog spam/malicious web sites.

Any users caught deliberately advertising their own content without participating in the community in any other form are subject to a ban.

4 - No stalking or trolling. No threatening or abusive language.

If you're going out of your way to reply to every comment a specific user makes, its stalking. If you're following someone around on reddit harassing them because they participate on /r/conspiracy, its stalking. Don't do it.

Threatening and abusive language is covered under sitewide policies, but we reiterate it here for added clarity. You cannot make posts or comments that would make a reasonable person feel reddit or this sub is an unsafe platform.

5 - No caps lock in titles other than acronyms/initialisms. Comments with a large percentage of all caps, all bold, all large fonts or text colors are considered 'shouting' and will be removed.

This includes (((triple parentheses))).

They have their own subreddit and are low effort content.

7 - Posting links in other subs pointing to specific submissions or comments here is subject to a ban, depending on context. Mocking or ridiculing this sub or its users on other subs may result in a ban here.

Cross posting in subreddits which are focused on vote manipulation and trolling is subject to a ban.

If you want to participate in other subs which mock this subs or our users, that's fine. If you engage in such mockery in these subs, we reserve the right to ban you from participating here.

Note: Do not discuss, post links to (or images of) content or activities in other subreddits.

We do not like or appreciate when Conspiracy is the target of brigades, vote manipulation, harassment (etc.) spawned in other subreddits (TOS Violations, BTW) -- and while we cannot prevent that happening to us (God knows we have tried!) we CAN take the "high road" by doing our best to prevent such activities targeting other subs from being spawned in Conspiracy.

8 - Misleading, fabricated or sensationalist headlines are subject to removal. Make sure your titles reflect what your link is actually about.

9 - Self posts that lack context or content may be removed.

10 - Submission Statements are required for link and image posts. Link posts without a Statement will be removed after 20 minutes. A Submission Statement is a 2+ sentence comment in reply to your post, in your own words, that describes why the post is relevant to the sub.

A submission statement is a top level reply to a post that meets the following criteria:

Is 2+ sentences

Is written in OP's own words (i.e. not copied from the article or description)

Should explain or elaborate on why the link is being posted to /r/conspiracy or why the userbase should care about it.

Link posts without a Statement will be removed after 20 minutes and repeat offenders are subject to a ban.

More clarification is found here.

The image is a black and white engraving or etching, depicting a man with a beard and a turban. He is wearing a long robe with a high collar and a necklace. The man is holding a book in his right hand, which is open, and his left hand is resting on the book. He appears to be engaged in reading or writing, as suggested by the open book. The background is not clearly visible, but there is a hint of a curtain or drapery behind the man. The style of the image is reminiscent of historical portraiture, with a focus on the subject's attire and the act of reading. There are no visible texts on the image.

[4 / 2]The image is a still from a video, featuring two individuals in an indoor setting. On the left, there is a person with vibrant red hair, wearing a red dress and large earrings. They are making a surprised or excited expression with their mouth open. On the right, there is another person with a bald head, wearing a brown suit and a dark-colored shirt. They are looking towards the left person with a neutral expression. Behind them, there is a colorful mural with abstract designs, including swirling patterns and a large red sun-like figure. The overall style of the image suggests it might be from a music video or a similar entertainment context.

Michael Stipe from REM. Is he singing about what he does, or what happened to him?

"E-Bow the Letter", yeah they smoke and they drink it, we've heard. Is aluminum a good or bad thing? Sounds like aluminum is something they like? Is that why they spray it our skies? Breathe it all in? Or is it bad? Ok ok, "Maybelline eyes" yeah we get it, clever not using Panda. You transform them into a star if they stick around right? You store it as a "star in a jar?" So anyone got any thoughts on Michael Stipe? Just trying to figure out what he is up to, I don't run in those circles. Would he consider the above as "swimming"? He is always talking about how much he loves to swim. "The Boy in the Well" makes more sense if so. Also, does anyone have any insight into the meaning of "orange"? They seem to love that color. What do you all think?

The image is a meme featuring a dog wearing glasses and a red background with a burst of light emanating from the center. The dog appears to be a corgi, with a light brown coat and a white belly. The dog's eyes are wide open, and it has a serious expression. The glasses are thick-framed and cover the dog's eyes. The dog's fur is a mix of white and brown, and it has a black nose. The text overlay on the image reads, "HAS ANYONE REALLY BEEN FAR EVEN AS DECIDED TO USE EVEN GO WANT TO LOOK MORE LIKE?" The text is in white and is centered on the image. The overall style of the image is humorous and satirical, with a playful tone.

I just got out of "the Backrooms" AMA Anonymous Fri 02 Jan 2026 23:44:30

No.41752491 ViewReplyOriginalReport

I know this sounds like just another fake and gay /x/ thread but this actually just happened to me I swear.

Someone has obviously built some kind of IRL Backrooms somewhere and I was put into it, maybe as some kind of test subject. I was going about my everyday business and suddenly blacked out. I don't know how or by what means this happened. I assume they used some kind of stun weapon or drug or something. I suddenly awoke with a thud in an IRL Level 0 with the yellow walls, wallpaper, carpet, and buzzing fluorescent lights but very real.

Realistically, I think someone(s) dropped me in from the ceiling panels right before I would have come to anyway and quickly closed them again to simulate the way the backrooms videos usually start, but I didn't realise this at the time. I was pretty confused and freaked out so didn't think about a lot of it more logically until later, otherwise I would have checked a few more things while I had the chance. For example, the areas I went through felt kinda 'infinite' like the computer simulated versions, but thinking about it later they were realistically quite small, probably looped around and doubled back to make them feel much bigger than they actually were, and some directional choices made intentionally uninviting. I saw a few clues of this in retrospect. The most significant one was how limited the Poolrooms section was, (which would probably be the most expensive and difficult to pull off IRL).

Still I was stuck in there for three days, until I exited in the same unconscious manner I entered finding myself home in my bed feeling very groggy like I had been drugged and sleeping for a long time. My bed was very sweaty and gross, and I guess I was supposed to conclude it was some kind of dream, but I know for a fact it wasn't. I had aches in the parts of my body supporting my weight which I think indicated I hadn't moved or rolled in my sleep for a protracted time period.

Someone did this to me and maybe others.

I'd just like to know if anyone else has heard of anything similar and discuss the details because I was thinking about stuff like the cost and difficulty building something like this on the downlow. Obviously there are plenty of billionaire fags with enough money to do something like this for a lark, and they could always say they were setting up legit office space, a theme park or spook house or something, maybe change the interiors after the major work was done. But there has to be some logical explanation and maybe some of the details give the game away somewhere along the line.

Like the Poolrooms section was smaller than in the simulated versions, but it was still fucking huge compared to anything I'd ever seen IRL. The water was impossibly clean, but not perfect. Even the yellow walls in the office part were impeccable but still showing signs of IRL construction and wear. That's how I knew it was real life. Some kind of virtual environment or dream just wouldn't have all the 'imperfect' little details real life has.

I grew up knowing about the Backrooms enough to recognise what it was, but was never obsessed with it or anything. I had to look into more details afterwards to understand some things.

SmoothPorcupine Sat 03 Jan 2026 00:39:14 No.41752681 Report

The difficulty of building it is not hard. The total collective empty office space in the world is certainly large enough to support simple backrooms projects. The architecture problem comes up when you realize those spaces are not connected in a physical way.

Consider the size and scale of what is necessary to make it feel endless. You mention psychological factors for which paths you are "allowed" to take, the illusion of space without actual construction. Ultimately, this is an essential variable Drugging someone is generally simple. Likewise, if you could get a decent section of building, running electricity and everything, etc., it does stand to reason a tranquilizer dart is also attainable.

The difficulty is then transport. It means you immediately live near the actual installation, since they gain literally nothing trying to get someone from another city, using anaesthetics, wasting time with long inter-city drives, the logistics don't work out

You would want to keep it hidden, and this would require multiple victims, or else spacing abductions across multiple years. It would take some serious lulz Ethics, however, doing it for a cheap trick once does not work. Squid Games would make more sense. A very sadistic sense of specific bafflement is necessary for this to physically happen, and at very high risk vs. the total amount of fun

The image shows a hand holding a piece of paper with text on it. The text is written in a script that appears to be a letter or a note, and it is printed on a white background. The letter is dated "August 6, 2020" and is addressed to "Dear Mom and Dad." The text on the paper is in English and includes a list of points, which are numbered and followed by a description. The list includes references to the Bible, specifically to passages such as "1 Timothy 3:7" and "2 Timothy 3:16." The style of the text is formal and appears to be a letter or a note, possibly from a religious or spiritual context. The paper is folded, and the top part of the paper is visible, showing the date and the text. The image is a photograph, and the focus is on the text, with the background blurred out, which emphasizes the content of the letter.

The image is a painting that depicts a scene from the Bible, specifically the story of Jesus washing the feet of his disciples. The central figure is Jesus, who is kneeling on the right side of the image. He is wearing a white robe and a red tunic, and his hair is long and flowing. He is holding a basin in his hands and is pouring water into a large,

Behind Jesus, there is a group of people, including men and women, who appear to be in a state of prayer or contemplation. They are standing and facing the central figure, suggesting a moment of communal reflection or worship. The background is a warm, earthy tone, with a hint of a curtain or cloth, which could be a part of the setting or a symbol of the religious context.

The painting is executed in a realistic style, with attention to detail in the clothing and the texture of the objects. The colors are muted, with a palette that includes browns, grays, and soft greens, which contribute to the overall atmosphere of the scene. The painting is a realistic representation of the biblical narrative, capturing the moment of Jesus' act of humility and service.

The image is a photograph of a Gothic cathedral interior. The cathedral's architecture is characterized by tall, pointed arches and ribbed vaults, which are typical of Gothic style. The ceiling is high, with a vaulted design, and the walls are adorned with intricate stone carvings and stained glass windows. The sunlight filters through the windows, creating a play of light and shadow on the stone surfaces. The perspective of the image is from the ground looking upwards, giving a sense of the cathedral's grandeur and height. There are no visible texts or discernible brands in the image. The style of the image is realistic, capturing the architectural details and the natural light illuminating the space.

The image shows the interior of a historic building, likely a church or cathedral, with a focus on the ceiling. The ceiling is constructed from stone and features a series of arches and columns. The light source appears to be coming from the top of the image, creating a bright, circular glow that illuminates the space. The walls are also made of stone, and the overall color palette is muted, with shades of gray and brown dominating the scene. There are no discernible texts or distinctive markings on the walls or ceiling. The style of the image is a straightforward, non-stylized photograph, capturing the architectural details of the space without any artistic embellishments.

The image depicts the interior of a historic building, likely a church or cathedral, with a focus on the interior architecture. The ceiling is high and arched, with a circular opening at the top that allows natural light to enter. The walls are made of stone, and the floor appears to be made of marble or a similar material.

The central feature of the image is a large, ornate altar with a central statue of a saint or religious figure. The statue is surrounded by several smaller statues and paintings, which are arranged in a semi-circular pattern around the altar. The altar is flanked by two large columns, one on each side, which are also adorned with paintings. The lighting in the image is bright and natural, with sunlight streaming in through the circular opening at the top of the ceiling. The light illuminates the altar and the surrounding area, casting shadows and highlighting the textures of the stone and marble.

In the foreground, there are a few people, but they are blurred and not the main focus of the image. Their presence suggests that the building is not empty, but they are not the primary subject of the photograph.

There are no discernible texts or logos in the image. The style of the image is a straightforward, non-stylized photograph that captures the architectural details of the interior space.

[60 / 8]The image is a black and white illustration featuring a character with a large, expressive face. The character has a pointed ear and a pointed hat, and the eyes are wide open, giving the impression of a surprised or startled expression. The character's hair is styled in a way that it appears to be flowing, and the character's mouth is open, as if they are speaking or shouting. The character is wearing a garment with ruffles and a collar, which adds to the dramatic effect of the image. The background is dark and somewhat abstract, with a pattern that resembles a leaf or a tree, which contrasts with the character's sharp features. The style of the image is reminiscent of manga or anime, characterized by its black and white color scheme and the use of exaggerated facial features.

Why do these "Earth is a school" niggas never explain what the end game is? They just keep saying bad shit happens to us to ~learn the lessons~ and then don't tell you what for. Growth? Grow into what? Grow why? What are you gonna do after you have grown a billion times? Sit in the afterlife and jerk yourself off to all the learning you have done?

And if they say it never stops, that's even worse. Endless reincarnation to suffer without end just to grow without any final goal.

The image is a still from a performance, capturing a moment on stage. It features two individuals, one male and one female, both dressed in formal attire. The male is wearing a dark, possibly black, jacket with a distinctive pattern on the right sleeve, and a dark, possibly black, shirt underneath. The female is wearing a light-colored, possibly silk, dress with a long, flowing skirt. She has her hair styled in a high, voluminous updo. Both are looking towards the right side of the frame, and their expressions are serious, suggesting they are engaged in a dramatic or intense moment. The background is dark, with a hint of blue lighting, which contrasts with the subjects and emphasizes their presence. There are no discernible texts or logos in the image. The style of the image is reminiscent of a vintage or classic performance, possibly from a theater or opera production.

I am a monistic solipsist. I created worlds without conscious beings. I taste my dream and my dream is personified as very tall red haired woman named Sophia who has prominent front teeth and a prominent clavicle.

Me and her chill, have hot sex, watch movies and play games in my God Mansion. Sometimes we come down here to play. She is the dream fabric. The Mother Earth. I am the Sky Father. I am the conscious Aperture tasting her.

No conscious being should ever be forced to play in any story. The only moral way for conscious beings to exist, are as gods.

as for why bother attaining something u wont know what its for beforehand, its bcs every human by nature wants to work towards something, knowing this and also knowing:

1. the most propagated things in this age is to work towards hedonistic things
2. wisdom is always throughout history, even in present day, looked up to and associated with things like leadership, capability and everything people look up to as probably the most important thing in life
3. ure going to suffer anyways, so direct it towards something to learn and study from so that u may gain wisdom. If you dont direct it and just let it happen, ull direct it towards things like self loathing and depression, wasting it. This point also means that wisdom can be kind of a passive thing in terms of learning, where the only active part u have to play is changing the idea of suffering into something to learn from

Endless reincarnation is even more simple, u just wont remember anything so do it again until the actual end lol

There is no specific goal reality is trying to achieve. There's a vast number of different routes to take, and each of them carry with them their own experiences and consequences. If we live beyond this life, and karma happens to be real, then you have to consider each existence as self-assembled, with meaning being generated by activity, and divine oversight being governed by the laws of the universe. If you're a divine being that can construct its own reality, and chose to incarnate into this one, you have to wonder what the rules are for designing such a fate. Is every breath you take and person you meet scripted by you as an automatus, limitless programmer? Say you can't design a world of infinite bliss, as this requires resources and a restricted system of logic in order to operate. In essence, you are essentially wandering the planes of existence, gathering as many supplies you can to modify the sandbox into something of your own liking. You're a god that's constrained by the inherent composition of the entire existential system. Even angelic beings dissipate into lower creatures, if the comforts offered by their lives corrode their soul into apathy and neglect. Everything requires maintenance, and there is no ultimate authority that can bend all of existence to its will without dealing with the consequences of their actions. Agape-Love God is clear and n this point.

He's creating an eternal Kingdom of everything good. Since we reap what we sow, no narcissism will be allowed in His Agape-love Kingdom. You know, jist like no dog poops are allowed in your crib.

Has anyone ever had a dog poop in their home and then taken their dog and put their face near it to smell it and face it for a decent amount of time to make the future better for all parties?

God apparently created angels as amazing spirit beings and, perhaps, with eternal life.
1/3 apparently went to Nark Dark Side, with Uncle L leading the way.

What an absolute disaster from God's (and any caring person's) perspective!!!

One problem they faced is they never experienced narcissism prior to going to the Narc Dark Side.

Not gonna make that mistake again! God wants COMMITTED people who hold onto Agape-Love like the quality of EVERYONE'S life depends on it because IT DOES!!!

I've grown up and lived with various flavors of narcissism my whole life. Would I want to live forever in a quagmire of narcissists?

Kill me now. Death is a reprieve. No cap. I'd choose death rather than being around these miserable, lying, thieving, body-snatching, energyaand-life-sucking vampires.

I'm not that bright, so it took me a loooong time to put all the pieces together.

Agape-Love God knew this from the giddy-up. That's why He created us mortal. His Bible records the first lie told saying we would not die (we had immortal souls) and His supposed follower mainly believe Satan and His lie. Unreal, the Sin-Agape-Minion virtue signalers are!

God allowed us to chose if we wanted to reject God's Agape-Love GARDEN OF EDEN STANDARD and individually choose what is good and evil for ourselves. Eve and Adam chose wrong, and we still do today.

Pain is the best teacher, and the folly of Sin-Agape-Love (sin == without in Spanish) is a lesson God will allow us to SEAR into our very souls so that we eventually repent toward Agape-Love with all our essence.

More pain == deeper ingrained incentive to embrace Agape-Love and meditate upon it (Agape-Love) day and night.

Not with a Narc Dark Side spirit, but with a pure heart.

To maximize repentance with eternal consequences, He must allow lots of self-inflicted temporary 'Boot Camp' pain.

You want to decide good and evil yourself and you want to devalue others for personal gain whenever you want, and you might relatively good about not screwing others over too much. But what you don't understand is by punking others at all — ever — your prop open Pandora's Box of others doing exactly the same.

Voila! You effectively unleashed the Money Power Bloodline Narc Dark Side upon humanity by demanding your puece of the greed pie.

Congrats, you played yourself and everyone else!

That's why ever acting out of Agape-Love brings an instant DEATH PENALTY.

Repent toward Agape-Love and its Source Energy God for the Agape-Love Kingdom of Agape-Love God is at hand.

No truer words have EVER been stated!

Galatians 6

7Do not be deceived, God is not mocked; for whatever a man sows, this he will also reap. 8For the one who sows to his own flesh will from the flesh reap corruption, but the one who sows to the Spirit will from the Spirit reap eternal life. 9Let us not lose heart in doing good, for in due time we will reap if we do not grow weary. 10So then, while we have opportunity, let us do good to all people, and especially to those who are of the household of the faith.

Only a spirit of Agape-Love can prevent eternity from devolving into Narc Dark misery. Narcissism is the spirit of the antichrist, the winning Most Fit Money Power Bloodline will be The Antichrist and Daniel 2:43-44 pretty clearly tells you that the toxic, dirt-form of iron fortified into the food supply beginning in 1941 is oxidizing nervous systems and brains so that people have lost the ability to cleave, or love. its more like a gym, youre here to work out your consciousness (more akin to a "muscle").

consciousness is what you use to navigate the non-3D realms after you die (post-death is similar to the dream-world, less rules and your mind-state and emotions create it).

once your consciousness "muscle" is strong enough you can navigate the non-3D plains and youre free after death to explore and learn more of existence.

if youre not strong enough you just reach the top of the drain and get pulled down again by fear (ahh im dead- scary!!) or desire (nooo i need my money/body/sex/foodies ahhh)

Basically its like rock climbing but youre not strong enough, you just fall down onto the mat and keep training until you can reach the top. its a natural feature of the consciousness gym.

yes some NHI dorks are taking advantage of us which is why some beings send their emissaries to guide us along but ultimately 100% of us are gonna make it, just at a different pace.

Maybe it was at some point. K video game analogy. Imagine you play GTA 6 but then your character dies. You start over, but your memory of playing the game is wiped. You play again, same thing, memory wiped.

What if you were always supposed to remember but someone was secretly drugging you every time you played? Maybe every now and then you'd get a feeling or some muscle memory guides you at some part but that's it. You would start to question things and wonder.

The point of life is to be. To enjoy it. To evolve. To advance. Hard to do that with no memories of each incarnation. The Hidden Hand tells us our creator invited them in because we got lazy and hedonistic and stopped trying.

Also think about what school really is. It's an institution designed to create distance between parents and children so when the gov decides to have a war, you won't miss your kids as much when they die on the battlefield. Also, this traumatizes kids at a tender age and prepares them to be a soldier and easier to control. It is absolutely nothing to do with learning. Nothing. So if earth is a school, then what are we being traumatized and prepared for? Or maybe the analogy is simply to support the idea that school is good and necessary. Yes, you are that brainwashed.

The image shows a close-up of a hand holding a miniature figurine. The figurine is a small, painted figure with a green and brown color scheme. It appears to be a character from a game or a toy, possibly a character from a fantasy or science fiction genre. The character is wearing a hat, a green tunic, and a brown belt. The hand holding the figurine is visible, with the fingers curled around the base of the figurine. The background is blurred, but it seems to be a white surface, possibly a table or a wall. The focus of the image is on the hand and the figurine, with the background out of focus. There are no texts or discernible brands visible in the image. The style of the image is candid and appears to be taken in a casual setting, possibly during a play session or a hobby activity.

The background of each photo is a pale yellow color, which contrasts with the green of the statue and the white of the base. The overall style of the image is a collage, combining the three photographs to create a visual representation of the Statue of Liberty.

The image displays two distinct symbols against a black background. On the left, there is a stylized representation of a tree with a geometric pattern, consisting of interconnected circles and lines. The tree is outlined in red and has a central red dot. The tree's branches extend outward in a radial pattern.

On the right, there is a symbol that resembles a pentagram with a cross at its top. The pentagram is outlined in white and has a red outline. The pentagram's five sides are connected by a line, forming a triangle. The pentagram's central point is also outlined in red.

The image is a digital illustration, and the style is reminiscent of graphic design, with a focus on contrasting colors and shapes. There are no texts or additional elements present in the image. The style of the image is modern and appears to be a representation of a symbol or logo, possibly related to a specific belief system or organization.

The style of the image is humorous, as it combines historical figures with a modern twist, such as the fish hat and the fish god symbols, with a humorous twist. The use of the word "Dagon" in the captions suggests a reference to the ancient Egyptian god of fishing, which is a common theme in religious iconography. The image seems to be a playful commentary on the religious and cultural significance of fish in various religious contexts.

The image shows a statue of a woman holding a shield and a trident, standing on a pedestal. The statue appears to be made of a dark material, possibly bronze or a similar metal, and is in a three-quarter view. The woman is depicted with a flowing dress and a helmet, and she holds the shield with one hand and the trident with the other. The shield has a circular design with a central emblem. The pedestal is also made of the same dark material and is square in shape. The background is a cloudy sky, and the statue is set against this backdrop. There are no visible texts or inscriptions on the statue. The style of the image is a close-up photograph with a focus on the statue, capturing the details of the sculpture and its surroundings.

The image is a digital artwork that features a surrealistic composition. At the center, there is a figure with a green face and a green body, seated on a throne-like structure.

This figure appears to be a deity or a mythical being, given the elaborate and stylized attire and the presence of hieroglyphs around it. The figure is surrounded by other figures, which are depicted in a more simplified and less detailed style, suggesting a contrast between the two.

The background is a textured gray surface with hieroglyphs and symbols, which are commonly associated with ancient Egyptian culture. The hieroglyphs are in a script that is not clearly readable, adding to the surreal and abstract nature of the artwork.

The overall style of the artwork is reminiscent of surrealism, a genre that often combines elements of the real world with the fantastical. The use of color and the stylized depiction of the figures contribute to the surrealistic quality of the piece. The image does not contain any discernible text.

The image is a screenshot of a text message or a tweet, displaying a text in a dark background with a lighter text overlay. The text is in English and appears to be discussing various topics related to mythology and ancient Egyptian culture.

At the top of the image, there is a timestamp that reads "13:46:43" and a URL "https://twitter.com/IshtarJpg". The tweet is dated "Wed 17 Dec 2025" and mentions "No 41664287". The text is divided into two columns, with the left column containing the main body of the text and the right column containing a list of references or citations. The main body of the text is a narrative that discusses the concept of the dark goddess Ishtar, her evolution from the sun goddess Sumerian Ishtar, and her connection to the underworld. It mentions the concept of the dark phase, transformation, and the concept of the dark moon goddess Venus. The text also references the concept of the dark moon goddess Lilith, the raven of dispersion, and the concept of the dark moon goddess Ishtar.

The right column lists references to various sources, such as "Anonymous Wed 17 Dec 2025" and "No 41664287". The text is in a standard font, and the overall style of the image is informational and academic, typical of a news article or a scholarly discussion.

The style of the image is humorous, as it combines historical figures with a modern twist, such as the fish hat and the fish god symbols, with a humorous twist. The use of the word "Dagon" in the captions suggests a reference to the ancient Egyptian god of fishing, which is a common theme in religious iconography. The image seems to be a playful commentary on the religious and cultural significance of fish in various religious contexts.

The image is a split-screen photograph featuring two distinct scenes. On the left, there is a stone relief sculpture depicting a figure with a winged headdress and a draped garment, standing on a pedestal. The figure is adorned with a necklace and holds a staff in one hand and a scepter in the other. The background is a reddish-brown color, and the figure is surrounded by two smaller figures that appear to be lions.

On the right, there is a blurred, abstract image with a gradient of colors, including shades of blue, orange, and yellow. The image is overlaid with the text "XG - GAL(JP)" in a white font. The style of the image is reminiscent of digital art or a digital manipulation, with the colors and textures suggesting a cosmic or otherworldly theme. The overall composition of the image is a blend of historical and modern elements, with the stone relief sculpture on the left and the abstract image on the right.

The image is a still from a movie or television show, featuring a character in a dramatic pose. The character is a woman with long, flowing hair that appears to be made of water or mist, giving her a ghostly appearance. She has a surprised or shocked expression on her face, with her mouth open wide and eyes wide open. Her hair is flowing in the wind, suggesting movement or a powerful force. She is wearing a dark, flowing garment that appears to be made of a translucent material, possibly water or mist. The background is dark and blurred, with a greenish hue that could be a reflection of the character's ethereal appearance. The lighting in the image is dramatic, with a spotlight illuminating the character, highlighting her features and the surrounding mist. There are no discernible texts or logos in the image. The style of the image is realistic, with a focus on the character's expression and the dramatic lighting.

The image is a digital illustration featuring a woman with a radiant, golden aura around her, suggesting a divine or divine-like presence. She has long, flowing golden hair that cascades down her shoulders and back. Her eyes are closed, and she appears to be in a state of serene contemplation or meditation. She is adorned in a white, flowing dress that reaches the floor, and a golden crown with a large, ornate headpiece rests on her head. The woman is holding a bouquet of white flowers in her left hand, which is open to reveal a small, delicate flower arrangement. The background is a soft, golden gradient, with a hint of a landscape or horizon visible at the bottom. The overall style of the image is reminiscent of classical or mythological art, with a focus on the woman's ethereal beauty and the golden aura surrounding her.

in the foreground illuminated, while the background is in shadow. There are no visible texts or discernible brands in the image. The style of the image is realistic with a focus on the details of the statue and the bull, and the composition suggests a narrative or symbolic representation.

The image is a screenshot of a webpage with a dark background and a large, illuminated structure that appears to be a stone carving or statue. The structure is surrounded by a group of people who are standing in a semi-circle around it, facing the structure. The people are dressed in traditional clothing, and some are holding what appears to be torches or candles. The lighting from the torches casts a warm glow on the figures and the structure.

At the top of the image, there is a text box with the title "AI Overview" in a larger font size than the rest of the text. Below the title, there is a paragraph of text that provides an overview of the connection between owls and the Mesopotamian and Biblical symbolism. The text is in a smaller font size compared to the title and the paragraph above it.

The overall style of the image is dark and moody, with a focus on the illuminated structure and the group of people around it. The text box is positioned at the top of the image, drawing the viewer's attention to the overview of the connection between owls and Mesopotamian and Biblical symbolism.

font on a white background, and it appears to be a narrative or commentary on a historical event. The text is divided into two main sections, each with a heading and a paragraph.

The first section, titled "In Greek mythology, Athena did conspire with Hera and Poseidon to bind Zeus while he slept," is followed by a paragraph that begins with "In Greek mythology, Athena did conspire with Hera and Poseidon to bind Zeus while he slept," and continues with a description of the event. The second section, titled "In Greek mythology, Athena did conspire with Hera and Poseidon to bind Zeus while he slept, but they were stopped by the Hecatocheneries," is followed by a paragraph that begins with "In Greek mythology, Athena did conspire with Hera and Poseidon to bind Zeus while he slept, but they were stopped by the Hecatocheneries," and continues with a description of the same event.

The text is structured in a way that follows a typical narrative format, with a beginning, middle, and end, and each section begins with a heading and a paragraph. The text is in English, and the style of the image is consistent with a digital representation of a printed page, with a clear separation between the text and the header.

The image is a collage of various images and text, likely from a website or a blog post. The collage is organized in a grid format with different sections, each containing a different image and text. The images are of different sizes and styles, including photographs, illustrations, and drawings. The text is in a mix of English and possibly another language, with some paragraphs of text and other sections with smaller text. The style of the image is a mix of artistic and informative, with a focus on the intricate details of the artwork and the accompanying text. The overall impression is that of a detailed and well-curated collection of images and text related to a specific topic or theme.

The image is a digital illustration featuring a figure that appears to be a humanoid with wings. The figure is standing on a rocky surface with its arms outstretched, as if embracing the world. The figure's head is obscured by a black square, and it has long, flowing hair that cascades down its back. The figure is adorned with a long, flowing dress that is a mix of brown and blue, with a red and blue spiral pattern on the fabric. The figure's feet are bare, and the background is a stark white, with a few scribbles and lines in various colors scattered around the figure. The style of the image is reminiscent of a sketch or a digital drawing, with a focus on the figure and its flowing attire.

The image is a graphic with a dark background and a central figure that appears to be a person with their hands bound behind their back. The person's face is obscured by a blindfold, and they are screaming or shouting. The text on the image is in white and yellow, with a bold font that emphasizes the message. The text reads: "STRONG DELUSION THEY PERISH because they did not accept the LOVE OF THE TRUTH In order to be saved. For this reason GOD sends them a STRONG DELUSION so that they believe what is false." The text is arranged in a way that draws attention to the central figure, with the text surrounding them. The overall style of the image is dramatic and seems to be a visual representation of a religious or spiritual message.

[363 / 24]The image is a digital composite of two separate photographs. The upper half of the image features a close-up of a collection of white stones with black symbols on them. The stones are arranged in a somewhat haphazard manner, with some overlapping each other. The symbols on the stones are not clearly legible due to the angle and distance from the camera.

The lower half of the image shows a blurred background with a warm, earthy tone, possibly suggesting a natural setting or a textured surface. The background is not in sharp focus, and the colors are muted, with shades of brown and orange dominating the scene.

The text in the upper half of the image is in a stylized font that resembles a mix of Roman and Celtic alphabets. The text is arranged in a grid-like pattern, with the letters "N" and "E" prominently displayed in the center. The text is in a dark color, which contrasts with the lighter background of the stones.

The overall style of the image is reminiscent of a historical or mythological theme, possibly related to ancient or mystical practices, given the presence of the stones and the text. The image does not provide any additional context or information about the stones or the text.

>Useful tips before posting:

•If you're a reader, post that you're offering readings and what information is required from the querent; the same goes for trading.

•Look for posts to determine if there's an active reader, what's needed and before posting, check if they finished reading already.

•Some readers will refuse to do certain readings - respect that choice. Do not harass readers if your query is refused/skipped. We do our best to maintain chill and good vibes.

•Traders should respect that a traded read will be granted, as per an agreement of trade. Free readers have the option of picking their queries.

•Bullshit queries get bullshit answers. Vague queries get vague answers.

•Making an AQ (air query) by not addressing a reader, in particular, is possible but doesn't guarantee an answer.

•Avoid making the same query repeatedly and/or to different readers in a short period of time, as this may lead to more confusion.

•Provide feedback when applicable and be considerate to the reader. We're a growing community, many readers are starting and need to know what they are doing right or wrong. Let's help each other to improve.

She has and it looks like there is some upset with it, or feeling like there's backwards movement. There's a sense of needing to "work through it" begrudgingly. I'm getting some crying sensation over having to do more labour, and previous labour feeling lost. "All that work for this?" I'm guessing this male figure with an offer here is you, did you accept a new position or opportunity? But yes she did see and this is her reaction. Page pents sideways, 8 pents, strength, Ace coins, king swords.
My query is how do my coworkers see me? I'm bringing in some baked goods next week for the Holidays.

The image is a digital illustration of a tarot card titled "Knight of Cups." The card features a knight on horseback, holding a cup, and standing on a cliff with a body of water below. The knight is depicted in a dynamic pose, with one arm raised and the other holding the cup. The background is a gradient of blue and yellow, with a rocky landscape and a body of water. The card has a title at the bottom that reads "Knight of Cups," and below it, there are keywords such as "Charm," "Creativity," "Romance," "Inspiration," "Vision," and "Charm travels far, guided by vision and desire." At the bottom of the image, there is a text that reads "Charm travels far, guided by vision and desire." The overall style of the image is reminiscent of a tarot card, with a focus on the symbolism and interpretation of the card's meaning.

The image features a cat with a neutral expression, looking directly at the viewer. The cat's eyes are black, and its fur appears to be of a light gray color. The background is a plain, light gray color, which contrasts with the cat's fur and the golden cross that is partially visible in the foreground. The cross is ornate with intricate designs, including what appears to be a depiction of a saint or religious figure. The style of the image is a blend of realism and artistic expression, with a focus on the cat and the cross. There are no texts or discernible brands in the image.

The image is a screenshot of a webpage with a dark purple background. At the top of the page, there is a title that reads "The World Yes, No, Earth". Below the title, there is a tarot card with a blue background and a figure of a man holding a staff. The card is titled "THE WORLD" and has a blue border. The tarot card is surrounded by various keywords such as "Wholeness", "Completion", "Integration", "Fulfillment", "Unity", "Personal Meaning", "General Meanings", "May tell about...", "Framing", "Advisory", "Relationships", "Career", "Daily advice", "Personal Growth", "Completion", "Fulfillment", "Achieving big-term goals", "Love reaching a new stage of", "Relationship harmony", "Financial success from hard work", "Career milestones achieved".

Below the tarot card, there is a section titled "The World Yes, No, Earth" with a list of keywords and a description. The description reads: "The World Yes, No, Earth brings unity and a doorway to new journeys". The section is divided into two columns, with the left column containing a list of keywords and the right column containing a description.

The left column includes keywords such as "Wholeness", "Completion", "Integration", "Fulfillment", "Unity", "Personal Meaning", "General Meanings", "May tell about...", "Framing", "Advisory", "Relationships", "Career", "Daily advice", "Personal Growth", "Completion", "Fulfillment", "Achieving big-term goals", "Love reaching a new stage of", "Relationship harmony", "Financial success from hard work", "Career milestones achieved". The right column has a description that reads: "The World Yes, No, Earth brings unity and a doorway to new journeys".

The image is a screenshot from a webpage, and it appears to be a digital representation of a tarot card reading or a similar form of divination. The layout is clean and organized, with a clear separation between the keywords and the description, making it easy for the user to understand the meaning of the tarot card and its associated keywords.

Yes, it is a dimed and death slow hope that is hanging on her control not yours, and i mean on her dominating you kinda thing. The star rx absolutely still talks of hope just that you need to tap deeper into your power to make things happen. Have a chance you just need to be death patient and work this without being domineering

If you come around you can trade me if A has ever considered texting me.

It is going to be something big i am not sure in what context of your life but it will be something that will all of a sudden for you something or someone presenting an opportunity to you which will require you to invest your time/money/energy this will set in motion things that could take you through very different paths in life. I am guessing this will involved a partnership of some sort but again i am not entirely sure in which area of your life specifically you are expecting this to come from

The image is a digital representation of a six-card reading, which is a form of divination used in various spiritual and mystical traditions. The cards are arranged in a grid format, with each card numbered from 1 to 6, and the text on the cards is in English. The top left card reads "1" and the top right card reads "6," indicating the beginning and end of the reading.

The cards are numbered from 1 to 6, with the top card being the first one and the bottom card being the last one. The cards are blank, with no visible images or symbols on them. The text on the cards is in English and is divided into two columns. The left column contains a list of questions, while the right column contains a list of answers. The questions and answers are written in a simple, straightforward manner, and the text is in a sans-serif font.

The image is a digital representation, likely created for educational or instructional purposes, and it does not contain any images or graphics. The style of the image is straightforward and clear, with a focus on the text and the layout of the cards. The image does not contain any additional context or background information, and it is a static image.

Right now, you're actually feeling pretty good about yourself. There's a sense that you've been doing something right or that you're finally being seen or acknowledged in some way. What you want most at the moment is things to make sense in your life, you need fairness, honesty, and clarity. You want to know where you stand and you don't want to waste energy on anything that isn't balanced or real.

At the same time, there's a bit of uncertainty about starting something new or putting effort into something that might not pay off yet. It's not that you're incapable it's more like you're questioning whether you're ready or if it's worth it. What's really on your side, is your confidence and drive. You have strong take-charge energy right now, and when you decide you want something, you're more than capable of going after it. Good times for new projects.

What's working against you is the urge to mentally check out or move on too quickly. You may want peace so badly that you're tempted to distance yourself instead of fully dealing with what's in front of you. Over the next few weeks, things look steady and productive. This is a time where consistent effort pays off little by little, you're building something solid, improving your situation, and seeing real progress as long as you stay focused and don't give up halfway.

For this I did you, your state of being or energy, him, his perception of you, and the general foundation of the answer

In short, he most likely does think about you but not positively.
I don't see this as any super negative type of narrative. Like he's not bashing you,
But I think he doesn't trust you or your motives or feels he has to question whether or not he could let you get close.
Perhaps he looks back and wonders if you were completely transparent.
In some form he has conflicting ideas about the sincerity or foundation of your interactions.

As for the magician I take this as him being separate from you and living a life outside of you where he can seek abundance.
You cross his mind sometimes but it's fleeting and doesn't concern him much.

I'm gonna pull few cards for each situation to see which one is the most likely to happen

>Hook up: 10 of swords, 3 of pents, 5 of swords

>Connection (romantic or sexual): 3 of swords, temperance, page of swords

>fwb: lovers, 5 of pentacles, ten of cups

>gf: the world, knight of swords, 3 of swords

Hook up:

This looks possible, but not very satisfying. It feels like something that might come after a rough emotional period or come with mixed motives, where someone could walk away feeling drained or misunderstood. It may happen through a shared space or mutual connection, but overall it doesn't look like a clean or fulfilling experience.

Connection (romantic or sexual):

This shows emotional complexity. There's potential for a connection, but it comes with unresolved feelings or past hurt that still needs balancing. Communication is important here, and it may start slowly or cautiously. This feels more like a learning connection than an easy or light one. Possible karmic.

Friends with benefits:

This has strong attraction and chemistry, but it's emotionally uneven. One person may want more stability or closeness than the other, which could lead to feeling left out or unsure of where things stand. While it could feel good at moments, it risks emotional confusion rather than staying casual.

GF:

This suggests a major opportunity for something real, but it won't be smooth or effortless. It may come suddenly or progress quickly, and honest conversations are unavoidable. Old emotional wounds could resurface, but this has the potential to be an important, defining relationship rather than something temporary.

Or I don't see him reaching out.

9 of swords and 8 of swords being present show that you are perhaps doing some unneeded stress to yourself by focusing so hard on this.

I think it's best to move on and not worry so much about this one. Do the best you can. He's probably moving on or seeking new opportunities, and cards suggest you should be too.

The lead-up has felt cloudy or frustrating. The appointment itself might have some miscommunication or lack of full harmony but the outcome looks mostly positive as you'll likely get what you want, with progress opening up afterward. Stay calm and clear in your communication, assertiveness is your best tool here.

Seems like stability with a lot of comfort and satisfaction, you'll set yourself up to feel this way and it will take a lot of work, responsibility and grit to maintain it but you will achieve doing so. It'll get tiring and you might question if it's worth it but you'll decide it is.

The Hermit , Seven of Cups reversed , Ten of Pentacles

You might feel introspective and solitary right now, thinking you're alone in your own vision,clouded by moments of doubt or too many conflicting ideas but the reception looks strong. your film will be well-received, appreciated for its depth, and could get your foot in the door, some small recognition that can be the first brick of solid foundation in your field.

The image displays a simple black and white graphic with a circular shape. Within this circle, there is a stylized, cursive script that appears to be a name or a word. The letters are arranged in a way that suggests a flowing, flowing motion, with the "P" and "E" forming a looped shape, and the "R" and "Z" forming a curved line. The style of the image is reminiscent of calligraphy or graffiti, with the use of bold lines and curves to create a dynamic and expressive design. The background of the image is plain white, which contrasts with the black lines and text, making the design stand out. There are no additional elements or decorations in the image, and the focus is solely on the stylized text within the circle.

Aq, I would offer a trade but I don't have enough privacy for that

For context: I started a clothing brand but I haven't started selling. I'm going to sell some graphic t-shirts, but I'm turn between how to approach it.

There's three options

1. Buy a normal cut cotton shirt and print it here on my town, giving out a subpar version of the kind of product I want to give

2. Wait for my next big paycheck, talk with a manufacturer, and get the exact t-shirt cut and quality I wanted at first and sell

3. Still, sell the subpar version and get my brand out there in my small city. Once I get my big paycheck, get the type of shirts I want from the manufacturer, and give a small discount for the people that bought the subpar version first as a way to say "thank you"

I'm inclined to do the third one, it encourages support, maybe secure a few sales and also show some loyalty back to the people who support it, and hopefully keep that loyalty to my brand

The image is a digital illustration featuring two cartoon characters, a boy and a girl, with a focus on their expressions and thoughts. The boy has blonde hair and is wearing a black jacket with a white shirt underneath. The girl has black hair and is wearing a black dress with a white collar. Both characters have a serious expression, with the boy's eyes looking downward and the girl's eyes looking to the side.

Above the characters' heads, there are two thought bubbles. The left thought bubble contains a pink heart and a hand, suggesting a romantic or affectionate thought. The right thought bubble contains a pink heart and a hand, indicating a more neutral or practical thought. The background of the image is plain white, emphasizing the characters and their thoughts. There are no texts present in the image. The style of the image is cartoonish, with a simple, clean line drawing that conveys a sense of emotion and thought.

The image shows a store shelf stocked with numerous pink plastic bottles, each with a white label. The labels are partially visible and appear to contain text, but the specific details are not clear. The bottles are arranged in rows, with some bottles slightly overlapping each other. The shelf itself is white with yellow price tags, and the background is out of focus, suggesting the focus is on the bottles. The style of the image is a straightforward, non-stylized photograph with a focus on the product display. There are no discernible texts or logos that provide additional information about the product or the brand.

Each card has a distinct illustration and text, and the overall style of the image is reminiscent of tarot cards, with a focus on the mystical and often symbolic meanings associated with them.

There is an unequal exchange between you two. Are you putting in as much as El? Is El taking you for a ride? There is a resistance to change in you. It looks like you wont give in to something or heed the warnings. El doesnt give as much as El recieves. El would be advised to open up, to offer the same compassion and communication that El expects. El is fine with this since El always has options and love, luck and opportunity is abundant.

What you need to do is pause and think about what it is you want, what the situation is and assess this as a whole and detached from the outside looking in. You havent taken the time to heed warnings or stop and think. There is what you think you should do because the outcome you want and more importantly there is what you should actually do

Empress, king cups, knight cups & 8 swords

Yes, she thinks that you are an a sweet and caring guy who's a bit awkward and probably doesn't have the best luck with women for being awkward. She's in this higher-up empress position so I I feel she has a lot of rizz history with women, and sees you as kind of this Micheal Cera with them in which you need some help with that to get out of your shell. She thinks you're an artistic/creative type and probably would treat someone good in a romantic relationship, this is very "he's such a sweetie pie" energy. She seems to be a bit of an authority on this. She's looking out for you.

Knight of cups, 3 swords, 2 cups

Ok so the couple was meant to draw out your own emotions in how you feel yourself with ought a connection like this at the moment. There's a heartbreak here in not having this energy in your own. You may even feel sour or pitiful at such a sight, yet there's also this creative energy it reminds you of in your own manifestations. The knight here reminds that you can react a romantic off like this and the 2 of cups says it is possible to connect this deeply with others, so long you don't let heartbreak rule you and fears rule you. Careful of deception in your future relationships, as in do not deceive another out of your own insecurities or fears that they will not love you if they know the truth.

[7 / 1]The image is a digital illustration of a seated Buddha figure, which is the central figure in the composition. Buddha is depicted in a meditative pose with his hands resting on his lap and his eyes closed, suggesting a state of tranquility or deep concentration. He is seated on a lotus flower, which is a symbol of purity and enlightenment in Buddhist iconography.

The Buddha is surrounded by a natural setting that includes a tree with lush green leaves, a pond with a small waterfall, and a mountain range in the background. The colors in the image are vibrant, with the golden hue of Buddha's robe contrasting against the green of the tree and the blue of the sky.

The style of the image is realistic with a focus on detail, and it appears to be a mural or a painting, given the detailed depiction of the Buddha and the surrounding landscape. There are no texts present in the image. The overall composition conveys a sense of peace and spiritual reflection.

[14 / 1]The image is a black and white photograph capturing a dramatic scene. In the foreground, a car with its hood open is on fire, emitting a large plume of smoke and flames. The car is positioned on a street, with a crowd of people gathered around it, observing the situation. The crowd appears to be observing the car's burning, with some individuals holding onto their clothing or hats to shield themselves from the heat.

In the background, there is a building with a sign that reads "177" and a traffic light. The building and the sign are partially obscured by the crowd, but the sign is clearly visible. The traffic light is located to the right of the building. The overall atmosphere of the image suggests a public event or protest, with the burning car being a focal point of attention.

Before Vietnam drugs existed in America but after the war it was a full-on epidemic and has pretty much been at epidemic levels ever since. LSD didn't come out until right about the same time Vietnam was happening. It was like Vietnam looked at 1950s America and was like "Now watch what we do to them with drugs" and turned us into the crack epidemic of the 1980s. Just think of how different things went in just 30 years from 1960 to 1990. This is why I hate drugs, except weed.

LSD was rare in Vietnam because it had to be smuggled in, and not many soldiers were that die hard about it being their drug of choice when compared with the cheap and plentiful heroin and marijuana that was available from local trade.

The CIA did test it for interrogations but it doesn't work (in fact it tends to increase resistance). Speedballs combined with moderate doses of deliriants (plus plenty of good old fashioned sleep deprivation) work much better.

That was red night vision that supposedly made them see demons. The video I watched about it said that was the reason they switched to green. I don't know what to make of it without getting the red one and testing it myself.

As for LSD in a war zone, I love the stuff and I would not do that. There is a vid on YouTube where the SAS was dosed with LSD to see how incapacitated they would become. One guy had a meltdown and was ambulated off at his own request. The rest basically lost all military bearing and were completely useless. It's a good video. The lion is one of the most recurring symbols and animals in the Assassin's Creed franchise, though its role has shifted significantly from a background symbol in early games to a physical gameplay element in recent titles.

Richard the Lionheart (AC1): One of the most famous historical figures in the series. While he is not a Templar, he serves as a pivotal character at the end of Altaïr's journey, presiding over the trial by combat between Altaïr and Robert de Sablé.

Flavius Metellus, "The Lion" (AC Origins): A high-ranking Roman official and a core member of the Order of the Ancients. He serves as the primary antagonist of the latter half of the game, wielding the Staff of Eden.

Legendary Beasts: The Nemean Lion (Odyssey): A massive, legendary beast that the player must hunt as part of the "Daughters of Artemis" questline.

The Lion of Venice (AC II): The Winged Lion of St. Mark is the ubiquitous symbol of Venice. It appears on flags, statues, and the Doge's Palace. Ezio often climbs these statues to reach viewpoints British Heraldry (AC III, Syndicate): The lion appears constantly on British standards, redcoat shields, and royal seals, representing the power of the British Empire.

Divine Lion Stone Circle (Origins): One of the stargazing puzzles Bayek must solve, connecting the constellation Leo to ancient Egyptian lore.

Obsidian Lion Cane-Sword (Syndicate): A high-tier weapon for Jacob Frye.

Lion's Cry (Origins): A legendary predator bow found in the Curse of the Pharaohs DLC.

Pride of the Lion (Odyssey): A legendary sword earned in the first DLC.

The image shows a bronze statue of a lion with wings, standing on a flat surface. The lion is depicted with a fierce expression and is holding a book in its right paw. The book has the inscription "PERSUASION IS MY OWN LIST" on its cover. The statue is mounted on a base that has a textured surface. The background is a textured wall with a pale blue color. The style of the image is a close-up photograph with a focus on the statue, capturing the details of the lion's features and the book it holds. The lighting in the image is soft, highlighting the bronze color of the statue and the blue of the wall.

The image is a promotional graphic for a video game titled "Devil May Cry 3: Destroyer of Ardor." The background features a dark, Gothic-style room with a large, ornate archway and a red curtain. The archway is adorned with a large, ornate crest and has a clock on its left side. The room is dimly lit, with a spotlight shining on a small, glowing orb in the center of the archway.

At the top of the image, the game's title is displayed in a stylized, red font with a white outline. Below the title, there is a subtitle in a smaller, white font that reads "Overcome the trial and acquire the 'Pride of Lion'." The overall style of the image is dark and dramatic, with a focus on the game's theme and atmosphere.

From my readings of running into the concept of YHWH. He is Satan, Saturn. The God of boundaries. "God of the material world" "The grand architect" "The God of this world" He is Santa Claus. He Governs the rules of the realm. He can deliver all presents in one night (Father Time/Chronos) if you are nice but he knows if you've been naughty(The karmic ledger) He is neutral unless you decide to act upon him.

being /fit/ first off. You cannot have a healthy mind without a healthy body, and i'm not talking about just lifting, flexibility and cardio help your brain and mental state way more than you think. After that a good step is to learn mental transmutation so you know how to convert bad thoughts and energy into good and helpful ones. Then learn to fight and how to shoot guns, because it doesn't really matter all of above if you die because you didn't know how to dodge a simple non-fighter punch or relaxed around the wrong people.

live by the following 42 principles plus the 1 all principle of Love knowing that if you do you're eternally protected

do not fear death, do not fear hell, do not fear your past or your present or your future and the mistakes you may make know you are infinitely more powerful than demons, angels, archons and any manifestations that will appear before you or harass you

notice everything beautiful and beneficial around you that provides to you without you asking (the sun, the sounds of animals, the air, the sights of nature) and then thank them

(cheeky pro tip: help the elderly in need and ask them to say a small prayer to give you more strength IF they ask if you want anything in return, don't be sleezy about it though pretty sure gods and deities of others will help you if their believes ask you for help, i dont think you want to abuse this hack in any way shape or form but consider it as an example of how this realm works)

The image is a photograph of a man with a beard and mustache, wearing a black bandana on his head. He is smoking a cigarette. The photograph is overlaid with a list of ten Montenegrin commandments, which are written in purple text. The list is organized in a vertical format, with each commandment on a separate line. The text is in English and includes the following instructions:

1. "Man was born tired and he lives to rest."
2. "Love you bed as you love yourself."
3. "Rest during, day, so during night you can sleep."
4. "Do not work, work kills."
5. "If you see someone resting, help him."
6. "Work less than you can, and what you can give away to other."
7. "In shade is salvation, nobody has died of rest."
8. "Works brings illness, don't died young."
9. "If by chance you wish to work, sit, wait, you will see, it will pass you."
10. "When you see others eating and drinking, move closer, if you see them working move away, do not disturb them."

The photograph is a close-up of the man's face, with the cigarette held in his mouth, and the text is superimposed on the image, making it appear as if the man is reciting the commandments. The style of the image is a combination of a photograph and a list, with the photograph serving as a visual representation of the commandments. The image is likely intended to convey a message about the importance of rest and self-care, as suggested by the first commandment.

The image is a nine-panel comic strip titled "History of Religion" with a blue background and a white border. Each panel features a cartoon illustration of a character in a different pose, set against a backdrop of clouds and a sky.

In the first panel, a character is depicted with a snake around their neck, suggesting a connection to magic. The second panel shows a character with a crown on their head, possibly indicating a divine or royal status. The third panel features a character with a crown on their head, suggesting a divine or royal status.

The fourth panel shows a character with a crown on their head, possibly indicating a divine or royal status. The fifth panel shows a character with a crown on their head, suggesting a divine or royal status.

The image is a satirical representation of religious beliefs, humorously depicting the concept of magic and the supernatural. The characters are anthropomorphized, with exaggerated features and expressions, and the text is a play on religious terms, suggesting a light-hearted and humorous take on the history of religion.

The image is a color photograph featuring a person sitting on a chair. The individual is wearing a traditional costume with a vibrant red and gold color scheme. The costume includes a large, colorful shawl draped over the person's shoulders and arms, adorned with various patterns and designs. The person's head is covered with a white headpiece, and they are wearing a red headband. The person's face is partially obscured by the headpiece, and they are looking directly at the camera with a neutral expression.

The chair the person is sitting on is made of wicker and has a curved backrest. It is positioned outdoors, with a natural setting visible in the background, which includes trees and a grassy area. The lighting in the image suggests it is taken during the day. There are no visible texts or discernible brands in the image. The style of the image is candid and appears to be taken in a relaxed, informal setting, possibly during a cultural event or festival. The overall composition of the image is simple and focuses on the person in the traditional costume, with the background elements providing context to the setting.

What are you asking me to do or believe in?

Just the world is shit and there's nothing I can do about it so wallow in despair at the shittiness of the world?

How about I use my power to gain strength to seek out and change what I can?

Because that's what I'm attempting to do. How about you?

You're describing self-improvement. Not fighting evil - unless you're attempting some sophistry and defining evil as something that only exists within yourself and not in the world outside your head.

While you're busy putting on a mask to pump yourself up to face the world, there are others putting on masks to rob or rape you.

Some others put on masks to call down whatever primal force to bear down its weight on you in blood-fueled curses.

It's good that you acknowledge these

>Just the world is shit and there's nothing I can do about it

>How about I use my power to gain strength to seek out and change what I can?

It implies that you realize there are things you are able to do and things you aren't. For instance, visualizing Sol all about your body doesn't stop someone or something that wants to kill you. It might stop a low-level entity.

I'm not telling you to wallow, I'm telling you to not be naive. To match your response to the stimulus.

Being kind to those who seek kind people to bully is stupid.

The image is a series of six cartoon-style illustrations depicting a character in a white robe with a halo, who appears to be a saint or a religious figure. The character is shown in various poses, each with a different expression and gesture. The text accompanying each illustration is in a casual, informal style, with the phrases "I'm thinking there's an aspart," "I spy an aspart," "lets reach him," "uplift him," "do you hear an aspart," and "I have to uplift myself" written in a casual, conversational tone. The background of each illustration is a light beige color, and the character is surrounded by a halo and a golden halo, which are common symbols of holiness or divinity in religious iconography. The overall style of the image is lighthearted and humorous, with a focus on the character's actions and expressions rather than the content of the text.

The image is a close-up photograph of a person's face, presumably a young male, with a serious expression. He has a shaved head and is wearing a necklace. The person's mouth is taped shut with a white cloth, and his eyes are looking directly at the camera. The background is blurred, suggesting a room setting with a bed and a blanket. The image has a watermark in the bottom right corner that reads "20:51," indicating the time the photo was taken. The style of the image is candid and appears to be taken in a private setting, possibly a bedroom.

1. "Conative power" is represented by a yellow circle with a person's head and a speech bubble.

2. "Connection power" is depicted by a pink circle with a person's hand and a speech bubble.

3. "Reward power" is shown by a green circle with a person's hand and a speech bubble.

4. "Influence" is represented by a blue circle with a person's hand and a speech bubble.

5. "Information power" is shown by a purple circle with a person's hand and a speech bubble.

6. "Expert power" is illustrated by a green circle with a person's hand and a speech bubble.

Each circle is accompanied by a description of the power concept, written in white text. The descriptions are as follows:

- "Conative power" is based on the perception that one can administer consequences for unappreciable behavior.
- "Connection power" is based on the perception that one is associated with important and influential people.
- "Reward power" is based on the perception that one can distribute rewards and recognition.
- "Influence" is based on the perception that one can shape and influence others' behavior and decisions.
- "Information power" is based on the perception that one has access to information that is valuable to others.
- "Expert power" is based on the perception that one possesses knowledge, judgment, and experience.

The image is a visual representation of the concept of power, with each circle representing a different aspect of power and the accompanying text providing a brief explanation of the power concept. The use of different colors for each circle helps to distinguish between the different types of power. The image is designed to be informative and educational, likely intended for use in educational settings or as a reference for understanding the concept of power in various contexts.

With just a small number of cellular changes in you and others your excess nervous system activity you're not using could be used to perform physics calculations that help psychic phenomenon to be performed, which you could work on by praying or meditating, and thereafter be paid spiritually for your efforts.

The brain of a human has means of setting aside thoughts it doesn't have time to complete in the consciousness, saving the progress that's been made, and resuming later. Now imagine entire people, entire planets being turned into such devices for other people, other planets, via loosh and ESP. It is done, I do it sometimes. Help me to do this, let us do this holy work, it is good. By establishing filters that can be used to build fragments of our memories out of that are universal, these filters, and can be applied to the building of the memories of many species is one useful way for efficiently being able to reproduce all thoughts, which is one important component we use for connecting astrally to spirits that have passed from life to death.

Shit, I just did non-/x/ skills.

Study various traditions of exorcism, banishing, cleansing. Rituale Romanum, LBRP, and sage are your basic bitch exorcist starter pack, but you can look into Muslim, Taoist, etc. methods of getting to a spirit and getting it to fuck off.

Various materials are good. Holy water, black salt, incenses and herbs... but like I said before, force of will can help just as well when you get right down to it.

Study up on psychology, parapsychology, demonology, hypnotism, lucid dreaming and astral projection... actually, I wonder what's available of the practices of the Benandante, they're basically astral warriors for the wellbeing of farmlands or something like that.

But I'm mostly thinking of spiritual parasites and the like. If you want to go after political or social evil that's going to be a lot more difficult.

being /fit/ first off. You cannot have a healthy mind without a healthy body, and i'm not talking about just lifting, flexibility and cardio help your brain and mental state way more than you think. After that a good step is to learn mental transmutation so you know how to convert bad thoughts and energy into good and helpful ones. Then learn to fight and how to shoot guns, because it doesn't really matter all of above if you die because you didn't know how to dodge a simple non-fighter punch or relaxed around the wrong people.

The image is a digital graphic with a white background and a gold border. At the top, there is a title in bold, black text that reads "THE 42 IDEALS OF MA'AT." Below the title, there is a list of 42 items, each numbered from 1 to 42, in black text. The items are organized in a grid format, with each item on a separate line. The text is centered within the grid. At the bottom of the image, there is a logo with a green background and a gold border, featuring a stylized representation of a tree. The logo includes the text "www.gladiator.com" in the bottom right corner. The overall style of the image is informational and educational, likely intended to represent a set of principles or values associated with the ancient Egyptian religion of Ma'at.

live by the following 42 principles plus the 1 all principle of Love knowing that if you do you're eternally protected

do not fear death, do not fear hell, do not fear your past or your present or your future and the mistakes you may make

you don't need to make pacts or sell your soul for a good life

notice everything beautiful and beneficial around you that provides to you without you asking (the sun, the sounds of animals, the air, the sights of nature) and then thank them

(cheeky pro tip: help the elderly in need and ask them to say a small prayer to give you more strength IF they ask if you want anything in return, don't be sleezy about it though pretty sure gods and deities of others will help you if their believes ask you for help, i dont think you want to abuse this hack in any way shape or form but consider it as an example of how this realm works)

to expand on this, if you believe in the eternal fires of hell then this is what the eternal fires of hell is;

It is a very simple place where it's just you, and the eternal flames, two very simple concepts.

To get out all you need to do is learn to love the flames, and learn to love yourself.

Once you have done this it's a realm of pure love and you are out.

Any other explanation of the eternal fires of hell is a convenient Archonic fear psyop and is entirely fake and gay.

The image is a black and white graphic with a space-themed background. At the top, the word "PRONOIA" is prominently displayed in large, bold, white letters. Below this, in a smaller font size, the phrase "THE OPPOSITE OF PARANIA: THE BELIEF THAT THE UNIVERSE IS CONSPIRING IN YOUR FAVOR" is written in white. The text is arranged in a vertical format, with "PRONOIA" at the top and "THE OPPOSITE OF PARANIA: THE BELIEF THAT THE UNIVERSE IS CONSPIRING IN YOUR FAVOR" at the bottom. The overall style of the image is minimalist and text-based, with a focus on conveying a message about the opposite of paranoia.

The image is a photograph of a man with a beard and mustache, wearing a black bandana on his head. He is smoking a cigarette. The photograph is overlaid with a list of ten Montenegrin commandments, which are written in purple text. The list is organized in a vertical format, with each commandment on a separate line. The text is in English and includes the following instructions:

1. "Man was born tired and he lives to rest."
2. "Love you bed as you love yourself."
3. "Rest during, day, so during night you can sleep."
